Clinic a success

American Building still in first

American Building Maintenance girls continued in first place in the Imperialette League by dividing 2-2 with Seavone Motors. High for both teams was W. Harrington's 173. Lombardo Bakery, with two members missing, divided evenly with Humphrey Apparel. J. Mekeel's 193 set the pace for Jean Shop's four points from Mahaffey Oil.

In the Ladies Country League Grotto Pizza took three from Gordon Insurance whose P. Gordon rolled 188. C. Smith hit pins for 191

(505) to lead G. H. Harris Associates in taking all from Daring's Market and Castlettes picked up three from Fashion Vending. L. Cyphers topped pins for 178-179 (492) and R. Carroll tumbled them for 170. E. Shuleski hit 176 for the vending team.

Brent Long copped three from the Hoagie Bar and Tom Reese girls earned three from Franklin's in the Bowlerette League with no one able to find the strike zone.

R. Monk walloped pins for 219

(582) and Ted Wilson scattered them for 576 to lead the Lutherans in blanking Carverton A in the Back Mt. Church League. Maple Grove shut out Trucksville B and B. Williams rolled 567 to aid Dallas A in taking three and a half from Trucksville C. Orange A picked up three from Shavertown A and D. Wright's 561 paced Shavertown B to three from Carverton B whose J. Just a few observations

CLIPBOARD NOTES:
THE WORLD SERIES demonstrated once again the Birds from Baltimore are so team-oriented. Each player had a role and carried out his assignment which provided the margin of victory.

I THOUGHT THE PHILLIES gave a good effort and deserve a heap of praise for being there. The Philadelphia fans were a sorry lot in that last game when they booed their own team. No style. I was delighted to see the Birds triumph for that reason. Philadelphia is strictly a front-runners' town.

I ENJOYED EARL WEAVER'S ANALYSIS of the various situations. Why ABC didn't put a hammer on Howie Cosell, I'll never know. The man simply wants to dominate the whole conversation and provided little insight into the action.

SPEAKING OF COSELL, weren't the last two Monday night games more enjoyable without him blabbing away telling the viewers nothing we already didn't know?

WHAT'S THE BIG DEAL ABOUT MARCUS DUPREE leaving Oklahoma? Everytime I saw him play, he'd take a tough hit and leave the game. I wouldn't want him on my football team. He's not mentally tough, that's for sure. He's a prima donna. He was being pushed for the Heisman, too. I thought that was somewhat incongruous.

ONE OF MY COLLEGE COACHING CHUMS informed me recently an astute pro scout related to him there aren't a lot of overpowering college grid teams around this season. Nebraska is on a level all its own. Texas is about the next best, then you could throw a blanket over the next 20 teams because they are that close in talent and ability. He mentioned that Tennessee would extend Alabama to its limits, too. My Vols went a step better and topped the Tide for the second consecutive year. If you were wondering, all of the touchdowns scored in the Vols victory were legit!

I'VE ALWAYS BELIEVED since I've been associated with him that John Majors is an extraordinary game coach from the field. He seems to always pull off a slick maneuver sometime during a contest. The 75 points between the Vols and Tide is the most ever scored in the series.

DESPITE HAVING AN EDGE in overall personnel, poor execution and play selection was the reason for Valley West's loss to the hungry Hanover Hawks. Before anyone gets carried, away this isn't the best all-time Hanover football team either. They had some dandies back in the 1940s. This squad is not gunshy and has a winning chemistry at the present time. They've just got to temper their egos until after the Coughlin encounter.

BOTH THE JETS AND GIANTS are off to sorry starts. Giants, realistically, don't have the overall personnel at the key positions. On the other hand, I've never been sold on the Jets makeup either. Both are simply very ordinary and streaky teams.

I DIDN'T HEAR COSELL say the Birds of Baltimore were going to start a dynasty, did you?

Dallas girls grab title

"Our win over Wyoming Valley West last Wednesday assured us of the Division AAA title," said Dallas girls' field hockey coach Robyn Jones after the team's 1-0 shutout over the Spartans.

"It was our best game of the year, and our defense played exceptionally well. They actually won the game for us because our offense

Mountaineer soccer team advances to District playoffs

Coach John McCafferty's Dallas High School soccer team will play Abington Heights for the District championship, Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 8 p.m. at Wyoming Valley West Stadium.

The Mountaineers, defending champions, qualified for the District II competition by defeating Wyoming Seminary 2-0 last Tuesday in the match held at Dallas. They hold a 5-5 record.

Dallas senior Scott Singer scored both goals on penalty kicks, making his first goal in the first period and the second in the fourth period.

Goalkeeper Gerry Mihalick had 20 saves, the most he has ever had in a game, to earn the shutout for the Mountaineers.

"It was a great team effort by the kids," said Coach McCafferty. "One of the best games they played this season. It's impossible to single out an outstanding player or players because they all played so well."
