Theater

SHEILA MCRAE WILL STAR in the award winning Broadway Musical Comedy "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas," a RAM III Ltd. production opening for a two week engagement Aug. 21 through Sept. 2 at the Pocono Playhouse, Mountainhome.

winner of 3 Drama Desk Awards,

"Best Little Whorehouse in Texas" was named by Time Magazine as the "Standout Musical of 1978". Clive Barnes of the N.Y. Post reviewed the play as a "Rumbustious, genre musical, full of flavor, charmingly accurate in its tonality of place and time and best of all, consistently amusing."

The play is based on Larry L. King's magazine article in Playboy Magazine of a real live country bordello near Austin, Texas that fell to politics, hypocrisy and moral fervor in 1973. The book by King & Peter Masterson takes us to Miss Mona's establishment "out past the Bad Curve sign" and affectionately called the Chicken Ranch because in depression times, farmers brought chickens instead of dollars to pay for their "purchases".

Theatre patrons should check local advertising for details on special discount offers which are available. Performances are at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, 5 and 9 p.m. Saturday, 6 p.m. Sunday, at 2 p.m. Matinee on Wednesday. of guilt and paranoia grow as he tries to find out from the government bureaucracy just what it is that he has done. The film features Anthony Perkins, Jeanne Moreau, Orson Welles, and Romy Schneider.

The final film, shown on December 5, is Luchino Visconti's adaptation of the classic Thomas Mann novella, Death in Venice. Visconti considered this film as the culmination of his lifelong ambition, and it won for him the Grand Prix 25th Anniversary Award at Cannes in 1971. The movie examines the artist's search for purity and beauty which leads him to Venice where he becomes infatuated with a young boy. Mann has said that he had Gustav Mahler in mind when he conceived the artist and Visconti has incorporated Mahler's Third and Fifth Symphonies into the production. The film stars Dirk Bogarde, Bjorn Anderson and Marisa Berenson.

Films for the Spring Series include Little Big Man based on the novel by Thomas Berger, East of Eden from John Steinbeck's novel, Barry Lyndon from the novel by William Thackeray, Crime and Punishment based upon Fyodor Dostoyevsky's novel, Women in Love from the novel by D.H. Lawrence, and The Grapes of Wrath again from a novel by John Steinbeck.

Admission will be $1.00 for students with ID and members of the Penn State Film Society; $2.00 for all others. Semester discount passes will be available for $5.00. Refreshments will be available. As in the past, each film will be preceded by a brief introduction given by a Film Society member who has previewed the film and has researched the director and the author and who will provide some insights about theme and cinematic technique. Most of these films are adult-oriented and may not be suitable for young children.
