Back Mountain on the move

THE MCKEEVER FAMILY gets a Back Mountain welcome as they make their home on Marabee Avenue in Stonehedge, Dallas. Mrs. McKeever has become my friend over the past few months as she "passed time" while using the laundromat next door. Mr. McKeever was transferred to our area and they have been renting a house at Harveys Lake while looking for the right house to buy.

After several months of driving the children to Dallas Senior High and becoming weary of "making do" we are so happy to have them permanently in Dallas. To our friends in Stonehedge, be sure and stop by and meet your new neighbor she's a very lovely lady.

DR. HARRY REICH AND WIFE LIZ of Shrine Acres have returned home from a two week vacation in Hawaii. The Reiches combined a medical business trip and vacation, visited friends they had known when they lived in Hawaii and spent time relaxing and enjoying the 80 degree days of sunshine. Liz is sporting a gorgeous tan, it's so brown and beautiful. I had to ask her where she'd been. Besides bringing home a tan she also "adopted" a Hawaiian cat which just decided it wanted to be with them forever, and it is. It is now living in Shrine Acres and fits right in with the children and pets at home.

ED AND JANE DURKIN of Dallas also accompanied the Reiches in Hawaii and they also got to spend time with friends of the college days. Ed went to college in Hawaii, so it was "friends meeting friends," and a great two weeks for both families.

JACKI AND JACQUIE ROBBINS and family of Midway Manor, Shavertown, spent last week enjoying Jack's favorite sport "snowmobiling." The Robbins spent the week in Vermont this year. usually they spend a week in Old Forge, New York but this year decided to take a different trail, so it was off to Vermont.

KURT MARTIN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Martin of Trucksville, received the highest award in scouting on Sunday afternoon at Trucksville Methodist Church Educational Building. Congratulations, Kurt, special congratulations come from Jeff Spudis, Keith Hillard, Dennis Daucison and clear from Delaware Jeff Poorman. We are proud of you!

Highway accident

The vehicle shown here was involved in an accident on Route 415 in Dallas at approximately 10:30 a.m. Monday. Driver of the vehicle was David Maculloch, of 84 Jackson St., Dallas. Dallas Borough Police investigated the accident, however, no further information was available at presstime.

POLICE BLOTTER

HARVEYS LAKE
 A Nanticoke woman escaped injury last Thursday when the car she was traveling in skidded on a patch of ice and slammed into a tree.

Annette Holland, 25 R. Loomis St., Nanticoke, said she was heading south on Rt. 415 near Lakeside Drive when her car went out of control on a stretch of ice, crossed into the northbound lane and crashed into a tree.

The car did receive some damage and had to be towed although the woman was not injured. The mishap occurred at 1:30 p.m.

Icy road conditions was the cause of another accident on Rt. 415 involving a Stroudsburg man late last week.

According to police reports, Patrick J. Loyd, RD 6, Box 6300, Stroudsburg, was traveling along RT. 415 when he lost control of his vehicle, crossed the southbound lane and plowed into a house owned by Ruth Auery, RD Box 210, Harvey's Lake.

A Wyoming man lost control of his car when he was forced to swerve to avoid an oncoming vehicle on RT. 415 last Saturday morning.

Charles T. Rosenthal, RD 3, Mt. Olivet Rd. Wyoming, said he was proceeding north when he was forced out of control by an approaching vehicle. Rosenthal said he then lost control of his car, spun around, left the road and struck a tree. He was not injured.

DALLAS TOWNSHIP
 A Dallas man will be charged with leaving the scene of an accident after his Chevy Nova was involved in a two-car accident last week.

David Molecavage, RD 1, Box 314, Dallas, attempted to flee from the scene of an accident when he told a passenger of his car to inform police that he went to phone them for help. According to reports, Donna T. Meade, Box 32, Island Rd., Noxen, was traveling north on RT. 309 when she saw the Molecavage car sitting in the middle of the road with no lights. Meade said she tried to stop but there was not enough time. Police found out Molecavage's identity from the passenger who accompanied him.

A Shavertown woman slammed into a tree after she lost control of her car on an ice patch on the Kunkle-Alderson road.

Maureen Judge, RD 5 Box 338, Sutton Rd. Shavertown, was traveling north when she hit an icy stretch of road, causing her to lose control of her vehicle. She then skidded into a concrete ditch and bounced to the other side before coming to rest.

Police reported that the road was extremely icy when the accident occurred.

