Weis installs seat belts in carts

Weis Markets, Inc. installs seat belts for shopping carts. September is national Supermarket Child Safety Month and in support of this occasion, Weis markets has become one of Pennsylvania's first supermarkets to install Safe Straps in many of their shopping carts. Safe Straps are designed to keep small children from falling out of the shopping cart and to allow Mom or Dad a more relaxed shopping experience.

The straps, which are custom printed with the Weis Market logo, are manufactured by Safe-Strap Company, Inc. of Dover, New Hampshire. The idea for the shopping cart seat belts came from a consumer Products Safety Commission report that cited 9,000 shopping cart accidents annually involving children under 5.

"Our customers really like them as it secures a baby in the seat and toddlers aren't so likely to reach or stand when a safe strap is fastened around them" reports Carl Ernst, Director of consumer Services for Weis Markets.

Weis Markets has a genuine concern for the safety of children and convenience for parents in all 122 stores throughout Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland, and West Virginia.

CADETTE AND SENIOR GIRL SCOUT TROOPS from Shavertown and Trucksville viewed a film, "Room to Live" sponsored by the Luzerne County Buckle Up Program. Bernard Ott, representing the Buckle Up Program, gave a brief talk on the importance of wearing seatbelts.

Considering the fact that 50,000 people are killed each year in this country from traffic accidents and taking into account that "most fatalities occur in dry, sunny weather, at speeds under 40 miles per hour, within 25 miles of home," driving seems to be a pretty dangerous pastime.

However, according to the experts, safety belts are your best protection against serious traffic-related injuries. "If Americans routinely used their safety belts, we'd see more than 17,000 fewer deaths each year." Doesn't it make sense to Buckle Up!

BEST WISHES TO Mr. and Mrs. David Sharp of Manor Drive, Shavertown who recently became the parents of a lovely baby girl. The couple also has a daughter, Ashley, a student at Dallas Elementary kindergarten.

TRINITY NURSERY SCHOOL is now offering an extended day program from 11:30 until 2 p.m. Both registered and non-registered students may participate.
