Area represented at Keystone Games

By CHARLOT M. DENMON
Staff Correspondent

When the Keystone Games open at Pennsylvania State University's Main Campus, Aug. 9 through Aug. 11, there will be fine representation from the Back Mountain schools in girls' field hockey.

Following the final trials held June 29, two Dallas High School graduates were named to the Regional 2 hockey team in the Open Division and a Lake-Lehman Senior High student and two Dallas Senior High students were named to the Regional 2 hockey team in the High School Division.

Cristi Strauser, 1984 Dallas High School, and Jill Radzinski, 1985 graduate of Dallas High School, were named to the Open Division team. Junior Susie Slocum, Lake-Lehman High School; Junior Maureen Wisnieski and Senior Linda King, both of Dallas High School, were named to the High School Division team.

The girls in both the Open and High School Divisions competed in the trials with 60 girls from other areas in the region and played against some of the best. Each team played two games on June 29 in the trials.

In the Open Division, Cristi Strauser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Strauser, Jr., of Dallas, has just completed her freshman year at Penn State. She considers her being chosen as a member of the team quite an achievement since Cristi did not play hockey during her first year in college. She decided to forego the sport to concentrate on her studies. She does intend to try out for the team during the coming year.

While in high school, Cristi was a member of the Dallas field hockey team that took the regional title under head hockey coach, Robyn Jones. Cristi also played tennis while in high school.

During her senior year in high school, she played forward but in her sophomore and junior year, Cristi played all positions. She does not know what position she will play on the Keystone Games team but says it will probably be a defensive position.

A telecommunications major at Penn State, Cristi is looking forward to playing and is happy that she will be playing with Jill Radzinski. "It should be fun," she said. Practices will be held toward the end of July and the first few days of August.

Tourney slated

Potentate Paul Schramm will host the Annual Potentate Tournament to be held at Irem Temple Country Club on August 2, 3 and 4. Defending champions Rollie Schmidt and Ed Hennigan will defend their title against 87 other teams. The tournament features qualifying rounds on Friday, the top 16 teams will play match play and the remaining field will compete in medal play. Shown here, from left, are Bob Lacey, Past IGA President; Bill Harvey, IGA President; Paul Schramm, Potentate; Barry Fies, Irem Golf Pro; Jack Mascioli, Tournament Co-chairman. Absent when picture was taken was Bob Mason, Tournament Chairman.

Rebels drop pair

Coach Flossie Finn's Rebels dropped two games to the Jolly Molly team to finish in third place in the Lancaster Fast Pitch Tournament. K. Eckley did the pitching for the Rebels throughout the tournament chalking up a record of three wins and two losses for the Back Mountain girls.

K. Menkavitch set the pace in batting power knocking out two homeruns, a triple, and two singles. She also scored five runs, one the winning run in the team's 2-1 win over the Lancaster C&D Sports team in a game that went 14 innings.

The Rebels hammered the D-Lites 8-1 with Menkavitch going 2 for 2 at the plate and scoring four runs. Winning pitcher Eckley drove out a triple and struck out seven to aid in her own win.

The Rebels were edged 2-1 by the Jolly Molly girls in the second game with Menkavitch scoring the lone run. Demey hit a homerun for the winning nine. Eckley fanned two and walked only one but the local girls were unable to hit pitcher Kinsey.

Eckley struck out seven and walked three in leading the Rebels to a 4-2 win over Quarryville. Cindy Slocum and Menkavitch walloped homeruns and Sally Galka and K. Howard drove out triples for the Rebels. Haddon hit the only extra base hit for the losing nine.

Eckley fanned four and walked one while holding Lancaster C&D to one run in the Rebels 2-1 win over C&D. Menkavitch's homer was the winning run for the local team.

The Rebels dropped a second game 5-3 to the Jolly Molly girls to be eliminated from the tournament which was taken by Parsons. Jolly Molly ended in second and the Rebels in third. The Rebels came up with only singles in the game with Galka, Hoats and Eckley scoring the three runs.

