

The staff and management of

THE DALLAS POST

wish
you
and
yours

Happy holidays

The staff and management of The Dallas Post, gathered here in the spirit of Christmas, would like to wish all residents of the Back Mountain and their families the happiest and healthiest of Christmas holidays. Members of the staff are, from left, first row, Sandy Sheehan, production manager; Olga Kostrabola, typesetter; and Charlot M. Denmon, correspondent and advertising representative. Second row, Dotty Martin, editor; Jean Brutko, circulation manager; Peggy Poynton, office manager; and Mike Danowski, advertising representative. Third row, Joe Gula, correspondent and advertising representative; Betty Bean, advertising representative; and Joan Kingsbury, correspondent. Absent at the time of the photo were Charlie Trettel, general manager; Pamela Aaron, correspondent; Ed Campbell, photographer; Spencer Holmgren, newspaper delivery; John Rodgers, sportswriter; and Joe Marcelonis, dispatch.

ton, office manager; and Mike Danowski, advertising representative. Third row, Joe Gula, correspondent and advertising representative; Betty Bean, advertising representative; and Joan Kingsbury, correspondent. Absent at the time of the photo were Charlie Trettel, general manager; Pamela Aaron, correspondent; Ed Campbell, photographer; Spencer Holmgren, newspaper delivery; John Rodgers, sportswriter; and Joe Marcelonis, dispatch.

Dallas Post/Ed Campbell

A very

Merry Christmas