'Gifts of Fun' is new Lottery game

"Gifts of Fun" in the form of $5 Lottery gift certificates went on sale Tuesday, Nov. 5 at Pennsylvania's 2,700 Lottery Numbers Games retailers. "These gift certificates can be the 'ultimate surprise' for the recipients," said Blair R. Gettig, Lottery Executive Director. "Gift certificates can be purchased by players or non-players for friends, relatives, employees, neighbors or co-workers."

Each $5 gift certificate can be redeemed for an equal value of Daily Number, Big 4 and or Pennsylvania Lotto tickets at any Pennsylvania Lottery Numbers Games retailer.

"Gift certificates are going on sale just in time for the holidays, and they can be the perfect host or hostess gift, stocking stuffer or to keep on hand as that last-minute present," Gettig said. "They also can be a great way to say thank you or happy birthday or for those occasions when you just want to share some fun."

"Miami Vice," never heard of it? Hmm, unusual...Only a small minority of people can honestly say they have not heard of NBC's hit show. The effects and influence are everywhere, from clothing including T-shirts to celebrations of "Miami Vice" similar to the one held recently at the local Woodlands.

Why is this show so popular, especially with the younger set of TV viewers? The actors who portray Tubbs and Crockett, Philip Michael Thomas and Don Johnson, are somewhat appealing, and the plots range from average to above average. The producers of the show are many, Michael Mann, exec. prod.; Ed Waters, supv. prod.; Liam O'Brien, consult. prod.; Ricahrd Brams, co-prod.; John Nicoletta, Mel Swopes and George E. Crosby, prod.

Their talents have certainly been recognized as "Miami Vice" won the People's Choice Award for FAVORITE New Television Dramatic program, and was also applauded by the editors of TV GUIDE magazine as the Best-Looking New Series. Part of the program's success can be attributed to the trend-setting styles; in fact, Philip Michael Thomas ("Tubbs") just recently started his own line of fashion designs.

