Offset's addition in operation

Offset Paperback Mfrs., Inc. celebrated the official opening of a 42,000 sq. ft. building addition and the installation and start up of their third 60" Strachan Henshaw Web Press and fifth Muller Martini Binder. The total project cost was in excess of $4.5 million with funding assistance provided by P.I.D.A. (Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority), the L.C.I.D.A. (Luzerne County Industrial Development Authority), the Wilkes-Barre Industrial Fund, and the First Eastern Bank.

non-union employees.

Some 85 guests attended the ribbon cutting ceremony at the Dallas, Pennsylvania Plant followed by a luncheon at the Bar, Newberry Estates, Dallas. President Wayne Taylor and Executive Vice President Ian Richardson thanked those that participated and made the expansion possible.

Those in attendance included ownership of the Company, represented by Mr. Rainer Hampf of Bertelsmann A.G. of Guetersloh, West Germany, Mr. Abraham Simkin and Mr. Bernard Simkin of Heritage Investments, Ltd. of Winnipeg, Canada, and executives of OPM's sister company, Delta Lithograph, VanNuys, California-Kai Wenk-Wolff, Les Spencer, and Ken Hoff-

The Walt Disney Studios released its theatrical feature lineup for 1986-87. The '86 lineup stands at 10 releases - four comedies, three animated reissues, one drama, one adventure and a new animation feature. The '87 slate currently stands at nine set releases. The slate features four comedies, three animated reissues, one action-adventure, and a new animated action release.

"Off Beat" starring Meg Tilly is scheduled for an early debut. Disney's "Ruthless People," slated for June 27, stars Bette Midler and Danny DeVito.

"The Great Mouse Detective" will open for the Fourth of July weekend, and "Flight of the Navigator" will premier on August 1.

A contemporary comedy, debuting October 10, is entitled "Tough Guys." It will be directed by Jeff Kanew and will feature Charles Durning and Eli Wallach. "Tough Guys" will be followed by "Song of the South" set for November 21. Last on the schedule for 1986 will be the re-release of the popular animated feature "Lady and the Tramp."

First on tap for '87 will be the comedy "Outrageous Fortune." "Run," a contemporary action motion picture, will debut in March 1987. Slated for the spring-summer of 1987 are "The Aristocats," "The Fox and the Hound," and "Cinderella."

Other possibilities include "Splash II" produced by Ron Howard, "Straight Talk" produced by Bob Chartoff and "Big Business" produced by Steve Tisch.

In regard to the Disney Channel, this spring will feature the return of Hayley Mills in a Disney Channel movie, "The Parent Trap II."

Hayley, early in her career, starred in many popular Disney movies. She became a favorite of the American public with her role in "Pollyanna." Many remember Hayley's performance in the original "The Parent Trap," starring Maureen O'Hara and Brian Keith. She played a dual role as the twins, Susan and Sharon, determined to reconcile their separated parents. It was an entertaining movie, intermixing high confusion, comedy and music including the song "Let's Get Together."

Another Disney motion picture back in the 1960s starring Hayley was "Summer Magic." The movie, which brought such enjoyment to motion picture audiences, also featured Burl Ives, Dorothy McGuire, Eddie Hodges and Deborah Walley.

"Summer Magic" was shortly followed by "In Search of the Castaways," again starring Hayley Mills, and also Maurice Chevalier. This Disney production was based on the intriguing tale of a search, amid a series of natural disasters and mutineers, for a lost sea captain.

With such a multitude of appearances in Disney productions, Hayley Mills became a major star in the United States. She was featured on magazine covers; her record albums sold well, and fan clubs were quickly organized in her honor. However, once Hayley left the Disney fold, her popularity faded. Not much has been heard of her since that period.

Surprisingly, many believe Hayley to be related to Donna Mills ("Knots Landing"). No relation, Hayley is the daughter of British actor John Mills and playwright Mary Hayley Bell. Since her departure from Disney, she has been at home in England rearing two sons from previous marriages, and appearing on stage and screen. In 1982, Hayley was featured in "The Flame Trees of Thicka," which aired on PBS, and in 1984, she narrated a Disney Channel special.

Movie viewers will now be waiting in eager anticipation for the theatrical features the Disney Studio plans to release as well as for the return of Hayley Mills to a starring role in a Disney movie once more.

Board approves coaches

The proposal for the addition of two assistant coaches to the sports program at Lake-Lehman, brought up at last month's meeting of the school board, was successfully approved at the meeting of the board held Tuesday, April 8. The board reconsidered its veto of the proposal last month and voted unanimously to hire Lynn Coury as girls softball team assistant and Mark Boyle as assistant coach for boys track.

The reconsideration by the board came after several residents publicly spoke out on the additional hiring of coaches, saying that the veto of the proposal was a threat to the safety of the children in the sports program due to lack of assistant coaches.

In other action, the board approved the appointment of Irene Zaleskas and Mrs. Debra Roberts as volunteer medical chaperones for the senior class trip to Washington.

Commonwealth Employees, you've just missed getting better health care coverage by one day.

If you're an employee of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, you have the option to sign up with HealthAmerica, the HMO alternative to health insurance.

But after April 25th, you'll lose your freedom of choice for another year.

That would be a shame, because HealthAmerica does so much more than health insurance.

For instance, we have a new, more efficient way of giving you health care. First HealthAmerica provides you with the doctors, medical professionals and specialists you need, and then we pay your bills.

And HealthAmerica provides care for your whole family. You're covered at 100% with no co-payments or deductibles for: routine office visits and checkups, pediatric exams, specialists, maternity and emergency care, surgery, hospitalization and more. When you choose the HealthAmerica HMO, you'll be able to keep your current dental, vision and prescription benefits.

All of these are reasons why we can make your health care coverage better.

For more information call us at 961-5600 in Lackawanna County or 825-6900 in Luzerne or Wyoming County.

We want to make health care better for you.
