The programs will be offered at each of the three elementary schools in the district and will feature separate presentations and activities for both the parents and the children. Activities for the children

MISSION NEWS: We are proud to announce that Gate of Heaven School has won the Diocesan Mission Awards of Total Giving and Per Capita Awards. This is an annual award for the school that contributes the highest amount of "giving" toward the Holy Childhood Association. This award will be presented by Bishop J.C. Timlin, at a Pontifical Mass in St. Peter's Cathedral in Scranton, on Oct. 20 at 11 a.m. The two students representing Gate of Heaven School are Christine Berezich and Frank Bantell.

WOMAN'S DAY CARE BEAR CONTEST: Mrs. Gray's Third-grade class is very excited about participating in the Woman's Day Care Bear Contest this year. To be eligible, each student will write a story about a thoughtful deed that he/she has done. They are working very diligently at this project, and we hope to have some winners. The monetary awards are very enticing.

FIELD TRIP: The fifth grade students, under the direction of Mrs. Rosalie Albert and Mrs. Marcella Hiller, toured the Wyoming Historical Society building on Thursday, 26th, and enjoyed the simulated coal mine, the display of clothing worn in colonial America to the present, and the Indian artifacts on display on the second floor. They later went to Frances Slocum Park for an "Autumn Walk" and later enjoyed their lunch amid the lovely scenery. Their Social Studies project of writing about it will be much easier by having such "first-hand" information.

FIRST GRADE: The first grade students are adjusting well to their new schedule. They have begun to participate in school Masses and will soon be taking part in other school activities. They are progressing well in their studies and are learning many new and interesting ways of doing things. We wish them a happy and productive school year.

SECOND GRADE NEWS: Miss Diane Tometchko has an assistant from College Misericordia for the next few months. She is Kathleen Rogers and she is very much interested in early childhood teaching and has been very enthusiastic about her working with Miss Tometchko and the children from 2-201.

Mrs. Wolverton has the second graders excited too, about their science projects. They are bringing in some very interesting "show and tell" objects for discussion.

BASKETBALL FEVER is growing as we near "tryout" time for both boys and girls. Mr. Walutes and Mr. Simon will begin having tryouts early October. So we advise you, students, who are interested in joining either team, to begin getting in shape.

BRIAN JEZUIT, fifth grade student entered five art works and won ribbons for all at the Sue Hand Imagery Shop Summer's End Art Contest. Brian won first and third place in the water-color category; first in mixed media; second in the ink category, and first in the pencil category. These are on display in the library.
