Ball held

Wilkes-Barre General Hospital's Auxiliary recently held its 17th annual Starlight Ball at the Woodlands, an Inn. The event was attended by over 500 guests who enjoyed an evening of gourmet food and hours of dancing. The ball is the Auxiliary's single-largest fund-raising event. Proceeds are used to support programs sponsored by the Auxiliary for the benefit of Wilkes-Barre General Hospital and its patients. Highlights of the evening was the drawing to award a Mercedes Benz 190 Class, won by Dr. John Querci. Auxiliary members who spend many hours preparing for the event are pictured above. From left, Dr. William Rusin, Mrs. William Rusin (co-chairman); Dr. Alfred D'Anca, Mrs. Alfred D'Anca, (co-chairman); Mrs. Guy Serpico (president) and Mr. Guy Serpico.

Student sponsored

For the second consecutive year, Dallas Rotary Club is sponsoring a foreign exchange student under the Rotary Exchange Student program. This year, the student is Minna Tolvanen from Finland. Minna will live with several host families, during her stay in the United States and attend Dallas Senior High School. She will return to Finland next July. In the accompanying photograph, Minna is shown being introduced to the club by Don Lockhart, Club President, left, and Hugh Woodward, first host family.

Program conducted

A program on "Careers in Communications" was presented recently at Penn State Wilkes-Barre. It was the third in a career exploration series sponsored by the Center for Individual Development at the local Penn State campus in Lehman. Participating in the panel discussion were Penn State graduates who work in the communications field. Shown are, standing, from left, Dennis Zurawski, student at Penn State Wilkes-Barre; Linda Mikolosko, managing editor, "You & Me, Inside Wyoming Valley"; Marianne Tucker Puhalla, former TV news producer; and Patricia O'Neill, academic advisor, Center for Individual Development, Penn State Wilkes-Barre. Seated is Bonnie Lini, student at Penn State Wilkes-Barre. Dr. Roy E. Morgan, president, WILK Radio, was also on the panel.

Employee cited

John Bushko has been selected as The Meadows Nursing Center, Dallas, Employee of the Month of November. He joined The Meadows in July 1984 as a dishwasher in the Dietary Department. Born in Nanticoke, Mr. Bushko attended Dallas and Nanticoke High Schools. He graduated from the CETA and Red Rock Job Corps Programs with certificates in auto body and brick and block masonry respectively. He resides in Wilkes-Barre with his wife, Mary, and two children, John Richard and Heather Lynn. Mr. Bushko was presented a cash award for his winning suggestion by Thomas Sweeney, Administrator of the Meadows. Looking on is his supervisor, Lori Frey, Dietary Manager. ### School display

The Lake-Lehman School Library is alive with displays provided by the Armed Forces. The local Army, Navy, Marine, and Coast Guard Recruiters, working in conjunction with Carole Pyle, school librarian, have made available to our students much information regarding our country's Armed Forces. Upon entering the library, a person is immediately greeted with colorful posters and brochures describing opportunities offered by each branch. A collection of books, featuring historical conflicts such as World War II and Vietnam, are on display. Of special interest is a model of a Fleet Ballistic Missile Submarine. The model is 7 ft. long and lighted from within to show the living and working quarters of a modern submarine. Chief Petty Officer James A. McNichol, was responsible for delivering the model to the library.

Seminar held

The Emergency Medical Services Program at Luzerne County Community College recently hosted a guest presentation for its students featuring Mary Llewellyn, Educational Counselor of the Victims Resource Center. Among those in attendance for the program are, from left, seated, Jane A. Maher, Edwardsville; Gail A. Hagenbaugh, Wilkes-Barre Township; Lorraine A. Kuzma, Dallas; and Mary Llewellyn, Wilkes-Barre, program presenter. Standing, Joe Clisham, Larksville; Bob Roth, Kingston; John R. Bobinoski, West Nanticoke; Danny Shaw, Plymouth; and James Johnson, director of the emergency medical services program at LCCC.
