Students sing

Brownie troops visit hospital

Four Dallas Brownie troops recently participated in the First Christmas Caroling Festival at Nesbitt Memorial Hospital in Kingston. Participating troops include Troop 650, Mary Kozick and Karyn Wensel leaders; Troop 637, Mona Hoover leader; Troop 654, Karen Riitenhouse leader; and Troop 649, Shirley Haas leader.

Each troop had a special carol to sing and many to sing together while distributing gifts to the patients.

The program of caroling and gift-giving in the community carries the Girl Scouts' theme for this year which is "Reaching Wider Still." This is in conjunction with the Scouts' desire to develop a better understanding of their community and to contribute to its betterment.

Scouts collect toys

Lehman Cub Scout Pack 241 held its monthly meeting and Christmas party recently at the Lehman United Methodist Church. The theme for this month's meeting was "The Spirit of Giving." Each boy brought a toy for the Marine Reserve "Toys for Tots" program. On hand to accept the gifts and thank the scouts was Marine Sergeant J.T. Rychwalski. Scouts from Den 2 made Christmas ornaments for each scout in the pack. All Scouts and non-Scouts received a Christmas present from the pack which was handed out by Sgt. Rychwalski. Shown here are Scouts who participated in the program. From left, first row, John Grutkowski, Matt Bullock, Craig Bowersox, Jason Poplaski, Robbi Kocher, John Presper, Randy Hozempa, Scott Walters, John Robinson. Second row, Bobby Park, John Russell, Tom Park, Bobby Reilly, Sgt. J.T. Rychwalski, Michael Price, Tim Alters, Tod Adams, and Jim Phares.
