AFS seeks host families in Back Mountain area

AFS International-Intercultural Programs is offering the families of the Back Mountain area the opportunity to meet the world face to face.

Families are being sought by the Dallas AFS chapter to host foreign students for the 1984-85 school year. Each visiting student is between 16-19 years of age and lives as a member of a family, while attending classes at Dallas High School.

"The AFS program is extremely rewarding to the host family as well as beneficial to the student," says Mrs. Kate Dickson, former host mother. "Families learn and grow together by acquiring new perspectives about another culture."

Up to 45 percent of AFS host families have two children; 33 percent have one child, and 26 percent have three children. Up to 11 percent of host families have high school age children, but up to 15 percent have children under age 15 and 27 percent have older children.

Families with no children are also encouraged to apply. Up to six percent of host families are headed by a single parent. Up to 74 percent of host mothers work full or part time outside the home. Up to 100 percent of host fathers work full or part time. A major quality desired in a host family is an openness to new ideas.

If you are interested in finding out more about this program, please call Mrs. Sally Davenport at 675-1332 or Mrs. Kate Dickson, evenings, 639-5514. Deadline for applications is May 1, 1984.

MRS. JAMES L. BUCHANAN

Carol Crawford weds James L. Buchanan

The United States Naval Academy Chapel, Annapolis, MD, was the setting recently for the marriage of Carol G. Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Crawford, 390 Midway Lane, Dallas, to James L. Buchanan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Buchanan, Lexington, VA.

Captain John Glynn, USN, Head Chaplain at the Naval Academy, performed the double ring ceremony. Music for the ceremony was provided by James Dale, organist for the Academy Chapel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose an original gown designed by Mendicino. The gown featured a beaded cameo of alencon lace with an empire line and wide lace cuffs. The chiffon gown had a wateau train with scalloped edging which flowed from an Alencon shaped heart.

To complement her gown, the bride wore her mother's fingertip tulle veil which was attached to a floral silk wreath of flowers. She carried a classic, elegant cascade of fragrant Gardenias along with Stephanotis and English Ivy.

Serving as honor attendants were Miss MaryJane Centola of Alexandria, VA, and Mrs. Mary B. Erb of Germantown, MD, friends of the bride. They were attired in Daphne Rose gowns designed by Jordan with dropped bodice and chiffon jackets with lace collars and ruffled lace peplums.

Each attendant carried a personalized crescent of English Ivy with soft groupings of chrysanthemums, silver anniversary roses and miniature carnations. David Buchanan of Charlottesville, VA, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen included Attorney Stephen B. Killian, cousin of the bride, Kingston, and William Yancey, of Annapolis, MD.

Immediately following the ceremony, a champagne dinner reception was held at the Officers' and Faculty Club, U.S. Naval Academy. A string trio provided chamber music for the occasion.

Pre-nuptial events included a bridal shower given by Mrs. Stephen F. Killian at her home, Tilbury Terrace, West Nanticoke. Mrs. Russell L. Thomas, Dallas, entertained the bride at a luncheon shower at Irem Temple Country Club. The Castle Inn was the setting for an evening bridal shower given by Mrs. Harry L. Edwards, also of Dallas.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. William Buchanan, parents of the bridegroom was held at Busch's Chesapeake Inn, Annapolis, MD.

Mrs. Buchanan received her Ph.D. in mathematics from Georgetown University and is assistant professor of mathematics at the United States Naval Academy.

Mr. Buchanan received his Ph.D. in mathematics from the University of Delaware and is also an assistant professor of mathematics at the U.S. Naval Academy.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple is residing in Annapolis, Maryland.

A September wedding is planned.

Former lake resident produces play in L.A.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Guy Christmas, a native of Kingston and a former resident of Harveys Lake, recently produced and staged his own play called "Cloud On A Candidate." The play is currently showing in Los Angeles, California and is receiving good reviews.

The following story and review, written by Tom Kemp and Barr Lamel respectively, has been reproduced from "Hollywood" Magazine.)

The title might be recognizable to some but ambiguous to others not in show business. It refers to an old playwrights in-joke. A writers pen is his sword and sustenance. Guy Christmas has just produced and staged his own play called "Cloud On A Candidate". This play which is showing at the Los Angeles Designers Theatre, 1137 1/2 Ventura Blvd., at Tujunga has had an extended run and is receiving good reviews! The play opened Nov. 7, 1983, however, "wait, we have the horse after the cart".

The story of Guy Christmas starts a lot earlier than his play. Guy received a full college scholarship to study acting in Pennsylvania, because of his obligations to his family he never had the chance to pursue his chosen field. Born in Kingston, Pennsylvania and growing up by Harveys Lake, he had the opportunity to see first hand what was needed for this community and to have a lifetime love affair with politics and the desire to do things for his fellow man. A devout Christian, Guy has always put 100 percent into anything he believed in. People say to Guy he has accomplished things here in Hollywood (like producing and staging his own play) that has taken other people 25 years to do. As Guy says when you had to sell bridges (Guy was in hydraulic pre-cast and concrete pipe for decades as a contractor) it isn't unusual to see him such a success as a Producer in Hollywood.

Guy ran for Congress from the 11th Congressional District for Pennsylvania. He ran as a write-in candidate and the story "Cloud On A Candidate" is about that adventure. I have seen this play and it is a remarkable story of a man trying to change the system from within. Guy has received a lot of celebrity encouragement. Jack Klugman spoke of Guy on the Johnny Carson Show and Lonnie Anderson has also encouraged him on his career, says Guy. Harriet M. Howell has been Guy's greatest supporter, she is Guy's grandmother and she is quite well known in Pennsylvania and is always boosting her grandson. David Niven Jr. has been working with Guy doing a movie script.

In 1981 Guy had a severe emotional setback which makes his present success as a Producer with a successful play all that more extraordinary. His youngest son passed away. This happened just after he had run for Congress in 1980. Again not accepting defeat, this remarkable Christian man bounced right back. This is a tradition in the Christmas family. His grandfather Roger J. Howell (a Welsh coalminer and carpenter by trade) had accomplished the same thing Guy remembers spending countless hours in a library reading Shakespeare, etc. Some of the nicknames Guy has received over the years - "Ticco" (after Mill Ticco - star basketball player in Pennsylvania) and Huck (after Huckel Berry Finn) belie this man's true ability.

Guy Christmas, a most remarkable man has completed two books "Let Freedom Sting" and a soon to be published "Cloud On A Candidate". Being also in public relations, he has helped many gain public exposure. He is available to hire as a public relations consultant for stage plays, movies, individual actors et al. A rare find indeed if you can hire this talented man!
