Wyoming); Lori Hewitt (Wilkes-Barre); Heidi Stepanski (Wilkes-Barre).

Trips

ENORMOUS INTEREST IN RAILROAD HISTORY has been created by the Steamtown, USA excursions over former Delaware, Lackawanna and Western trackage, Scranton to Moscow, Penna.

The popularity of this mode of travel by tourists has inspired a special 10 hour excursion to Norwich, New York, sponsored by the Lackawanna & Wyoming Valley Historical Society, Saturday, September 7.

The train will leave Taylor Yard at 8:30 a.m., travel via Binghamton on the D&H then the Delaware Otsego System to Norwich.

Upon reaching Tunkhannock Creek Viaduct at Nicholson the train will allow patrons to detrain and make a "runpast" for them to view and photograph the area.

Two more runpasts will occur in New York State. Equipment will consist of modern air conditioned coaches, some with glass domed roofs, powered by two diesel locomotives.

Details are available from Mike Kelly, who will provide two coaches for the trip, at 824-0635, or trip chairman Neil Weinberg, Locust Lane, Box 369, RD 3, Waverly, Pa. 18414, at 563-2491.

Programs

A SERIES OF CONFERENCES designed to explore some of the most significant and pressing issues facing the United States will be presented by Luzerne County Community College during the 1985-86 academic year.

The program, "National Issues Conferences," will be open to the public free of charge and will examine major national and international topics through in-depth analysis and discussion. Participants will be from local, state and federal levels.

According to Fred Walters, program coordinator and Associate Professor of World Affairs at LCCC, representatives of federal and state governments, business and labor, humanitarian and service organizations, and academia will serve as program participants. These expert panelists will devote substantial time to addressing the questions and concerns of the members of the audience.

In response to one growing local concern, the initial conference of the 1985-86 academic year series will examine the impact of foreign imposts through its international, national, and regional context. The conference will be held in late September at the community college's Educational Conference Center on the main campus in Nanticoke.

The earlier conferences, coordinated by Walters, paved the way for the creation of the new National Issues Conference series. For further information on the upcoming conference program at Luzerne County Community College contact Fred Walters, 829-7415.

Events

A WIDE VARIETY of special activities for children, including special concerts, crafts, juggling, storytelling, puppets, and more are planned for the 1985 Philadelphia Folk Festival.

The 24th annual three-day event will take place August 23 to 25 at the Old Poole Farm in Schwenksville, Pa. The schedule of events includes afternoon and evening concerts, special showcase concerts, workshops, crafts, camping and dancing.

Children under 12 are admitted free to the Festival, and there is plenty of free parking. Plenty of different types of nourishing foods and drink are available on the grounds or families can bring a picnic lunch.

Tickets and information are available from the Philadelphia Folk Festival at 7113 Emlen St., Philadelphia, Pa. 19119; or by calling 215-242-0150. Outside Philadelphia call 800-422-FOLK; outside Pennsylvania call 800-556-FOLK.

The Philadelphia Folk Festival is sponsored by the Philadelphia Folk Song Society, a non-profit, educational corporation.

A "FUN FAIR" for all ages will be held at the Shavertown United Methodist Church in the Edward Hall Parking Lot and Social Room on Saturday, Aug. 3, from 3 to 7 p.m.
