Dallas students attend District Conference

The Dallas Junior and Senior High School Student Councils recently attended the Pennsylvania Association of Student Councils District IX Conference.

The conference was held on March 8 at Montrose Area High School and over 300 students from various high schools attended the program. District IX is comprised of Susquehanna, Wayne, Lackawanna, Wyoming, Luzerne, Monroe and Pike counties.

The theme for the conference was "Dreams Become Reality." Each student attended three workshops and discussions. Some topics included: School Spirit, Student Apathy, Drugs and Alcohol, SAAD-Students Against Drunk Driving, Fund Raising and Invisible Students-Getting Them Involved.

The advisors attended two workshops. Robert Ashton, advisor from Hanover Area, conducted a session in organizing a successful leadership conference. Robert Swankoski, a sales representative from Josten's, demonstrated some of their leadership materials available to schools.

Norine Aimsberry, junior high advisor, and Michael Shevock, senior high advisor, accompanied their students to the conference.

Test scheduled

Luzerne County Community College will be the site for administering the Dental Hygiene Aptitude Test (DHAT) on Saturday, March 30, at 8:30 a.m. on the main campus in Nanticoke.

The DHAT is required by some dental hygiene programs for admissions. Although Luzerne County Community College does not require the exam for admission to their dental program, the test is made available as a service to the Northeastern Pennsylvania area. The only other college in Pennsylvania offering the exam is the University of Pittsburgh.

The exam will be administered in Room 916 of the college's Medical and Dental Arts Building. The American Dental Hygienists' Association requires a $30 fee, in the form of a check or money order, at the time of the exam.

For further information on the exam contact Deborah A. Wilson, director of dental auxiliary programs at Luzerne County Community College, 829-7447.

Play conducted

In honor of St. Patrick's Day, the fifth and sixth grade students at Gate of Heaven School entertained parents and fellow students last Thursday afternoon with a lively program of Irish song and dance. Several students participated in a play entitled "The Leprechaun's Pot of Gold." Shown here are members of the chorus entertaining the audience.
