Hockey teams

Pictured are the Open and Scholastic Divisions of the Field Hockey Keystone Game teams. These girls gathered in Wilkes-Barre on July 24 for a practice. They held other practices in Allentown and Lancaster in preparation for the Keystone competition which was held at University Park from August 9 through August 11. The Keystone games featured a large number of sporting events involving participants from all parts of Pennsylvania. Opening ceremonies were held the evening of August 9 with competition beginning on Saturday morning. It certainly proved to be an exciting weekend for any Pennsylvanians who enjoy watching any sport ranging from rowing to softball to martial arts. Join the athletes and support our Keystone games. FROM THE PENNSYLVANIA GAME COMMISSION

Recently a trapper called to tell me that while he was bass fishing on the Susquehanna River, he watched two otters playing tag in the river close to an island near the Carey Avenue Bridge. This bridge is only about 1/4 mile down stream from the Wilkes-Barre city limits. - DGP Edward J. Zindell, Wilkes-Barre.

I have had numerous reports of good hatches of turkeys and grouse which, along with a good supply of rabbits, plenty of deer and bear, should indicate a productive hunting season again this fall.

Talk about dedication!! On June 28, approximately 25 Game Protectors and Deputies and 97 students participated in the archery, shotgun, rifle and field courses at the Hunter Safety Camp, Bear Creek, in spite of the overcast and almost steady rain.

I had several calls on the answering service informing me of a wild goose in the yards of North Laurel Street near center city Hazleton. The next morning while it was pouring rain outside, I was working in the office when I received another call. I went to the area and caught a mallard hen which was also water logged! I released it on a safe area pond and it almost sank; but I recently saw it getting along fine, having survived the experience and dried out and re-oiled its feathers.

The Northeast Region Nuisance Goose Catching Team was initiated on June 18 and under the guidance of Charlie Stropuhr and his men of the Middlecreek Management Area, we caught 112 nuisance geese in the Poconos. Although Charlie seemed pleased with our success, we tried to donate a couple nuisance black bears but he wanted no part of it saying there have been four seen regularly in northern Lebanon County. One might conclude that more liberal goose limits and more bear permits might help both our problems.

- Deputy Game Protector Robert W. Nolf, Conyngham.

Camp slated

Youngsters from the Back Mountain enjoyed the recent basketball day camp in Scandlon Bym, King's College, directed by coach Ken Atkins.

Main speaker was Clemon Johnson of the Philadelphia 76ers. Other lecturers were Coach Eddie Burke, Drexel; Coach Jim Atherton, Luzerne County Community college; and Joe Rodgers, former Villanova captain.

Allentown Fair features wrestling

Two years ago, women's mud wrestling debuted at the Allentown Fair. Last year, jello, chocolate pudding and olive oil were added to the menu.

Not to be outdone, this year's plans for the popular free attraction add an international flavor. No, the women won't be wrestling in Chinese noodles. The wrestlers themselves will be from around the world representing their nations in competitions for flag and honor.

With fanfare and authentic costumery, women from the United States, Great Britain, Spain, Sweden, West Germany, Mexico, Australia and Puerto Rico will take the ring at 6:30 p.m. on Preview Night, Tuesday, Aug. 27 and 4:30, 7 and 9 p.m. Wednesday through Monday, August 28 - September 2.

Traditional "mud" will be in the ring Tuesday through Thursday, but a new goo, "sweet potatoes," will plague the wrestlers Friday and Saturday. Fairgoers' loved the "chocolate pudding" matches last year, so Sunday and Monday are reserved for that slippery slime.

While the women wrestlers are getting down 'n dirty on the upper west end of the midway, the fabulous Therons will reach new heights performing acrobatic feats on duosway poles on the east end of the grounds.

The death-defying shows are at 8:30 on Preview Night and at 2:30, 5:30 and 8:30 the remainder of the week.

Audiences will see two sway pole artists simultaneously perform 80-feet above the ground with no net.

Just like the international women's "mud" wrestling, the Duo-Theron Sway Pole act is free entertainment.
