New bakery opens in Trucksville area

By CHARLOT M. DENMON
Staff Correspondent

Residents of Midway Manor, Shavertown and Trucksville, and Bunker Hill area of Trucksville, have a new business in their area — a bakery with a complete line of fresh-baked goods.

Maureen and Charles Szalkowski of Edwardsville opened the Colonial Bakery Shoppe in Hickory Corners Plaza the end of January. Although the bakery business is entirely new to Maureen, she always liked to bake and decorate cakes and enjoyed working with food, so when she and Charles started looking for a business, they decided on a bakery.

When they found a shop for rent in Hickory Corners, the Szalkowskis decided to open a bakery in that area because it is surrounded by a growing population and there were no similar businesses there.

A former bookkeeper with Family Service Association of Wilkes-Barre, Maureen resigned her position and took over management of the bakery.

She carries a complete line of baked goods made daily by Linden Bakery of Scranton and Royal Bakery of Wyoming. There are a wide variety of breads including white, rye, pumpernickel, cheese, pepperoni, raisin, cinnamon, nut, marble, health and Jewish bread.

Hard rolls, French rolls, sandwich and onion rolls, hot dog buns and bagels may be purchased at Colonial Bakery as well as Danish of various kinds, sweet rolls, muffins or croissants.

All kinds of cakes, pastries, decorated cakes, cookies, Stopay and Cavanaugh chocolates are sold by Maureen and Charles Szalkowski, as well as the Sunday paper, soda, milk and soon Instant Lottery tickets may be purchased at the bakery.

Looking for a decorated cake for a special occasion? Stop in and see Maureen. She will assist you in ordering an originally decorated cake for birthday, wedding or anniversary. Maureen recently received her baker's license and will bake and do custom decorated cakes to order. The Szalkowski's have one daughter, Alison, freshman at Wyoming Valley West. In her leisure time, Maureen enjoys swimming or bike riding.

She took courses in bookkeeping at Luzerne County Community College and a cake decorating course given by Wilton at Boscov's Department Store.

The pale yellow walls of the bakery, contrasting wall-to-wall carpeting, and large windows provide a light, airy atmosphere, pleasantly setting off the mouth-watering sweets in the shiny display case. Beautiful plants and floral arrangements and Maureen's friendly smile and pleasant personality encourage customers return again and again. For the convenience of area residents, Colonial Bakery is open daily Tuesday through Sunday.

Maureen advises all customers "If you don't see it, ask for it — Maureen will get it!"

Mr. Male Pageant scheduled

Officials for the new Mr. Male America Pageant has just announced they are currently accepting applications for the Mr. Pennsylvania Male America Pageant.
