Legislation permitting apparel manufacturers and small shoe manufacturers to participate in a low-interest loan program has been approved by the Legislature and signed by the governor.

Rep. George C. Hasay, who supported the bill's passage in the House, said the loans would be funded through the $190 million bond program approved by the voters in 1984.

"The loans will be targeted for capital improvements such as new machinery and plant expansions," Hasay said. "These industries have been hit very hard by many factors including low-cost labor outside the United States.

"We have had a significant job loss in the Wyoming Valley area in the garment and shoe industries and the industries that serve them."