In league play, July 1, the Rebels were edged 2-1 by Jeddo with C. Slocum's homer the only run. Patti Sinex drove out a homerun and scored both runs for Jeddo's.

Winning pitcher, J. Evans fanned seven and walked two for the winning nine. Eckley walked three and fanned one.

The Rebels took Lucias 14-9, July 2, aided by Menkavitch's grand slam and Sally Galka's double.

Eckley struck out six and walked none before J. Connolly took over for three innings walking two and striking out two. Losing hurler Meduecky walked 14 and struck out only one.

The Rebels were idle the rest of the week due to the holiday. League play resumes this week.

National Safe Boating Week being observed

The theme of the 1985 National Safe Boating Week emphasized the dangers of combining alcohol consumption with operating a boat. That theme was brought home to Pennsylvania boaters on June 23 when a 64-year-old man was killed when a 17-foot runabout collided and ran over the pontoon boat on which he was riding.

The accident occurred at night. Alcohol was involved. If the operator of the runabout is found guilty, it will be the first conviction under Pennsylvania's new boating law, homicide by watercraft while operating under the influence, which took effect July 30, 1984.

The new law carries a fine of from $2,500 to $15,000 and imprisonment of up to seven years, or both, with a minimum sentence of three years in prison for this crime.

"Boat operators who drink often cannot react promptly to hazards and thereby endanger not only themselves, but also others on the water. The use of even small amounts of alcohol can significantly impair an operator's judgement and boat handling skills," said Joe Greene, a Pennsylvania Fish Commission boating education specialist.

Over 300,000 Pennsylvanians now own recreational boats and that number is growing steadily. Last year, according to Greene, 23 people lost their lives in boating accidents.

"Alcohol was a contributing factor in 11 of those fatalities," said Greene. "After only one drink a boater's skills can become impaired. By the time a 160 pound man has consumed two beers on the water, the alcohol level in his blood is about .035 percent and there are already significant impairments to his boating ability."

Besides decreasing operating ability, alcohol increases the risk of hypothermia should boating accidents occur. Studies also show that an intoxicated person may often be unable to swim, even if he is an excellent swimmer when sober.

Safe enjoyment of Pennsylvania's diverse water resources requires simple common sense. Boaters must know and respect the water, maintain safe and reliable equipment and watch the weather.

Operating a boat safely requires an observant eye, a steady hand and a clear head. By mixing alcohol with boating, operators are only asking for trouble.

Tourney scheduled

Paul Schramm, Potentate of Irem Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., has announced that a golf tournament to benefit the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children will be sponsored by the Irem Golf Association on Friday, September 27.

The format will be a two-man scramble (captain and crew). A 1 p.m. shotgun is scheduled, followed by a social hour in Clown Alley, and a banquet in the main dining room. The entree fee has been set at $100 per man, and covers everything associated with the day: Greens fee, golf cart, refreshments on the course, social hour, banquet and prizes.

Potentate Schramm has appointed Thomas J. Reese, Past Potentate, as General Chairman of the tournament. Reese is the Regional Director of the Imperial Endowments, Wills and Gifts Committee for the Shriners Hospitals.

Already at work on the many details of the coming tournament are these Irem members: Cromwell Thomas, Edward Boltz, Barry Fies, Robert Spencer, Herbert Morris, Tom Gauntlet, Leo Azain, Bill Harvey, George Burk, Bob Lacey, Bob Kopp, Lee Richards, John Nixon, Gary Ide and Tim Shaw.

Since 1922, when the first Hospital for Crippled Children was opened more than 297,000 children have been cured or substantially helped, thanks to the Shrine of North America. For 1985, the Shriners Hospital budget is $150 million; Potentate Schramm feels that the Irem Golf Association can make a meaningful contribution to that budget with a successful golf tournament.
