and major league and in 1985, he coached a Division II softball team as well as a boys team.

This season, Tinner coaches a Teeners' team. He has three children—all excellent athletes—John, a senior in high school, is now on the high school varsity team, having played on farm, minor, major and teeners teams in the past. Joyce, sophomore at Dallas, is a member of the girls varsity softball team. She played on both Division I and Division II softball teams and was a member of the team that won the local championship and advanced toward state competition. Jeffrey, the youngest, is a member of a teeners team this season.

As vice president of equipment, Tinner is responsible for all ordering. All of the coaches bring their equipment requests and their equipment to him for justification of their needs. Tinner approves their needs and when all teams are taken care of, he makes up the purchase orders and puts the orders out for bid. The first two years, the orders and specifications were sent to five companies but now experience has narrowed the companies to three. The orders are placed with the low bidder based on the quality as stipulated in the specifications. If substitutions are necessary, these must be equal in quality.

Tinner believes the board structure has been a great improvement. It gets more people involved, and has created better understanding among the volunteers as to what is being done, according to him. He believes there is more cooperation among the managers and most important, under the present structure, much less money is being spent.

The league now has umpire and managers clinics and this year, coaches and managers clinics are offered at King's College and at Dallas Junior High School.

LEN DORRANCE

Len Dorrance, vice president of sponsors, has been involved in the organization for 13 years. He has two daughters playing on Division I softball teams and a son playing T-Ball. He has an older daughter, who played in Division I and Division II softball. He managed a Boys Major League team, the Dodgers. He now umpires. This is his third year on the board as vice president of sponsors, a position almost self-explanatory. Get sponsors for the teams as well as for the field signs, paying sponsors.

Dorrance started as a team member in the 1950's for the Fernbrook team in Back Mountain Little League. The team was coached by Frank Hemingway and the late Harry "Porky" Martin. His wife, Alice, was in charge of the concession stand in 1985 and she also serves as a liaison between parents and team players.

"We have a dedicated group of volunteers, especially the coaches, managers and assistants," said Dorrance. "They are emphasizing sportsmanship, character, and some of the qualities used later in life, one of them lose as graciously as you win..."

BILL MICHAELS

Bill Michaels of Oak Hill is vice president of Teeners and also secretary of the Teeners League Baseball Inc., parent organization of all the Teeners teams in Wyoming Valley.

He has been in Back Mountain Baseball about 15 years. Michaels has always been active in athletics and at one time was president of Lake-Lehman Booster Club.

The father of four children, all of whom were involved in baseball or softball. Jimmy was in Little League and Teeners and All Scholastic and on the All-Star team when in high school. Susan, his daughter, was in the softball program; Allan was in Little League and Teeners as well as high school and now Robbie, the youngest, who was in Little League and Teeners, is on the high school varsity team.

Michaels is from Swoyersville where there was no Little League team but in 1950, the Teener League was incorporated by Ed Christian and his wife and Michaels played on it off one year.

Always a manager and always involved since his children became members of teams, he is now serving his third year on the board of directors. In his position as vice president of Teeners, he holds Teeners meetings the second Monday of every month to which all interested people are invited to attend and get information and offer suggestions and constructive criticism. All Teener managers are members of the board. Michaels is manager of the Lehman Cardinals.

He is presently in the process of requesting use of a College Misericordia field for this season since Lake-Lehman is reconditioning their field and not allowing outside organizations to use it until completed.

Michaels has alternated between Little League and Teeners from year to year. His wife, Irene, and Charlotte Slocum, were in charge of the Auxiliary who handled the refreshment stand.

Michaels enjoys being involved with the Back Mountain Baseball Inc. which he says has come a long ways as an organization. He believes the structure change is good and gives all young people an opportunity to come out and enjoy baseball. Michaels emphasizes the importance of team effort.

TAMMIE SUTTON

Tammie Sutton of Trucksville is vice president of softball. A graduate of Dallas, Class of 1982, Tammie played softball in Division II for three years and coached the Division I Pirates team for three years. She also played shortstop and outfield on the Dallas High School varsity for three years and now plays in an adult slo-pitch League.

This is her first year on the board and Tammie serves as a voice from the board to the softball coaches and managers and also as a representative of all the softball teams, players and adults, to the board. She handles all problems or disputes that arise.

"The girls get more recognition now," said Tammie. "Things are looking up."

BOB GRAVER

Bob Graver of Kingston Township is secretary of Back Mountain for Baseball Inc. This is his second year. Although his son is involved in soccer, Graver has coached for about seven years T-Ball, minor and major league teams.

He first became involved when his son, Christopher, started playing. Graver coached the Indian Major League team. When Christopher became interested in soccer, Graver continued with baseball.

As secretary, he takes minutes, records all team members in the association, sends their names as well as other reports to Williamsport, does all the publicity for the boys, although he has an assistant to help with the girls teams.

JOHN MASLEY

John Masley of Kingston Township has played in Little League in 1956 in Exeter as shortstop. He has been in the Back Mountain for about eight years and has coached the Shavertown American League Indians T-Ball, Oriole Minors and now manages the Indians Majors.

Masley first became involved when his sons went out for the teams. John, 14, now in Teeners and also catcher for Dallas Junior High team. His 12-year-old is on the Oriole Major team where he plays second or outfield.

This is Masley's second year as treasurer. His major responsibility is making certain there is enough income to pay all expenses. These include uniforms, equipment, insurance, field maintenance, etc. His wife, Rita, assists him by typing reports, making deposits and doing other financial tasks.

"We have been able to make more improvements to the field and we have no outstanding expense. We also have new equipment for the refreshment stand," said Masley. "We need cooperation from more volunteers instead of having to fall back on the same ones all the time. These are the volunteers dedicated to making your children's summer happy!"
