Trip planned

Fifty Lake-Lehman High School students are busy making plans to tour Britain during their Easter recess. Shown in the photo is Mr. Robert Reese, British literature instructor and tour leader, conducting a recent meeting for students and parents held in the high school library. The purpose of the meeting was to answer any questions students and or parents might have had concerning the trip as well as to discuss a proposed itinerary. The group will stay in London with day trips to various places of interest including: Windsor, Oxford, Warwick, Salisbury-Stonehenge, Bath, Wells and, since Chaucer is a favorite of Mr. Reese and students, a pilgrimage to Canterbury. The trip will also include an overnight train ride (with sleeping berths) to Edinburgh where everyone will experience a Scottish banquet at the North British Hotel as well as be afforded the opportunity to explore this "Athens of the North" on foot. The trip to a nation which gave birth and independence to the United States has become a popular event at the high school and in the community. Several parents will be accompanying their children on the trip and it is difficult to determine who is more excited. English pastries were provided by Miss Lynn Evans and her home economics classes.

Conferences are conducted

Parent Teacher Conferences were held Monday in the Dallas School District.

This was the first conference of the school year where the teachers and parents shared their concerns for each individual student. By having such sessions, parents can learn how well their child is doing and also what areas need development and attention. These sessions are held during the entire day on a one-to-one parent-to-teacher conference.

In observance of National Education Week, the Dallas Intermediate PTO will sponsor a Parent Teacher Tea on Wednesday, November 20, at 2:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. This tea is being held as part of an effort to help children by having parents become more acquainted with their teachers and their school activities.

APRIL YATSKO

FIRST GRADE: The first grade class is getting ready for Thanksgiving and "Turkey Art." Sr. Catherine's class is going to tell her, on Tuesday, how to roast a turkey. This should be interesting. They also know a cute song about turkeys. Sr. Alice's class is getting ready to "create" their own turkey. The first grade is already practicing their music for the Christmas play. This year it's about robots and Santa Claus.

for the largest and the cleverest, FIFTH GRADERS are involved in crafts for the PTG Holiday Fair. Mrs. Hiller and students are making lapel pins from felt that will resemble Christmas wreaths. Mrs. Albert's students are doing ceramics to be used as tree ornaments. They are being directed by members of the PTG. The students seem to be really enjoying it.
