Planning tournament

Soccer Club plans tournament

On October 19, at Ralston Field, the Dallas High School Soccer Club will be holding an invitation tournament before the Wilkes-Lehigh contest. Four teams will participate. The first game at 8:30 a.m. between two Back Mountain teams will start the day. The second game at 9:30 a.m. will be Abington Area vs. Tunkhannock Area. All teams will be comprised of players less than 16 years of age. A consolation game will be played followed by a championship game.

Refreshments will be sold throughout the day. A donation will be accepted at the gate with all proceeds of the day to go toward the High School Scotland Trip in 1986.

The Wilkes-Lehigh game follows at 2 p.m. promises to be an exciting contest. The Colonels are coming off the best year in the sport's 36th year history finishing the 1984 season with an overall record of 13-6-1 and 5-1 in the Middle Atlantic Conference. The 13 victories were the 5th highest total wins in the 26 team MAC

Soccer League. In 1984, the Colonels were ranked 7th in scoring with a 2.1 goals per game average and 8th in defense with a 1.15 goals allowed-game.

Leading the way for the Colonels in 1985 are co-captain Jeff Wertz, John Pursell and Mike Armao. Armao, a freshman forward, is the teams leading scorer with 3 goals and 1 assist. Pursell, 3 goals and Wertz, 2 goals and 2 assists follow close behind.

The defense is led by co-captain Mark Tobino and goalkeepers Don Shaw. Through eight games, Shaw has recorded 50 saves and has allowed 10 goals for a 1.25 goals allowed-game average. Shaw has posted two shutouts.

The Colonels, who have only one senior on the squad, are still hoping for a berth in the MAC Playoffs. Currently, the Colonels are tied with Elizabethton College, ranked 6th in the country, in the Northwest Division of MAC.

Planning Ball

Wilkes-Barre General Hospital Auxiliary members and friends recently met at the Westmoreland Club to assist members of the Starlight Ball Patron Committee in contacting patrons for the evening's program. New service launched

By HOWARD J. GROSSMAN
Special to The Dallas Post

A new service is being launched in Northeastern Pennsylvania to utilize the talents of retired executives in order to assist organizations which require specialized advice. The Pocono Northeast Executive Service Corps (PNESC) has been launched through the auspices of the Economic Development Council of Northeastern Pennsylvania (EDCNP).

The Corps is one of a number of such organizations which have sprung up across the United States over the last decade. Patterned after the successful International Executive Service Corps, these local organizations have been stimulated through the help of the National Executive Service Corps.

The Economic Development Council learned of the national organization and encouraged a group of individuals to gather together in the region to hear a presentation on the role of the National Executive Service Corps. As a result of this discussion, steps were undertaken to establish the Pocono Northeast Executive Service Corps.

The major goal of the Corps will be to assist non-profit organizations and governments throughout the seven counties of Northeastern Pennsylvania by utilizing the talents of retired executives to advise and consult with any such interested organization in subject areas such as accounting, budgeting, financial requirements, and related topics. Already the Corps has provided assistance to the OK HEART Project in Wilkes-Barre, and several other opportunities for service are in the process of being considered.

A volunteer executive director has accepted the responsibility of coordinating the program. His name is Jim Kearney, and his office will be in the Economic Development Council office building in Pittston Township.

Over the next several months, the Executive Service Corps will be gearing up to provide additional services through the publication of a brochure describing the role which the Corps will play, as well as developing its permanent structure and funding base. Initially, the Development Council is providing office space, funding for mailing, postage, telephone, and related services. Eventually, the goal is to establish a self-sufficient organization with sufficient funding to carry out its mission of service to the community of Northeastern Pennsylvania.

A typical project might entail contact with the Pocono Northeast Executive Service Corps office, discussion and evaluation of the request by a visitation to the organization requesting service, assignment of a person skilled in the service being requested with perhaps a one to three-month period of time in which a service is provided, along with a written document outlining the results of the service. There is the likelihood that a small charge may be asked for in order to show good faith on the part of the requesting organization for the voluntary services.

The program has been developed successfully in approximately 15 areas of the United States.

(Howard Grossman is the executive director of the Economic Development Council of Northeastern Pennsylvania.)
