Carson D. Gramley III receives Eagle Award

Carson D. Gramley III, of Harveys Lake Boy Scout Troop 331, received his Eagle Award during a candlelight ceremony held at the Monroe Township Community Building on May 4.

The ceremony began with Larksville Troop 245, under the direction of Scoutmaster Charles Brode, serving as honor guard and conducting the opening flag ceremony, followed with the invocation given by Rev. William Kennard of the Alderson Methodist Church, and welcome given by Barry Pahler Sr., Scoutmaster of Troop 331.

The Eagle Scout presentation ceremony was conducted by Don Miller and Don Smith of Wilkes-Barre. Other scouts participating were Heath Williams, Shawn McKune, Ted Nafus, Barry Pahler Jr., Richard Pewterbaugh, Chet Kaprowski, and Derrick Balgonoa, all of Troop 331. Jeff Gaydos of Mehoopany Troop 13 doing the candle lighting ceremony. David Evans serving as Eagle Parents escort, Kevin Ketchum from Troop 518 of Tunkhannock also participated.

A special ceremony honoring all previous Eagle Scouts of Troop 331 was held under the direction of Ray Phillips of Troop 331. Those honored were from 1963, Richard Sarmonis, John Groblewski and Gary West. From 1965, Charles Lee Murphy, Barry West, David Finn, Peter Sarmonis, John Bozek, and Robert Johnson. From 1972, Rick Pritchard. From 1983, James Egliskis, and Raymond Phillips. A small eagle pin was presented to each former scout on behalf of Troop 331.

Scoutmaster Barry Pahler presented Carson with an Eagle plaque from Troop 331.

Special guests were: Jim Rushton, Council Representative. Regrets were sent by Carmel Sirianni, member of the 11th Legislative District and Robert Barzilowski, Wyoming County Commissioner and Judge Roy A. Gardner of the 4th Judicial District.

Carson, 15, is the son of Carson and Judy Gramley of RD 2, Harveys Lake, Beaumont, and has three sisters, Susan, Sandra and Caryn. His parents are both involved in scouting. Judy has served a total of 16 years with Boy and Girl Scouts combined.

Carson Jr. has been with Troop 332 for two years. Carson is a lifelong resident of Beaumont and attends Tunkhannock Area High School and the Alderson Methodist Church. His scouting experience began as a Cub Scout and Webelos of the Noxen-Beaumont Pack 530 before joining Harveys Lake Troop 331 in 1980.

Carson has eight skill awards and 23 merit badges. He is also to receive his God and Life Award at a church ceremony on May 26, at the Alderson Church.

Offset employees in 'walk'

Five persons represented Offset Paperback Manufacturers, Inc., in the March of Dimes Walk America '85 for the Wilkes-Barre area held last weekend.

The walk covered a total distance of 20 kilometers or approximately 12 1/2 miles.

Robert Murdoch who personally solicited $325.00 in pledges, finished in third place in the Wilkes-Barre area. As a result of Offset's pledges, it placed them second for average amount pledges per member of $118.

This is Offset's first year to enter the "Walk America."

The March of Dimes is combating the nation's most serious child health problem, birth defects which each year strike more than 250,000 babies. They suffer from mental retardation, blindness, deafness, missing limbs, defective blood cells or body chemistry disorders.

Representing Offset were Kibbue Timmons, Gary Pesevento, Robert Murdoch and his wife, Ruth, and their son, Wilbur.

Check presented

DEAR "AUNT PATTY"

DEAR AUNT PATTY:

My dear Mother died this past year and I now wish I'd done more for her through the years and especially on Mother's Day. I was always too busy to visit her, have her for dinner, or even call her regularly. She never complained.

I always remembered to send her flowers on Mother's Day and this year will be no exception except they'll be sent to the cemetery instead of her home. I now regret that I can't call her up or, better yet, visit her to tell her I love her and just talk.

It wasn't until after her death that I realized I'd been treating her as though she had been dead many years.

If just one person does more for their mother this coming Mother's Day because of this reminder, I'll feel better. Will you put this in the paper, Aunt Patty?

Thanks.

TOO LATE

DEAR TOO LATE:

Thank you for the reminder. It was from the heart.

DEAR AUNT PATTY:

My daughter is in her second year of T-Ball and still doesn't understand the fundamentals involved. Should we complain to the coach?

BACK MOUNTAIN MOM DEAR BACK MOUNTAIN MOM:

No. Don't complain. Offer to help. Why not teach her yourself?

The coach is already devoting many hours a week to the whole team. Many parents are reluctant to devote even 15 minutes a day to a one-on-one practice of basic pitch and catch with their child, yet expect volunteer coaches to perform miracles with an entire team in a limited amount of time.

Discuss with the coach ways you can help your child to understand the game and improve her playing.

DEAR AUNT PATTY:

I am a senior citizen and I am disappointed with the waitress who complained about tips the elderly leave her. She probably gets poor tips because of her attitude.

She might think it doesn't show, but if she has nerve enough to write a letter about her gripe, her anger no doubt shows in her work. When customers are treated like second class citizens they usually tip like second class citizens.

I bet the majority of senior citizens tip fairly when treated fairly. I'm over 65 years old and I leave a 25 percent tip when a waitress or waiter does a good job.

I suggest "Disgusted" get a different job or a different outlook before she hits 60 or her poor tips will make her eligible for free cheese and butter before then!

MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C.:

Thank you for responding.

DEAR AUNT PATTY:

Here's my simple recipe for easy stromboli which T.A.K. requested. I hope she'll enjoy it.

I thaw one loaf of frozen bread dough. When thawed, I roll it into a large rectangle. Then layer with ham, salami, or pepperoni and mozzarella and or provolone cheese, fried sweet peppers, mushrooms and fried onions. Next fold over the sides of dough to enclose and pinch the ends closed.

Cover and let rise for 30 minutes in a warm place. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 35 minutes. Delicious.

ORANGE, N.J.

DEAR N.J.:

Thank you for the recipe. We are still waiting for recipes for poppy seed roll and pierogies. We do not test the recipes sent in, but we will print requests and favorite recipes as they come in. Please enclose clearly written directions along with the ingredients. Thanks.

Kiwanis Club hears Booth

Chad Booth of P.M. TV Magazine addressed the members and guests of Back Mountain Kiwanis at a recent breakfast meeting at Franklin's Restaurant, Dallas. He spoke convincingly of the many features of Northeastern Pennsylvania which make it a desirable area in which to live and work. Among the advantages as described by him are: 1) an unsurpassed source of energy-coal; 2) three Interstate Highways close by; 3) a Freeport Zone; 4) high worker productivity; 5) excellent educational and cultural facilities; 6) excellent convention and recreational facilities.

Named 'Young Miss'

Wendy Vaughn, age 10, a fifth grade student at Dallas Intermediate School, won first place in Pennsylvania in the Little Miss America Pageant held recently in Philadelphia.

Wendy became Pennsylvania's "Young Miss" in the category for girls ages nine through 12.

Finishing first over 17 other contestants, Wendy was also voted "Best Personality" and "Most Beautiful" of all divisions. She will enter national competition in Louisville, Kentucky, on June 27 through June 30.
