Offices opened

Dr. Christine Swatko and Dr. Eugene R. DeMinico announced last week the grand opening of their new office, the Dallas Chiropractic Center, in the Dallas Corners Building along the Dallas Memorial Highway.

The clinic, which will include two treatment rooms and one examination room, will provide complete physical examinations, laboratory work ups, specialized thermographic testing, nutritional counseling, scoliosis screening, physical therapy modalities and gentle spinal and extremity manipulation.

The two also have a main office located at 84-86 S. Main Street in Pittston, and it was there they developed a good working relationship which eventually led to the opening of the second office in Dallas.

"She specializes in women's treatment, but sometimes she would fill in for me in emergency situations and I would fill in for her in emergency situations," DeMinico said. "So we developed a good working relationship."

"Then one day she began talking about how nice it would be to open up a practice in Dallas. She is from that area and I'm from Pittston but I always thought it was a great area too. So I called Jay Ochreiter (owner of the Dallas Corners Building along with his wife Maria McGrane) to see if he had any space. He said he had two units available, so we came up and looked at them both and decided on this one."

"We have a lot of patients from the Dallas area," Swatko said. "So now it will be a lot easier for them to travel to their appointments. We'll just transfer their records up here."

The two will also have a referral system for those patients who come in for treatment but who may not fall under the care of the Chiropractic Clinic.

Dr. Swatko did her undergraduate studies at the University of Pittsburgh and King's College where she maintained honor standing and received recognition for her outstanding academic achievement. She attended the National College of Chiropractic in Lombard, Illinois, and received her Bachelor of Science in Human Anatomy and her Doctorate in Chiropractic Medicine in 1981.

She is a diplomate of the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners, a member of the American Chiropractic Society and Illinois Chiropractic Society.

Dr. DeMinico graduated with a B.S. Degree in Biology from King's College in 1974 and received a Masters Degree from Bloomsburg State College in 1975.

He also received his Doctorate Degree from the National College of Chiropractic in Lombard, Illinois, in 1979. During his studies at National, he also earned a second Bachelors Degree in Human Anatomy in 1977.

Dr. DeMinico is a member of the American Chiropractic Association, Pennsylvania Chiropractic Society, International Thermographic Society and a diplomate of the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners. He is also currently President of District 8 of the Pa. Chiropractic Society.

Back Mountain on the move

BRIDGETTE CORREALE, remember Bridgette? She used to write a column for The Dallas Post, she lived in Oak Hill and she had quite a following.

Bridgette's column was usually geared towards something horrendous that happened to her and her family, it was full of humor, always funny!

JEAN HILLARD

Two lovely ladies from Oak Hill, neighbors and friends of Bridgette's stopped by last week and wondered why I don't write about people in Oak Hill. We got into a conversation about Bridgette. First, let me say I love to write about people in Oak Hill. You inform me and I'll gladly inform everyone.

As for Bridgette, she now lives in Germantown, Tenn. with her husband and family. They own two restaurants, one is called "Brooklyn Bridge." Bridgette has made a couple of TV commercials and some ads. Her TV commercials were on pastas, spaghetti, noodles etc, and one on swimming pools.

Besides running two restaurants, working for a TV station, and taking care of her family, I know she's still laughing, also! Bridgette a big hello to you from all your friends, neighbors and past readers of your column in The Dallas Post.

DANIEL HOLDREDGE, son of Danold and Sharron Holdredge, Norton Avenue, Dallas, had the pleasure of being one of the Eagle Scouts that met with former President Ford last week. President Ford shook his hand, a moment Daniel will long remember.

Daniel is a 10th grade student at Dallas High School and we do congratulate him on being an Eagle Scout, one of the most prestigious ranks in scouting and one that is very hard to come by.

Daniel has two brothers, David, in 5th grade at Dallas (and also a Dallas Post delivery boy) and Donald Jr. who is in grade school at Dallas. Daniel also used to be a carrier of The Dallas Post.

CAROL ERTLEY, another Dallas resident, also met with former President Gerald Ford last week while he was in the area supporting the Holtzman campaign. It was an interesting event for many of our people.

It was my pleasure on Saturday to meet and shake hands with His Honor Joseph Cardinal Bernardin, Archbishop of Chicago. The Cardinal was at College Misericordia to address the graduates at commencement. (See related story in this issue of The Dallas Post.)

ELLEN NAGEY of Elmcrest, has been elected President of the Dallas Area Federated Womens Club for the 1986-87 club year.

Congratulations Ellen, I'm sure you will do a great job for both club and community as you put your leadership abilities to work.

AL AND MARGE DURAN, Haddonfield Hills, Dallas, welcome back. The Durans spent two weeks traveling and enjoying the warmer areas such as California, Chicago, and other places along the way. They flew out of our cool weather into warmer climates and Marge says it was a great trip now, they are opening their pool and ready for summer in Dallas.

TIMMY MADIERA, son of Pastor Dennis and Mrs. Lucille Madiera, and grandson of Mrs. Fuhrman of Idetown is in England doing a six week study in communications.

Timmy, who stole the hearts of many when he was so ill nearly two years ago, left last week to further his interest in communications. He will be staying with a family in England so that will be helpful. I must add Timmy is doing great now and I hear he gives his Dad a workout now. who wears out first Dad? The Madieras, a lovely family.

