Drawing held

Mrs. Bea Hammalian, of Shavertown, president, Home-Health Services of Luzerne County, is shown here with Elmo Clemente, a Certified Public Accountant, as Clemente draws the winning ticket in a car raffle conducted recently by Home Health. A 1983 Oldsmobile Cutlass Cierra, given in cooperation with the Ertley Dealership, was the first prize in the raffle. The purpose of the drawing was to help raise funds to assist in the initial expenses of Home-Health Services' new chronic care homemaker service which should begin operation sometime early 1984.

Cakes donated

Residents and staff of the Meadows Nursing Center who were treated to six prize winning cakes baked and decorated by members of the Food and Nutrition Class of the Dallas Area Senior High School.

Eight seniors from the class taught by Mrs. Debbie Ruckno and her aide, Mrs. Millie Jones, brought their confectionary creations to the Center on Nov. 11 to please the sight and palates of residents and staff alike. And contrary to what most would expect, six of the eight contributors were males.

According to Mrs. Ruckno, the project was part of the course work, and the students were encouraged to decorate from their own original areas. The result was a varied selection of cakes that included a three-dimensional train, a butterfly, a snowscape complete with decorated Christmas trees, and more.

The two first place winners, as judged by Assistant Principal Frank Galicki and Art Teacher, Mrs. Jane Cornell, with assistance from Ray Eppley, Karen Schooley, Tina Tirpak and Karen Evans, while the latter was produced by the team of Rick Stritzinger, John Emil, T.J. Bagley, Tim Finnegan, Michelle Viveney and Christi Strausser.

Mrs. Ruckno explained that the Food and Nutrition course is an elective that is comprised of all seniors - many of whom are exploring the possibilities of a future career in food services.