DALLAS BOROUGH
 Hazardous road conditions accounted for yet another accident on the Memorial Highway, this time involving a Dallas woman.

Sharon Lynn Titus, RD 4, Box 579, 42nd St., Dallas, said she was traveling south on Rt. 415 when she skidded on icy stretch, struck a gas price sign and then a utility pole before coming to rest. The woman was slightly injured and said she would be treated by her own physician. The car was towed to Wesley's station.

A Wilkes-Barre man was not seriously hurt last Sunday afternoon when the truck he was driving slid out of control and slammed into a tree.

Donald Michael Winder, 221 Barney St., Wilkes-Barre, said he was traveling along Rt. 309 when he encountered an ice patch, causing his vehicle to slide across the road and into a tree.

He sustained minor injuries.

Awards abound in the entertainment industry, but some are better known than others. The more popular awards are the Academy Awards (for motion picture achievement), the Emmy Awards (for television achievement), the Antoinette Perry (Tony) Awards (for achievement in the New York legitimate theater), Awards for Cable Excellence, the American Music Awards, the Clio Awards (for creative excellence in advertising), the Golden Globe Awards, Film Critics Awards, the People's Choice Awards, Youth in Film Awards, and the Academy of Country Music Awards.

Awards, not as well-known to the general public, are ones like the Drama Desk Awards. These are presented annually by the drama critics, editors and reporters of New York City. This past year's choices included John Lithgow as Best Actor or his dynamic performance in Rod Serling's "Requiem for a Heavyweight," Best Actress to Rosemary Harris, and Best Play laurels to William M. Hoffman's drama "As Is." "Big River" also received numerous accolades.

The George Foster Peabody Broadcasting Award, administered by the School of Journalism, University of Georgia, for distinguished and meritorious public service rendered by radio and TV, was presented to James Garner starring in MTM's "Heartsounds."

Two unique awards are the Louella O. Parsons Award and the Sour Apple Award. The Louella O. Parsons Award was bestowed upon David Wolper as the individual who presented the best image of the entertainment industry to the world. Bo and John Derek were recipients of the Sour Apple Award which is given to celebrities who most believe their own publicity.

Other interesting awards are the Christopher Award and the American Women in Radio and Television Commendation Award, both given to Orion TV's "Victims for Victims" (The Theresa Salana Story).

Susan Lucci, who stars on ABC's "All My Children," has received the 1985 Outstanding Mothers Award, whereas Donna Mills of "Knots Landing" was accorded the Stylemaker of the Year Award.

"Pryor's Place" was announced the winner of the Action for Children's Television Award. "Gremlins" won the most Saturn Awards, awards presented by the Academy of Science Fiction, Fantasy and Horror Films for outstanding achievement in that area of entertainment. The film won Best Horror Film, while Joe Dante won Best Director, Polly Holliday won Best Supporting Actress, Chris Wales won Best Special Effects, and Jerry Goldsmith won Best Score for the film. "The Terminator" was recognized as Best Science Fiction Film, while "Ghostbusters" was selected Best Fantasy Film. Jeff Bridges was voted Best Actor for his role in "Starman."

Women in Film recently lauded actress Elizabeth Taylor as the winner of its Crystal Award. In addition, the first Jack Oakie Comedy Award went to Bette Midler, the Norman Zarky Humanitarian Award to Jean Stapleton, and the New Directions Award to Cyndi Lauper.

The above-mentioned awards are just the "tip of the iceberg" when it comes to "show biz" awards. There are various other awards even more obscure to the average reader.

It is interesting to note that in the midst of all these awards, Marlo Thomas recently announced a new industry award - the Luminas - which will honor positive depictions of women in media. Films exhibited and TV programs broadcast in 1985 will be eligible for the first annual Luminas in 1986. In her introductory remarks, Marlo Thomas stated, "The Luminas will go to filmmakers and producers who give women the roles that embody the responsibility our generation wants - which is to send forth a positive and inspiring image of women...I have a feeling that the Luminas Award will soon become one of the most coveted and prestigious in our industry..."

Two names were inadvertently omitted from a cutline in the January 29th edition of The Dallas Post. Harry Yatsko and Jason Darling are both members of Boy Scout Troop 530 of Beaumont who were on hand when Senator Charles Lemmond presented the troop with a flag. Also, Judy Gramley was incorrectly identified. Mrs. Gramley is the Unit Commissioner of the troop.