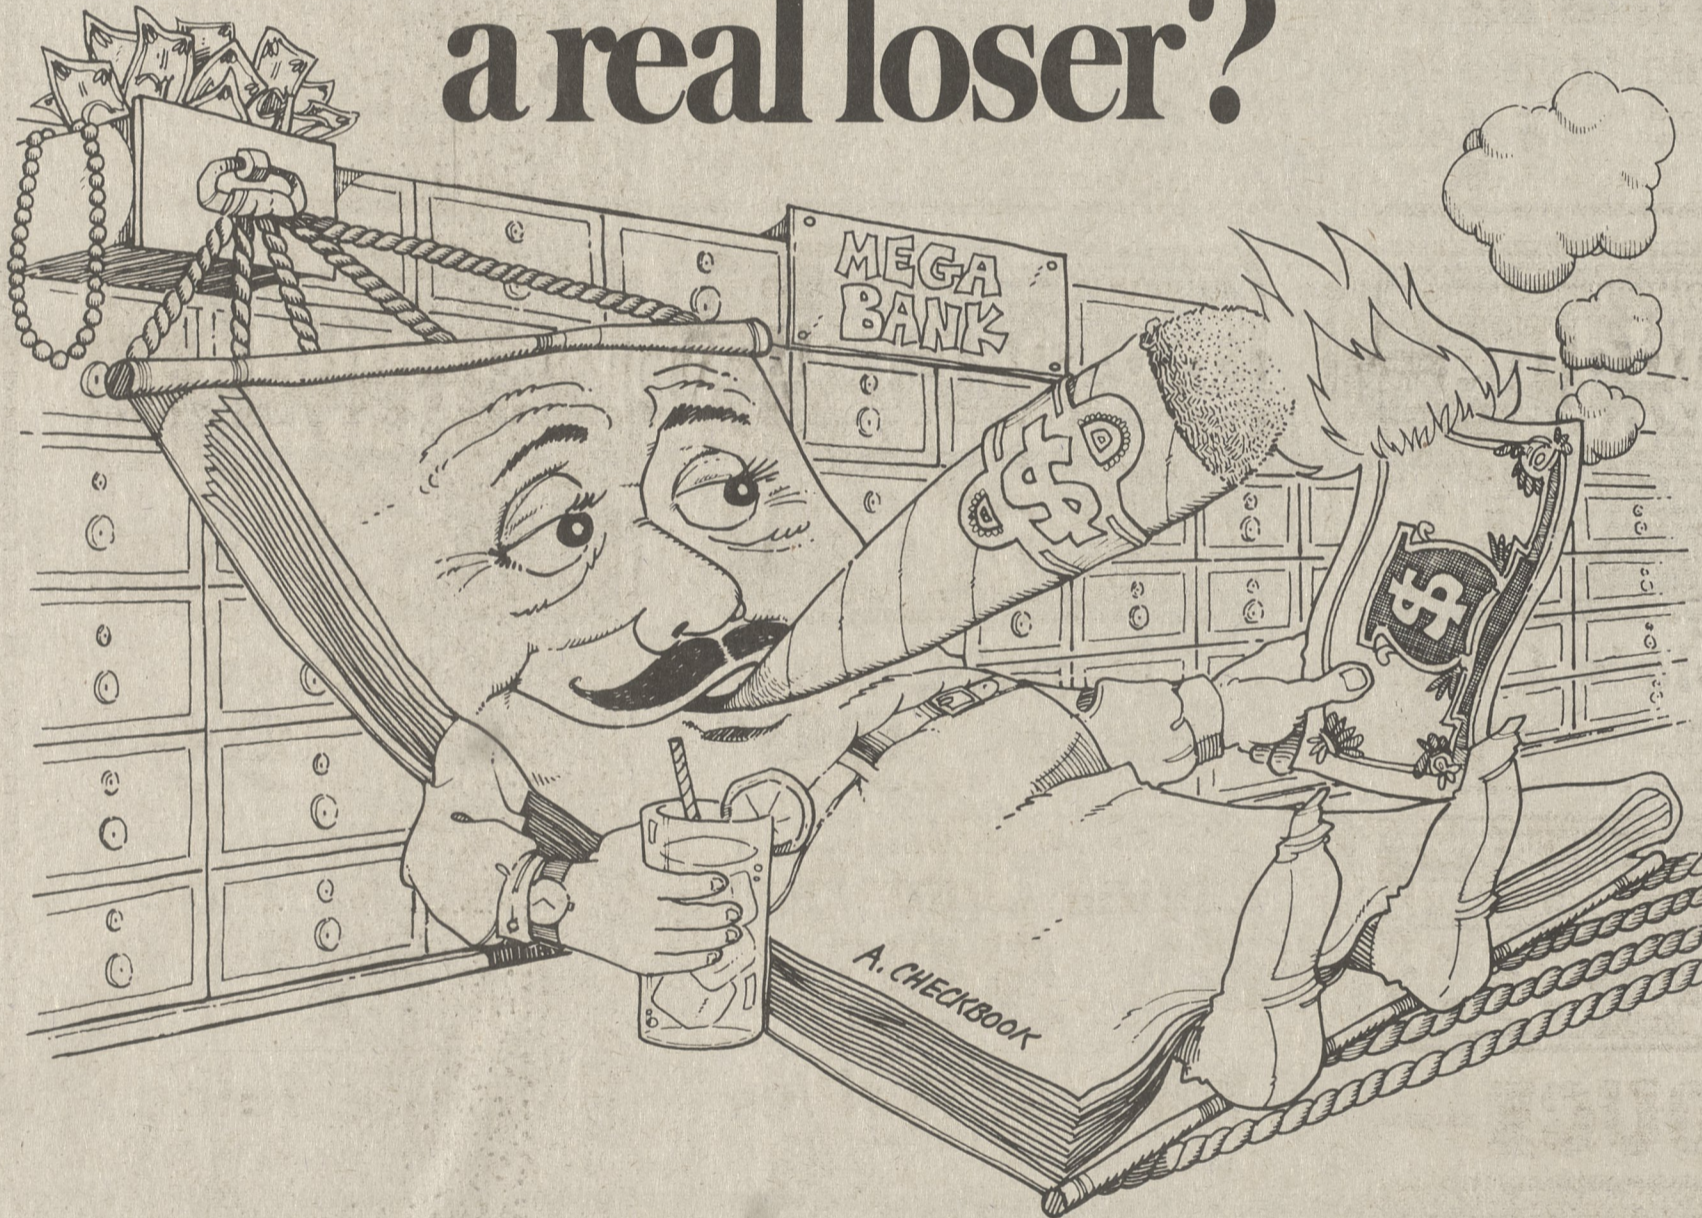

However, the chief strength of "Miami Vice" lies in its unique integration of pop music into the action format of the series. On the basis of this, the creators of the hit program not only want to maintain, but enhance its TV viewing audience. They hope to feature new songs by popular artists as Eric Clapton, Glenn Frey, an Chaka Khan during the 1985-86 season. Not only that but several musicians, such as Phil Collins and former J. Geils Band vocalist Peter Wolf, have even entertained the idea of making guest appearances on the series. In fact, a record album of music derived from "Miami Vice" has even been released on the market.

Continuing in the limelight, "Miami Vice" garnered the most Emmy nominations of any series with 15, giving NBC the highest network total with 125. "Vice" was nominated as outstanding dramatic series, Don Johnson (Detective Sonny Crockett) as lead actor in a drama series, and Edward James Olmos (Lieutenant Martin Castillo) as best supporting actor. Paul Michael Glaser and Lee H. Katzin were nominated for outstanding directing in a drama series, and Anthony Yerkovich for outstanding writing. The show also won two nominations for cinematography, film editing, and film sound editing, among art direction, music composition, and costume design nominees. "Miami Vice", often referred to by its fans as the hottest show on TV, can be seen on the local NBC affiliate, Channel 28, on Friday night, 10-11 p.m. (Debbey Wysocki is the entertainment writer for The Dallas Post.)

Is your checking account a real loser?

Ours isn't! So, switch to new Hard Working Checking only at United Penn Bank.

It makes checking accounts at other banks look very lazy!

Most personal checking accounts are real losers. Because the money you deposit into them just sits there. Doing nothing.

