THE TIME BETWEEN Thanksgiving and Christmas, the "holiday season", brings much joy to many hearts. It is a time of rejoicing, a time for all Christians to prepare for and to celebrate the birth of Jesus, "the Word made flesh." A happy time for most, but not all. For those who have suffered a loss, is frequently a time of added sadness and stress. The memories of what was mingle with the reality of the loss.

The Office for Family Life will sponsor a one-night workshop entitled Holiday Stress on December 4 at Blessed Sacrament Parish, 213 E. 9:30 p.m. Frank J. rodella, Assistant Director of the Office for Family Life will facilitate. The workshop is directed to those adults who have suffered a loss through separation, divorce, or death, however, all adults who experience the holiday season as a stressful time are welcome. The program will consist of input from the facilitator, small group discussion and question and answer time.
