Dallas, Lehman meet on hardwood

Grab it, Greg!

Greg Manusky (42) of Dallas looks almost as if he's waiting for the basketball to drop into his hands, but actually he's fighting a Lake-Lehman opponent for possession. Lehman's Bill Bearde (13) looks on. Action was in last week's Wyoming Valley Conference basketball game between Dallas and Lake-Lehman.

Don't take that!

Sheri Ciccarelli, right, of the Dallas girls' basketball team makes a gallant effort to snag the ball, but Lehman's Jill Solinski has a different idea and hangs on tightly. Action was in last week's Wyoming Valley Conference contest between the Back Mountain rivals. The Lehman girls grabbed a 69-38 victory.

Steve gets his

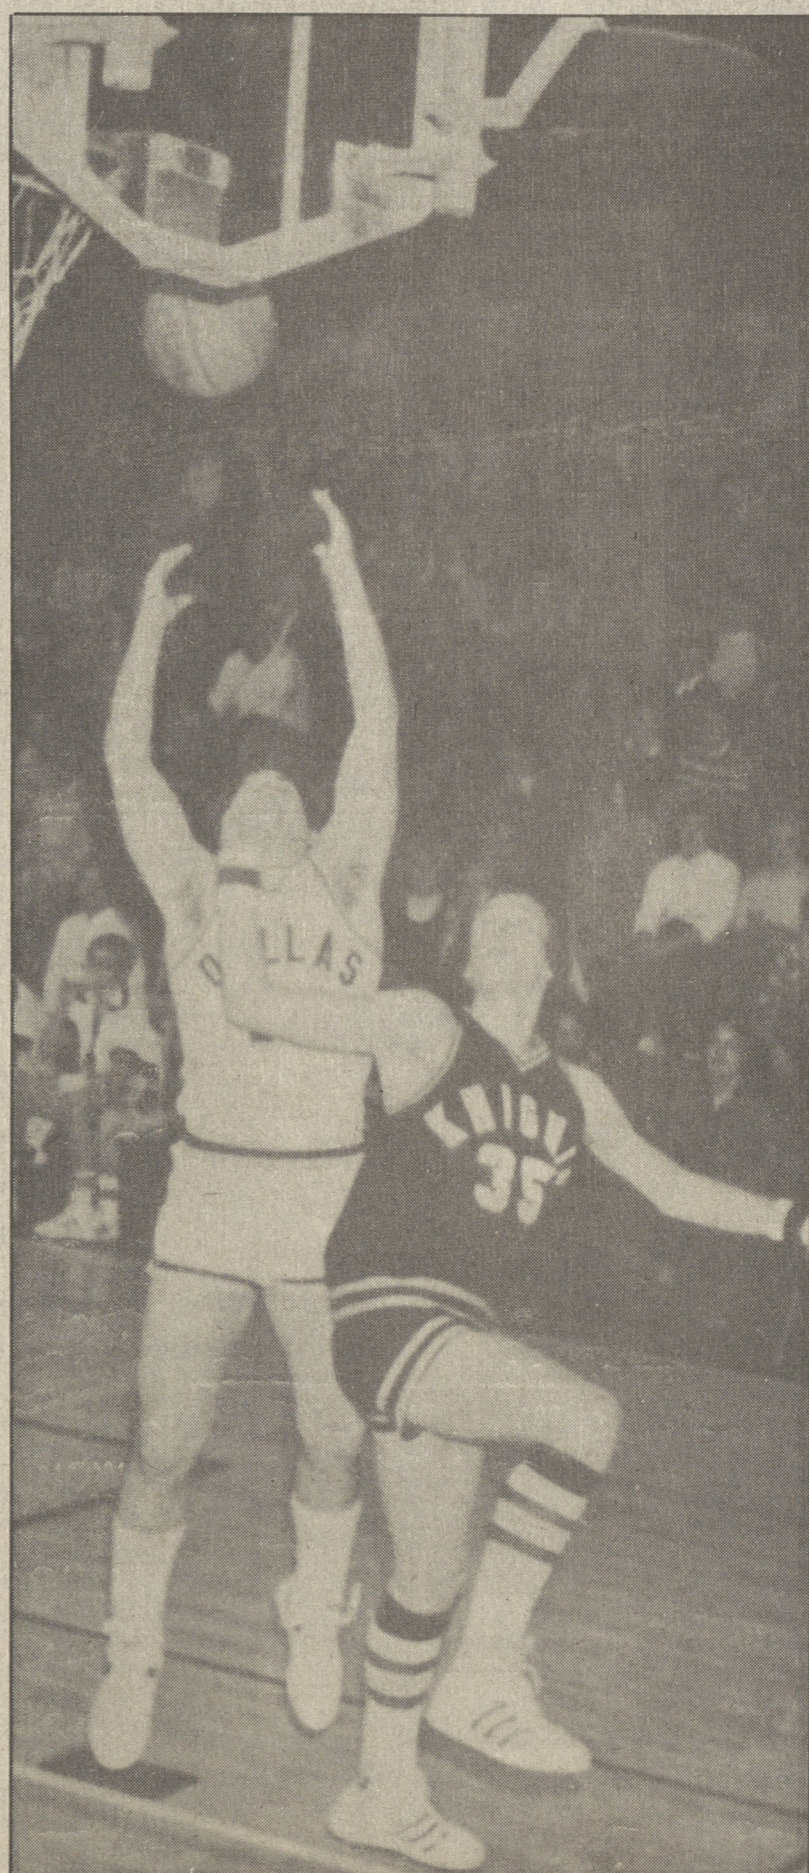

Steve Wilson gets as close to the rim as possible to score two of his 10 points in last week's cage game between Dallas and Lake-Lehman as Lehman's Bill Bearde watches in vain. Wilson helped lift the Mountaineers to a 46-33 victory.

Caught in the act

Dallas girls' basketball coach Kit Karuza was caught by The Dallas Post photographer while issuing last minute instructions to his team prior to the start of last week's game against Lake-Lehman. Karuza's efforts were in vain, however, as the Lady Mounts were defeated, 69-38.

Do the shuffle

Looks almost as if Paul Jones (35) is trying out a new dance step, doesn't it? However, Paul is actually battling his Dallas opponent for a rebound during last week's Wyoming Valley Basketball Conference clash.

Where is everybody?

This Lady Knight is all alone as she puts in two easy points last week against Dallas. The Lehman girls won the Back Mountain rivalry game, 69-38.
