Contest winners

The Dallas Township Elementary School PTO recently sponsored a poster contest to promote their upcoming Book Fair. The contest featured work submitted by students kindergarten through third grade. Over 300 posters were submitted for the contest. The theses of the posters were the value of reading, that books are fun and that the Book Fair is coming to the school. Two winners were chosen from each grade, each receiving a gift certificate redeemable for books at the Book Fair. Judges for the contest were Samuel A. Barbose, school principal and Ann Camp, school librarian. The Book Fair will be held the week of April 15 to 19 in the school gym. The fair, which offers a wide variety of children's books, will be open each day from 1 to 3:30. Winners pictured above are, first row, Michael Scott. From left, second row, Jennifer Bryant, Greg Nadzan, Beth Ann Wagner, John Molski, Amy L. Juny, Chrissy Costill. Third row, Jane Marsola, Book Fair chairman, Samuel Barbose, principal; Ann Camp, librarian; Andrea Molski, PTO president. Matthew Lloyd was absent when the picture was taken.
