Check presented

It was a nice decoration for the Penn State Wilkes-Barre Christmas Tree - a big check for the Annual Campus Fund drive given by retired professor, Michael Petscavage of Wilkes-Barre who also is a graduate of Penn State University, class of 1934. He is shown presenting his check to Michael Hudacek, left the chairman of the Fund Drive, while Jack Kolesar, right, smiles approvingly. Mr. Kolesar is chairman of the Faculty-Staff Division of the Fund Drive where Professor Petscavage wants his contribution counted.

Program presented

Students from grades one through four presented their annual Christmas program entitled, "The Small One" a story of a donkey that was sold to Joseph and Mary for their trip to Bethlehem, on Wednesday, Dec. 19 in the school gym. Pictured is the scene from the Nativity: John Berti as Joseph; A. DeHaven as Mary. The program was directed by Mrs. Diane Wojciechowski, assisted by Sr. Gratia, RSM, accompanied at the piano by Emily Steltz and at guitar, by Patricia Roginski. Sr. Davida is principal.

Judging

manger scene to the lovely green lighted tree sitting in the window came a peaceful glow.

The Farinola home in Shrine Acres, which entered both the lighted and unlighted category, became the judges' choice as the winner in the unlighted category. Christmas packages and red bows adorn the home on Mountain View Drive while a small child stands alone, checking his gifts.

The Harris home on Old Lake Road at Harveys Lake was aglow with color lights and the roof outlined in white while the Brown home on Huntsville Road in Dallas sparkled with white lighting in every window, on the porches and on the railings.

The Neiman home behind Mark II in Dallas shows a great deal of work in the making of a green lighted wreath with a flickering candle in the center and the Rattigan home on Harris Hill Road in Trucksville was surrounded by lights from the front of the home, into the back yard. This was a very colorful display, wishing everyone "Seasons Greetings."

The Kerpovich home in Midway Manor was decked with lights galore with giant lollipops standing tall on the large lawn. Santa sat in his chair, "Checking It Twice" at the home of Rosemary Kravitz, Davenport St., Dallas.

The Chappell home on Huntsville Road in Dallas lived up to its theme, Christmas Is The Birth, The Singing, The Lights as white lights complimented the decorations.

Out in Orange, a giant wreath with a large red bow to brighten it spanned the porch of the home of Jeff Townsend while, in Shavertown, the Kernog home on West

Franklin Street featured a tree designed from lights on the front of the second story of the house. Addition lights twinkled in the "Pot-pourri" theme.

My ride throughout the Back Mountain was indeed most enjoyable and I would recommend to everyone that they set aside a few hours to take a drive and view, not only entrants in The Dallas Post Holiday Decorating Contest, but the other lovely homes in the area as well.

The other judges of the Holiday Decorating Contest join with me in congratulating the winners of this year's event.
