Reverend Clemow honored

The congregation of Trucksville United Methodist Church will honor the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas A. Clemow during a brunch following the 9:30 a.m. worship service Sunday, June 23 in Fellowship hall of the Educational building.

The Rev. Clemow has been pastor of the Trucksville church for the past five years. He will begin his new ministry at the Clarks Summit United Methodist Church June 30.

His wife, Linda, is a member of the Chancel Choir and the United Methodist Women, where she is presently serving as chairperson of the Program Resources and Christian Social Concerns Committee and as Coordinator of the Susanna Circle.

The following organizations are participating in the affair: Pastor-Parish Relations Committee, Thomas Oliver, chairperson; The United Methodist Women, Mrs. Nancy Dukes, president; the Friendship Class, Mrs. Jo Ann Sarley, president; The Board of Trustees, Walter Pichert, president; and the Web Spinners Square Dance Club, Andy and Barbara Glowach, coordinators.

Citations awarded

Dr. Lee Williams and Joseph T. Pallante were awarded citations from the Wyoming Valley Chapter Red noting their 1985 service in Water Safety Instruction. Williams, an associate professor in humanities at College Misericordia, served for 466 hours. Pallante, a senior history major at the Dallas campus, served for 646 hours. According to Dr. Williams, Pallante exemplifies the commitment of today's college students to community service. The two Misericordians teach water safety, lifesaving and swimming to community members. Pallante is the son of James J. and Joan A. Pallante, Sutton Hills, Shavertown. Williams resides at 105 Carverton Road, Trucksville with his wife, Frances, and three children.

Check presented

recently, the Art Gallery of College Misericordia was presented a check from the Dallas Area Federated Women's Club. The generous donation will be used to purchase a painting from local artist Sue Hand and will be added to the permanent collection.