But no more! Because now United Penn Bank offers you Hard Working Checking. And it's a real winner. Here's how it works:

On balances up to $500, it's a regular checking account. But, when your collected balance is between $500 and $1,000, Hard Working Checking pays you 5 1/4% interest, compounded daily, on the entire collected balance. And when your collected balance hits $1,000, Hard Working Checking pays you even higher market rates!

Hard Working Checking has lots of other pluses, too. Like no maintenance fee on balances over $300. Unlimited checkwriting. 24-hour access at 7,000 CashStream/CIRRUS locations with your United Penn "QuickBank" card. And no maintenance fee for Senior Citizens, regardless of balance!

Best of all, the interest you earn is automatic. Each day your collected balance goes over $500, the interest starts accumulating. That's hard working!

So if your present checking account isn't doing all this for you, then it just isn't working hard enough. Which is why you should come to United Penn Bank. Because we work hard for your business.

Host family is sought

The Dallas Chapter of AFS, American Field Service, is currently looking for a host family in the Back Mountain area to house a foreign exchange student from Dec. 15 to the end of the school year. The student, Inci Turkoglu, is an 18 year old girl from Bornova, Turkey. She is presently living with the Steven Batory Family, Dallas, and is attending the Dallas Area Senior High School.

Families interested in the unforgettable experience of this type of cultural exchange should contact Mrs. Donald Flick, 675-4390, for more information.

Correction

The name of Rich Heuer was inadvertently misspelled in a list of political candidates in the October 30 issue of The Dallas Post. Heuer was a candidate for Constable in Harveys Lake Borough.
