DISTRICT COURT

MAN ARRESTED

Kirk Gallop, a 21-year-old Dallas man of 179 Main St. was arrested Monday on charges of simple assault and endangering the welfare of children.

The incident, which occurred on April 24th involved the 23-month-old child of Susan Ridall, Shaver Ave., Shavertown.

When Gallop, reportedly accompanied by his parents, took the child to a local hospital for treatment hospital staff notified the police. A hearing has been scheduled before Magistrate Leonard Harvey on Tuesday, May 14 at 2:00.

Kingston Township Police Chief Paul Sabol and Detective Pernel of the D.A.'s office investigated. Gallop is free on $30,000. bail.

MYERS FOUND GUILTY

At a hearing before Magistrate Leonard Harvey on May 1, Richard Myers of Harveys Lake was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle with no driver's license, no vehicle registration and no vehicle inspection.

Myers had been stopped along Route 415 in Idetown by Harveys Lake Police Chief Lionel Bulford when Bulford noticed the car had no inspection sticker and unusual tags. When asked to present his driver's license and registration, Myers refused, at which point Bulford radioed for assistance. State police and Dallas Township police responded. Myers was then taken to Magistrate Harvey's office where he was bound over for last week's hearing.

Myers, a former Harveys Lake councilman who represented himself at the hearing, claims Bulford presented no proof that he is a resident of Pennsylvania and therefore needs a PA driver's license. He said because his tags are from the British West Indies, PA inspection stations would not inspect his car. Myers stated that he will appeal Harvey's decision.

Bags turkey

Debbie Laubenstein, of Harveys Lake, is shown here with the gobbler she bagged on the opening day of Spring Gobbler season.

Woman bags turkey

On opening day of Spring Gobbler season, while working in the Sweet Valley area, Game Commission Deputies Malloy and Hizey check a female hunter named Debbie Laubenstein, of Harveys Lake, carrying a gobbler wearing a 9-inch beard.

Ms. Laubenstein told the commission deputies that earlier that morning, she had called in two gobblers, but another hunter shot one before it got within her range.

At approximately 9 a.m., Ms.

Laubenstein was getting ready to call it a day. Before quitting she made a few calls with her turkey call. With a few minutes, three gobblers came strutting into her shooting range, she picked one and killed the largest one.

Rubbing insult to the great men hunters, Mrs. Laubenstein's husband had refused to take her with him and his two friends to their hunting cabin because she was not an experienced turkey hunter.

POLICE BLOTTER

KINGSTON TOWNSHIP

Donald Brian Derhammer, 76 Hemlock St., Dallas and John P. Ross, RD1 Dallas, have been charged with burglary, simple assault, aggravated assault, reckless endangerment and criminal trespassing by Kingston Township police for an incident that occurred on April 27.

According to police reports, Derhammer and Ross kicked in the front door at the apartment of Jeff Dickenson on Roushey St., Shavertown. The two then entered the apartment and assaulted Dickenson.

The altercation apparently concerned a controversial check passed from one party to the other. Police were called at 11:45 pm. Later on, someone fired nine shots into the front of the building.

While the shooting is still under investigation, a hearing on the other charges has been scheduled before Magistrate Earl Gregory for May 13th. Derhammer is free on $40,000 bail, and Ross on $35,000 bail. Officers Gavigan and Zeigler investigated for the Township.

Officer Gary Beisel investigated a two-car mishap that occurred on Friday at the intersection of Beech St. and E. Franklin St. in the Township.

Donald Kirichner said he was traveling East on E. Franklin St., and when he came over the hill and saw Patricia Reese, of Chestnut St., Kingston pulling out of the stop sign.

He said he attempted to swerve his '77 Buick but couldn't avoid being struck by the Reese vehicle. Reese told police she stopped at the stop sign at the intersection, looked both ways, then started to pull out when she saw Kirichner too late to avoid impact.

DALLAS BOROUGH

Two burglaries were reported in the Borough early Friday morning, May 3rd, in the new 309/415 Plaza.

According to Chief Ed Lyons who investigated the thefts, someone entered The Dallas Post and Minotti's through doors located in the rear of the building. Ten one dollar bills were taken from the cash box at the Post and some drawers were rifled. Some machines at Minotti's were broken into along with the cash box. $90.00 was taken from the cash box, and the amount taken from machines has not yet been determined by Roth Novelty.

State trooper Eugene McDonald assisted Lyons in the investigation.

DALLAS TOWNSHIP

Michael Kelly, RD6 Dallas, was hit by a car on Lower Demunds Road just north of the Harris St. intersection on Monday when he stopped to give directions to a passerby.

John Joseph Powell of the Dundee Apts., Wilkes-Barre was traveling north on Lower Demunds Road when he saw a car stopped in the northbound lane in front of him. When he attempted to go around the vehicle, he struck Kelly who was crossing the southbound lane to talk to the operator of the stopped vehicle.

Kelly was taken to the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital by the Dallas Ambulance and admitted. Powell has been charged with driving with an expired license, operating an unregistered vehicle, and operating a vehicle with no bumpers.

The same morning, as the Mobile Intensive Care unit was traveling south on route 309 towards Fernbrook to respond to the call about Kelly, it stopped in the southbound lane to make a left on Main St.

Josephine Yarissh, who was traveling north on route 309, stopped to let the MIC unit make the turn. Wendy Ide, of RD4 Dallas, who was traveling behind Yarissh attempted to go around her when she saw the MIC unit, slammed on her brakes, and struck the Yarissh vehicle. There were no injuries in the mishap.
