E-A-S-Y does it!

The annual donkey basketball game between the faculty and students at Lake-Lehman High School was held last Friday evening and provided plenty of laughs for the sell-out audience. Dallas Post photographer Ed Campbell managed to capture a few of those hilarious scenes on film. Shown here in

Misericordia cagers pull off two victories

By JOHN RODGERS
Sports Correspondent

College Misericordia basketball returned this past week with the men dropping a 74-63 decision to Eastern College and the women winning 80-58 over Neuman College out of Chester-Wilmington Area.

Trailing 34-31 at half time the undermanned men's Highlander team just couldn't hold on.

In the second half, playing without the nation's 5th leading scorer (N.A.I.A.) Steve Daniels and injuries to Monte-Deyo, 10th leading rebounder in nation (N.A.I.A.) and Dan Smith in the second half, Eastern College wore down Misericordia and pulled away with the victory.

"Being forced to use our time-outs due to the inurueis and a four to five minute stretch, where we turned the ball over seven or eight times were the crucial factors," stated Coach Al Clocker. "We are playing as well as any Misericordia team in the past, are just a little short of manpower."

The Highlanders were led by Greg Kupp's 18 points and Steve Quare's 15 points. They next play Wednesday night against penn State Capital at home

The women Highlanders continued right where they left off improving their record to 5-0, with an 80-58 win over Neuman College. Placing five starters in double figures led by Kim Stezar with 22 points and 16 points from Sue Sharp. Misericordia led 32-27 at half and broke away early in the second half.

"We played a strong team defense and balanced our offensive scoring. My girls like to play as a team," remarked Coach Craig Davis after the game. "I think now they are starting to believe."

Other girls in double figures were Kim Vermullen 11 points and 10 points apiece for Terri Middleton and Liz Eife.

The league leading Highlanders next face Lycopom College Monday and L.C.C., Wednesday both games are away.

Highlanders Highlights: Steve Daniels is 5th in the nation in scoring at 28.7 points per game and Monte Deyo is 10th in the nation in rebounds (N.A.I.A.).

Sue Sharpe at 16.5 and Kim Stezar 15.8 are second and third in District 19 in scoring. Also Kim Vermullen is second in field goal percentage at .555 trailing the leader by just one one hundredth of a percent.

Athletic Director and men's coach Clocker has signed Julien Ayala, a 6'11" 240 pound center from the Bronx in New York out of Howard Taft High School. Due to physical reasons and being so late in the season, A.D. has decided to wait until next season to bring him in. Ayala was previously expected to accept a full scholarship from Tennessee State.

said Karuza, "And gives us a good feeling to start the second half." The Mountaineers were scheduled to play Meyers at home, Tuesday, Jan. 22, in the opening game of the second half.

Modrovsky and Weinstock who officiated Saturday's game called only seven jump balls, calling it more like a boys' game. Both men are experienced officials.

READY FOR TECH

In the game with West Side Tech, played at Dallas, it appeared the Titans tried to use the press against the Mountaineers as the Comets had on Tuesday. Dallas was totally prepared for Tech and Gavigan, who always has a good game against the Titans, had a total of 20 points. Kim Rollman added 11 points in the game won 61-39 by the Mountaineers.

The Mountaineers used the one-three-one defense which proved quite effective in giving them control of the game. With the exception of Tech's Chris McDermott, who scored 17 points, the Mountaineers contained the Titans well. Their bench played a big part in the Dallas win as it has all season, scoring 16 points to the Titans reserves none. Brokenshire, Cook, Radzinski, Walsh and Kohli came off the bench to play outstanding games.

MADL LEADS

In last Tuesday's game with the Comets, Madl scored 24 points to take a 24-5 lead in the first five minutes. Crestwood used a full court press to hold down the Mountaineers.

Madl scored 12 points, had four steals and three assists in those first five minutes. The Comets let up in the second period and the Mountaineers cut their lead to 33-24 at the half. In the second half Dallas cut the lead to 46-41 but Madl started scoring, then they got the ball to Coslett who scored 21 points to bury the Mountaineers with their 63-49 win.

LEHMAN WINS

Lake-Lehman girls defeated Northwest 61-25 and Meyers 56-50 to end the first half with a 5-4 record.

Lori Lopasky set the pace for the Lady Knights with 23 points in their big win over the young Northwest team. Sandy Diction scored 12 points identical to Pam Solinski. Both hit six baskets from the playing field.

TURNOVERS HURT

In the game with Meyers, the Mohawks turnovers in the third period gave the Lady Knights the opportunity to outscore Meyers 12-4, and take a 38-30 lead at the end of the period.

The Knights scored the first two points in the final period and increased their lead to 40-30. Meyers rallied to score 20 points in the fourth period but the Lady Knights were able to hold them from going in front as they collected 18 points. Pam Solinski was high scorer in the game with 21 points. Sandy Diction followed with 13, Cindy Slocum had 12 and Lopasky collected 10.

The Lady Knights put in 21 goals from the playing field and went 14-25 from the free stripe to take a 56-50 win from the Mohawks.

Opening games for the second half has Dallas with Meyers at home, Tuesday and away with Seton Catholic, Friday. The Knights host Wyoming Seminary, Tuesday and travel to GAR Friday, Jan. 25.

Dallas

Tim Moyer took the rebound and gave it to Steve Wilson, who went for the basket from 10 feet to give the Mountaineers their 47-46 win.

Wilson, who had scored seven points in the first half, was held scoreless in the second half until with only 37 seconds in the game he connected with a 12-foot shot from the right side to come within one point of the Comets.

Coach Clarence Ozgo said he was pleased with his team's ability to come from behind. It was the second time within a week that Dallas rallied to overcome their opponents lead. In their game with Hanover, the Mountaineers were down by seven going into the final period but won the game by an eight point margin.

DARLING FOULS OUT

In the Crestwood game, Tuesday, the Mountaineers finished the final period without center Joe Darling, who fouled out and Tim Cotter, who injured his ankle early in the final period. Cotter is reserve center for Dallas. Tim Moyer switched from forward to center and Long went in as a guard.

LEHMAN LOSES

A young Lake-Lehman lost a close

62-60 game to Meyers, Thursday, and were downed 63-48 by a strong Northwest team, Tuesday.

With the score tied at 60-60, Tony Caffrey hit a layup just as the buzzer sounded to give the Mohawks the two-point win.

The game was back and forth throughout with the score tied 14 times, six times in the final period.
