Career Day

College Misericordia hosted more than 125 high school students at the annual Biology-Medical Technology career day held recently at the Dallas campus. In addition to the numerous exhibits and laboratory experiments, students learned about career opportunities for biology and medical technology majors, toured campus facilities and met with Misericordia faculty and students. Participants in the program included, seated from left: Helen Ruane, education coordinator of medical technology, Wilkes-Barre General Hospital; Renee Pawlowski, medical technology major, Wilkes-Barre. Standing: Michael Jalowiec, biology-pre-med major, Avoca; Olney Craft, associate professor; Carl Konecke, associate professor and Dr. Stanley Knapich, director of Misericordia's medical technology program.
