Chorus students

Student of Month named

Peter Bove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Bove, 26 Pear Tree Lane, Dallas, a senior at Wyoming Seminary College Preparatory School, has been selected as the April Student of the Month for the Kingston/Forty Fort Lions Club.

An active participant in school activities, Bove is a co-editor of the school yearbook and layout editor for the school paper. He was also a member of the Student Board of Appeals for two years. As a participant in school athletics, Bove was a member of the boys' tennis team for two years. Community activities include volunteer work for the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.

While at Wyoming Seminary, Bove accomplished many academic achievements which include being a Dean's List High Honors Student for four years and a member of the Cum Laude Academic Honor Society.

His future career interests are in medicine.

Fahmy speaks to students

Dr. Mahmoud Fahmy, Director of Education at Wilkes College, recently spoke to the American Studies class in the library at Lake-Lehman High School concerning the Middle Eastern Arab-Israeli conflict and its ramifications for this generation of Americans.

Dr. Fahmy is not a stranger to Lake-Lehman as the American Studies class, team taught by Robert Roese and John Comitz, has hosted him as guest speaker for several years.

Dr. Fahmy was welcomed by the students evidenced by their response to him and his message and their preparing of an incredible culinary array of health food snacks. The students, advised prior to Dr. Fahmy's visit that part of his message to them would be that a healthy body and mind constitutes a truly mature person, decided that the usual donuts and coffee offered guest speakers during break would not be appropriate.
