Colonial Pancake House is a friendly place to eat

By CHARLOT M. DENMON
Staff Correspondent

The large, picture-type windows across the front and the light colored walls highlighted by dozens of portraits of children offers a family atmosphere for diners at the Colonial Pancake House and Restaurant at 185 Wyoming Ave., Kingston. The friendly "Hello" and cheerful smile of the hostess and waitresses makes the lone diner, parents and children, or businessmen's group feel at ease.

The menu offers a variety of selections for even the most particular person whether it be for breakfast, lunch or dinner. A wide variety of omelets and pancakes, from plain to such gourmet-style pancakes as pecan, chocolate chip, blueberry or apple, or to the diner who prefers plain pancakes there are buttermilk, buckwheat or regular, in short stacks, silver dollar size or average size. A favorite of many diners at the restaurant are the fruit roll-ups, blintzes or waffles so light they melt in your mouth.

Sandwiches from a grilled cheese, hamburger, hot dog, or steak to a variety of club sandwiches including turkey, ham, roast beef or tuna may be ordered any time of the day or night since the restaurant is open 24 hours daily.

Dinners from spaghetti to sizzling steaks and chops are prepared to order and the fresh salad bar is free with any dinner. For those who prefer deep fried platters, we suggest the Colonial's fried chicken, fried oysters, scallops, shrimp, tenderloins, and other such foods.

Breakfast, lunch and dinner specials are offered daily and for children under 12 years of age, there is a special menu which includes hot dogs, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, spaghetti, hamburgs, bar-b-ques plus numerous other items, all served with French fries.

Colonial's desserts are an unforgettable treat from the homemade rice pudding, cheesecake, pies, cakes, all made on the premises, and for the dieter there is fresh fruit in season.

There are Colonial Pancake Houses and Restaurants in three locations, 185 Wyoming Ave., Kingston Corners, Kingston; 2001