MARK RICE, remember Mark Rice? Son of Don Rice, the man with the ice cones and hot dogs etc. at all the fun places like the auction and flea markets and carnivals?

Well Mark has become quite an enterprising young man (in his early 20's). He has taken on the franchise of "Cocoon Pantyhose." If you see a rack of Cocoon stockings, be sure and try them, that's Mark's baby now. Mark is also the son of Mary Rice. Mary is a secretary for the Dallas Game Commission.

LYNN FLEMING of College Manor, Dallas, is home doing well. Lynn, the wife of Dan Fleming and mother of two lovely children, Brent and Jenny, had her tonsils out last week. No more sore throats now Lynn!

KIM THOMPSON, daughter of Ed and Theresa Thomposon of Haddonfield Hills, Dallas was a lucky winner in the Luzerne County Drug and Alcohol Essay Contest. Kim wrote an essay for her Health Class at Dallas which won her a $100 savings bond. Kim and her family were honored at a brunch at Gus Genetti's on Sunday where she received the bond. Congratulations Kim.

MADGE FAERBER, wife of Gus Faerber, Haddonfield Hills, and friend and neighbor to everyone she came in contact with, passed away Saturday afternoon in General Hospital. Our sincere sympathy to Mr. Faerber, the family and all her friends. Madge was a unique lady, to know her was to love her, she will be missed.

Entertainment

Magic 93, WMGS, is one of the more recent FM stations to hit the air waves of Northeastern Pa. It is a sister station to WARM, and both are part of the Susquehanna Broadcasting System located in York. The radio station is under the able leadership and guidance of Phil Condron, general manager, and Chris Norton, program director.

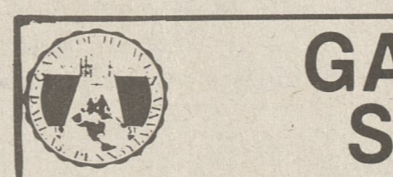

Magic 93 features an "adult contemporary" format. Recent promotions, including the Valentine's Day Give-Away, Genetti Dinner Theater Ticket Give-Away, and the Diamond Ring Give-Away, have been held to more directly involve the listening audience. Presently, the station is conducting a Listening Post Lunch Give-Away, through which listeners can be lucky winners three times every weekday.

WMGS also features the "Magic Hotline," whereby listeners can call 1-800 MGS 93-93 and make special requests for songs; favorite tunes of the 60s, 70s and 80s; DJ Carol Warholak's "Noon Classics"; and the "Magic of Romance," love song requests taken Sunday through Thursday 9-10 p.m., and then played in the 10 p.m.-12 time slot.

Kelly Reed and Fran Pantuso are two young ladies who act in the capacity of "disc jockeys" at Magic 93. Both are personable and highly qualified, characteristics essential in the radio broadcasting profession.

Kelly Reed is originally from New York City. At the early age of six, she received her first radio. A few years later, Kelly visited WNEW and she realized then that radio was going to be her niche in life. After graduating from Adelphi University (Long Island), she was employed at a public broadcasting station in the city and at WNEW as a traffic reporter. Prior to coming

MICHAEL FARRIS

LAST TUESDAY the seventh grade students went on a field trip to Offset Paperback Mfrs. Inc. As they toured the plant, the students saw publishing in action, from the first process to the completion of the book, even to the loading of the huge packs of books for distribution to national and international markets. Everyone was amazed at the size of the plant and the intricate workings involved in the publishing of the paperbacks.

MRS. UMPHREY'S third graders made pretty orange and clove pomanders as gifts for Mother's Day. Recently, they have been working on "Don't Litter" posters as a Social Studies project.

THE FIFTH GRADERS have just begun a school cookie sale to benefit to Magic 93, Ms. Reed worked at WKRZ. Kelly is on the air at WMGS from 6 p.m. to 12.

When asked about her present employment, Kelly stated: "One of the greatest advantages of working at Magic 93 - WARM is the great rapport between management and employees. It makes working there the Missions. The students will be selling homemade oatmeal cookies, as well as raisin and peanut butter flavors until May 27.

DURING THE PAST WEEKEND, four eighth grade students from Gate of Heaven School participated in a "Youth Explore Program" together with students from 11 other Mercy-sponsored schools and youth groups. As guests of St. Vincent's Rectory and St. Vincent's Convent of Mercy, Plymouth, the young people, chaperoned by seminarians from the Diocesan Seminary at Dalton, Pa. took part in a weekend of activities which included field trips to the Mercy Hospital, St. Vincent's Soup Kitchen and ended with the celebration of the Sacred Liturgy at Mercy Center Chapel, Dallas. The weekend of activities was planned to emphasize the need and the opportunities to act as Christian witnesses in service to others at home and in their parish. The students from Gate of Heaven who participated were Heidi Hagen, Tina Strom, Stephen Greger and Jack Jones.

(Debby Wysocki is the entertainment writer for The Dallas Post. Her column appears weekly.)

SPORTS DAY for Grades 1-2-3-4 was held on Saturday, May 17, in the school yard. It was a fun-filled event with many first, second and third place ribbons being distributed. Winners will be announced in next week's column.

THE ADMINISTRATION, faculty, staff and students convey our deepest sympathies to the Durkin Family on the death of their beloved Keefer and our beautiful friend of very happy memory. We will miss him very much.
