Toby's Creek improvement is granted

State Senator Frank J. O'Connell (R-20) and Representative Frank Coslett (R-120) are pleased to announce that a contract has been awarded for stream improvement work at Toby's Creek in Kingston Township.
The $17,440 contract was awarded to Freeman Robbins, Jr. and Son, and will include the installation of gabion walls and widening of the channel near the Main Street Bridge in Shavertown.
Coslett said, "There have been serious floods and run-off problems for the residents around the Main Street Bridge."
"This work along with the recently completed bridge project should alleviate the problem," O'Connell said.
Last winter a three-to-four inch rain storm on frozen ground resulted in major problems for area residents.
Both veteran legislators are pleased that the stream improvement project should be completed before the spring rainy season.

Kasarda's comes to Dallas

By PAMELA AARON
Staff Correspondent

Kasarda's Greenhouse is a full-service, wholesale-retail florist where employees are always busy. "In fact," says owner Renn Kasarda, "we are rarely closed, except for major holidays such as Christmas."
Back Mountain residents can now enjoy the convenient service provided by Kasarda's as the company recently opened a new store in the 309/415 Plaza in Dallas.
Kasarda's carries tropical plants, such as cut flowers and dish gardens and features its own unique arrangements for each holiday. Holiday arrangements, such as the 12,000 poinsettia plants featured this past Christmas, have come to be known as Kasarda's trademark.
The Kasarda name has been associated with gardening for over 65 years as Renn's father started in the business with Penn Floral, which was formerly located near the building that currently houses Ertley Cadillac in Kingston.
Later, the Kasardas moved to Barney Farms where they stayed for 10 years and then opened a store in Edwardsville where they remained for nine years.
Kasarda's has also been operating a store at 887 Wyoming Ave., Wyoming since 1974.
Their Dallas store, which opened on December 16, features the same services as the Wyoming Avenue store, as well as tele-flora service which wires flowers to particular recipients.
Kasarda's winter hours will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays and noon to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Township gets new road

The Dallas Township supervisors voted recently to incorporate Fallsbrook Road into the township. The meeting where the vote was taken was to be a public hearing, however, none of the four families who originally petitioned the township, nor the ordinances' only opposition, appeared at the hearing.
The families living on West Fallsbrook Road who will benefit by the supervisors' decision include the Nelson Downends, the Patrick Joyces, the James Scutt and the Frank Kuehns. The main reason for the original petition was due to the increasing expense of maintaining the road.
In other matters, Dallas Township Police Chief Carl Miers will soon be an instructor in the use of the breathalyzer machine used to detect drunkenness. Miers will attend an improved sobriety testing instruction course at King of Prussia, Pa., which will lead to certification as an instructor in the use of the machine.
PennDOT has proclaimed April 27 as "Keep Pennsylvania Beautiful Day." Civic groups and other borough organizations are invited to participate in a clean-up operation of their particular areas.

Zoning board grants exception

An insurance agency is soon to be located at 42 Mill Street in Dallas. The land in question is zoned residential at present, but the Dallas Borough Zoning Board voted yes to a commercial zoning exception.
The board officers agreed to a variance on the property of Don Labar to accommodate the plans of Don Olson of Wyoming, who plans to renovate the two-story home into a first-floor office and second-floor apartment.
