Marching Knights win again

Lake-Lehman Band, "The Pride of Pennsylvania" continues its winning ways in field show competition for 1985, by appearing in the Arthritis Foundation's "Battle of the Bands" in Meyers High School Stadium on Oct. 6. The competition titled "A Salute To The U.S. Navy" consisted of 16 bands vying for top honors.

In Group III, Lake-Lehman Band was awarded First Place plus a special award for "High Music". They were also awarded the "Harold A. Brodhead Memorial Troph" for overall Grand Champion by attaining the highest score over all bands competing.

Donning their traveling shoes once again, the band made their appearance known once more by traveling to Sunbury, Pa. to compete in Shikellamy's 15 annual Cavalcade of Bands "Sounds of Champions".

When the evening of competition was over, the judges awarded Lake-Lehman First Place in the Liberty Conference. Doug Ide was the recipient of the trophy for "Best Band Major" over all bands competing and the coveted "High Point Overall Trophy" was awarded to the band for scoring the highest number of points 80.95.

GATE OF HEAVEN SCHOOL NEWS

APRIL YATSKO

SECOND GRADERS ON COMPUTERS: The second grade students are sharpening their math skills while working with computers. They compete against the clock in figuring problems and Sr. Elizabeth can see a lot of improvement in these skills while enjoying watching their very competitive spirit.

MRS. SESSON'S FOURTH GRADE CLASS journeyed to the Susquehanna River Lands, a nature preserve, Friday, Oct. 11, where they toured the Energy Information Center. They also enjoyed a nature walk where they learned very interesting and new things about their friends, the plants. They were amazed at what they learned about the "simple things" surrounding them.

GATE OF HEAVEN STUDENTS have won many first, second and third-place prizes in the Luzerne County Folk Festival contest. The Festival, which will begin next weekend, will award the prizes Friday evening. Look for the lucky winners in next week's column.

MRS. GRAY'S THIRD GRADE CLASS is preparing for an upcoming poetry contest, nationwide, and are really getting into it with their originality and content. The children have to illustrate the poems they have written; these will be judged mainly on originality. We hear the prizes are really great. Good luck to all of you!

MRS. UMPHRED'S CLASS completed its "nature" dioramas in class last week and each child described the work of the plant that they chose. We have some budding botanists plus some upcoming orators among this class of third graders.

AMONG THE ORIGINAL ART WORK on display in our library this week are the works of Elizabeth Pisano, 3-204, who won first prize for her scratchboard picture of a cardinal bird, entitled, "Spring Season." Elizabeth studies under the direction of Misy Waslick. Carolyn (Mac) McLaughlin, 3-204, won second and third prizes, respectively in a water-color and crayon contest at Sue Hands Imagery class. Yes, there is real talent here.

STUDENT OF THE WEEK Christine Casterline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casterline is a member of the cheerleading squad and enjoys it very much. In her leisure time, she enjoys listening to popular music but has no particular favorite. She plans to attend Bishop O'Reilly High School, Kingston, and later on, would like to pursue medicine, particularly, obstetrics. Good luck, Chrissy.

Lisa Bealla commended

LISA BEALLA

Dallas Senior High School has been notified by National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students that Lisa Bealla has been designated as a Commended Student. Lisa is one of over 3,000 being commended to the attention of some 1,300 U.S. higher education institutions by the Achievement Program. Participants scored in the upper seven percent of more than 70,000 black students who requested consideration in the 22nd annual Achievement Program when they took the 1984 PSAT-NMSQT.

The Achievement Program is a compensatory activity that exists solely for the purpose of recognizing and assisting young men and women who are Negro citizens of the United States. Although students who are commended show promise, their test performance varies considerable and they do not receive individual citations; instead, we identify them in a list that is sent to colleges and universities in the hope of increasing admission and financial aid opportunities for these young people.

Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bealla of 36 Sunset Street, Dallas.

Students cited

Student to be honored

The Dallas Chapter of AFS, American Field Service, will be holding a reception for their 1985-86 exchange student, Inci Turkoglu. Miss Turkoglu arrived in the USA in August from Bornova, Turkey, which is near the large city of Izmir. She is presently staying with the Steven Batory family, Dallas, and is attending senior classes at the Dallas Area Senior High School. She will remain in the Dallas area until the school year ends and then will tour parts of the USA before returning to her native land.

The public is invited to meet Inci and hear about Turkey, her homeland on Wednesday, Oct. 23, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Shavertown.
