ARTHUR DALESSANDRO

FRANK J. JAGODINSKI

Two seek reelection

Luzerne County Common Pleas Judge Arthur D. Dalessandro and Luzerne County Sheriff Frank J. Jagodinski have announced they are candidates for retention in the General Election on Nov. 8.

Dalessandro's son, David, who is a student at the University of Scranton, will be the judge's campaign chairman.

Judge Dalessandro is completing his 12th year of service in Luzerne County and has presided in all divisions of the court.

While presiding in Juvenile Court, he instituted numerous progressive procedures, including the holding of trials in the court house instead of in the juvenile center. In 1979, Judge Dalessandro initiated the first Juvenile Court Day in Luzerne County, and held a mock juvenile trial. As Juvenile Judge, he ordered community service for juvenile delinquents and stressed that juveniles must make restitution.

He is a member of the Wilkes-Barre Law and Library Association, Pennsylvania Conference of State Trial Judges, The American Jurist Society of Jurists, Crime Clinic of Greater Wyoming Valley, Luzerne County Mental Health Association, Luzerne County Association for Retarded Citizens, Elks Lodge, Jenkins Twp. American Legion Post 938, Italian-American Association of Luzerne County, Sons of Italy, Slovak League of America-Kingston Branch 474, Polish Union of U.S. of N. A., Italian American Veterans, Wilkes-Barre Post 1, Penn State Club of Wyoming Valley, and is an honorary member of the Penn Mountains Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Judge Dalessandro is a life-long resident of Luzerne County, and a graduate of Jenkins Township High School, Wilkes College, and Dickinson School of Law.

Frank J. Jagodinski has served as the full-time sheriff of Luzerne County for the past 12 years.

Under Jagodinski's direction, the Sheriff's Department has been reorganized into various special divisions including an identification unit, handling fingerprints, photos and extraditions; a criminal division; prisoner transportation unit; court security unit; a civil division and the real estate department handling sheriff sales on real property.

Jagodinski is a member of numerous civic and professional organizations, including the National Sheriffs' Association; The Commonwealth Sheriffs' Association; The Luzerne County Police Chiefs' Association; Crime Clinic of Wyoming Valley; National Association of Search and Rescue; a Life Associate Member of Joseph E. Conlon Post 558; Polish Union Group 70 in Wilkes-Barre; Tatra of Luzerne County; Slovak League of America Branch 474; Elks Wilkes-Barre Lodge 109; Hudson Servicemen's Association; Polish American Clubs of Hudson, Dupont and Plains; ITLO Club of Hilldale; Plains Taxpayers Association and the Greater Wilkes-Barre Democratic Club, Inc.

Sheriff Jagodinski attended the United States Marshal Training Seminar in Washington, D.C.
