Calendar

 ducting a class at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays in October entitled, "Understanding Levels of Communication."
 The Course in Miracles groups meet at 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays. Contact the Rev. Addison at 822-2230 for information.
 A prayer service is held at noon Tuesdays.

A seminar, "How to Feel Absolutely Wonderful About Yourself," will be presented by the Rev. Addison from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 26, in the church. The public is invited. A love offering will be accepted.
 Unity's Dial-a-Prayer can be contacted at 826-0117.

REGISTRATION IS CURRENTLY TAKING PLACE for Nesbitt Memorial Hospital's FREE program "On the Road to Weight Control" scheduled to begin on Wednesday, Oct. 23 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the classroom of the Medical Arts Building, 534 Wyoming Avenue, Kingston.

The five part series will continue on successive Wednesdays concluding on November 20.
 Anyone interested in the FREE program can register by contacting the Education Department at 288-1411, extension 4035.

Programs

THE AUTHOR OF THE BOOK "A Difference In The Family: Life With A Disabled Child" will be the guest speaker at a program to be presented by the Children's Department of the Osterhout Free Library at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 17 at the Library, 71 South Franklin Street, Wilkes-Barre.

Mrs. Featherstone will speak about her book and her as well as other parents' experiences in living with a disabled child. She is presently the editor of "The Harvard Education Newsletter" and an Assistant Professor of Education at Wellesley College, Cambridge, Mass. In her book, the author tells of the fears, the realizations, the misconceptions, the challenge and the love involved in being the parent of a handicapped child. Her writing strives to bring together families with "normal" and families with "different" children.

The program is open to the general public, parents, agency representatives, teachers and other individuals involved with handicapped children and their parents free of charge. It is being made possible through a Library Services and Construction Act grant from the State Library awarded to the Children's Department of the Osterhout Free Library to promote services to the disabled of the community.

 Reservations can be made by calling the Library at 823-0156.

Courses

THE WILKES COLLEGE DIVISION OF GRADUATE STUDIES and Continuing Education will offer a one-day course entitled, "Intravenous Therapy" on Thursday, Oct. 17, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in Stark Learning Center, Room 316.

The three-hour session will be conducted by Linda Desmond, Associate Professor, Wilkes College Nursing Department. Desmond is a representative for Nurse Associates. "Intravenous Therapy" will review general principles of IV therapy, anatomy of veins, and complications which may occur in IV techniques. The course also features a practice period, during which participants will learn to insert a catheter into the peripheral venous circulation.

Further information is available through the Division of Graduate Studies and Continuing Education, 824-4651, extension 225.

Theater

ON MOST DAYS, noontime is lunchtime at Penn State Wilkes-Barre...

But not on Wednesday... Wednesday noon is the time for strange and wonderful movies in the Bierly Auditorium of the science building on the campus in Lehman...movies that thus far this semester have explored atoms, lasers, plastics and planets. This week, viewers watched "The Starry Messenger," (the influence of astronomy on society).

On Wednesday, Oct. 16, viewers will be treated to an expose of man's beginnings entitled "The Chemical Origins of Life."

Students, faculty, friends, neighbors, anyone who is interested may attend free of charge, according to Dr. Dudley Snyder, chemistry professor at Penn State Wilkes-Barre, who said there are no tickets, no reservations, no questions or quizzes, just an elegant selection of films picked from the Pennsylvania State University collection.
