Rehearsal night

Lynn Todd, left, Tom Krupa, center and A.J. Bittner are at odds with each other during the Dallas High School presentation of Peter Ustinov's "Romanoff and Juliet." The humorous updating of "Romeo and Juliet" will be presented on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 16 and 17 at 8 p.m. in the Dallas High School auditorium.

Dallas presents 'Romanoff and Juliet'

Dallas High School will present its fall play on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 16 and 17, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium when the fanciful comedy "Romanoff and Juliet" by Peter Ustinov comes alive through the Dallas students. This humorous updating of "Romeo and Juliet" is set in the smallest of all mythical countries.

Because of its location, both the Russian and the American diplomats are seeking to make the country their ally.

The Russians, played by Tom Krupa and Lynn Todd, has a son, played by David Dillon, who falls in love with Suzanne Infantino, who plays the daughter of the Americans, portrayed by Ernie Barber and Seanica de Jager. The president of the country, in the person of A.J. Bittner, has an unusual philosophy which creates confusion for the diplomats and fun for the audience.

Tickets to the performance will be available at the door.

Fashion Show set

College Misericordia students will model fall fashions at a "Fall Fantasia" Fashion Show planned for Sunday, Nov. 18, 8 p.m. in Merrick Hall on campus. The show is sponsored by Misericordia's Business Club and will feature clothing from Fashion Plus, Kingston and Suburban Casuals, Wilkes-Barre. Models from left, are Paula Smolko, Peckville; Duane Frank, Mountaintop; Walter Kierzbowski, Scranton; Tracie Butch, Middleton, N.J.; Christine Guadenzi, Trucksville, and Robert Corcia, South Plainfield, N.J., will compliment their clothing with hair styles fashioned by Hair Scene's Wilkes-Barre. Tickets can be purchased at the door, $2.00 for students and $3.00 for adults.

against Jarolin as a write-in candidate because the Republicans did not enter an endorsed candidate in the primary and Cicero is a staunch supporter of the two-party system.

The 119th District includes Nanticoke, West Wyoming, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Larksville, Luzerne, Swoyersville, Courtdale, Edwardsville, Pringle, Newport Township, Hunlock Township and Jackson Township.

The Republican incumbent George R. Hasay of Shickshinny defeated Mayor Jack Radzwilla of Sugar Notch to return to Harrisburg as representative for a seventh term in the 117th District.

Hasay's district includes Benton, Sugarloaf, Conyngham, Dorrance, Fairview, Hanover, Huntingdon, parts of Lake and Lehman, Rice, Ross, Salem, Slocum, Union, Wilkes-Barre and Wright Townships; also the boroughs of Benton, Ashley, Shickshinny, Sugar Notch, Warrior Run, New Columbus and Harveys Lake.

Democrat incumbent Thomas M. Tigue won over Republican candidate Samuel Daley in the 118th District which includes Freeland, Penn Lake, Bear Creek, White Haven, Avoca, Dupont, Duryea, Hughestown, Pittston, Yatesville, Laffin, Laurel Run, and townships of Dennison, Clifton, Foster, Buck, Jenkins, Pittston, Covington, Lehigh and some wards in Plains Township.

Representatives Kevin Blaum and Corrae Stevens won in the 121st District and 116th District respectively on both the Republican and Democrat ticket.

The amendment to allow a prosecutor to use a confession during a trial even if it has been thrown out technically was approved by a large majority of the voters as was the question on tax legislation which gives Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties the right to give property tax breaks to people living in improving neighborhoods confronted by continuous increases in property taxes. The legislation is designed for the poor and elderly.

Agents can make a difference

Advice from a travel agent can make a world of difference when it comes to planning a trip. And there can be a world of difference between travel agencies, too.

"There's no substitute for experience, especially when it comes to choosing a travel agent," says William H. Hunt, CTC, Chairman of the American Society of Travel Agents, Inc. (ASTA). "Whether you're a seasoned traveler who has been around the world before, or you're planning your first vacation and need some destination suggestions, an experienced travel agent professional can make your trip more enjoyable and economical," says Hunt. A good travel agent has extensive knowledge of the travel industry, keeps up with the changes and can save you time and effort.

To find a reliable, experienced travel agent, ask your friends, relatives and co-workers for travel agents they have used when planning a trip.

Ball planned

Wilkes-Barre General Hospital Auxiliary's 16th Annual Starlight Ball is less than one week away, and all plans are finalized for the elegantly organized evening. To be held Saturday, Nov. 17 at Gus Genetti's, the Starlight Ball is expected to attract over 400 people. Proceeds from the ball will be donated to Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. Shown here, from left, are Mrs. Clayton Karambelas, Kingston, Starlight Ball chairman; Mrs. Stanley Ushinski, Shavertown, Auxiliary president; and Mrs. Guy Serpico, Trucksville, Starlight Ball co-chairman.
