New Monarch

King's star athlete Kathy Walsh of Dallas tries out the "Monarch Look" on Dallas High School senior Kim Rinehimer. Walsh was picked Fourth Team All-American by the American Women's Sports Federation in basketball.

Students honored

Nine students out of the entire student body of approximately 300 fourth, fifth and sixth grade students at the Lake-Noxen Elementary School qualified for the President's Physical Fitness Award held last week under the direction of physical education instructor Dwight Barbacci. The students had to achieve at least 85 percent or more in the following physical fitness tests in order to qualify: 50 yard dash, mile run, standing broad jump, sit-ups, flexible arm hang and the shuttle run. Barbacci presented Certificates of Achievement to each of the nine students. Shown here accepting their awards are, from left, kneeling, Jeff Hosey, Brian Llewellyn, fifth grade; Jennifer Marcin, Gretcher Dersheimer, fourth grade. Standing, Vin Marcin, Lauren Frederick, Jenny Smith, Karen Holowich, Matt Cadwalder, sixth grade.

Dallas star enrolls at King's College

Dallas High School senior Kim Rinehimer has notified King's College women's basketball Coach Robin Cummins she plans to enroll at King's this fall.

A future Biology major, she plans to continue her athletic career in basketball and softball.

The Back Mountain resident is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Rinehimer, 165 Cedar Avenue, Shavertown.

At Dallas, she played basketball, softball and field hockey.

Kit Karuza, Dallas cage coach, commented: "Kim showed improvement each year during her career. She is an excellent passer who can work the ball inside to your center and forwards. An excellent defensive player, she always drew the top outside shooter of our opponents."

Coach Cummins observed: "I am very pleased Kim has decided to attend King's. She is a hard worker and dedicated in sports and in the classroom."

"She has the ability to be a threat at both ends of the basketball court and will definitely be a bonus to the softball team. She is another talented local who will add depth and improve the King's women's programs."

In basketball, Kim won three varsity letters. As a senior, she was team co-captain. During her junior year, she gained honorable mention from the Wilkes-Barre daily newspapers. As a senior, she averaged 10 points, 9 assists and 3 rebounds a game. She was selected MVP of the Tunkhannock Tournament. As a senior, she played in the East-West All-Star game, and was chosen to area all-star teams.

In softball, she was a three-year letter winner under Coach Jay Pope. She served as team co-captain in her junior and senior years. A second baseman, she batted .301 and helped Dallas become 1986 Wyoming Valley Conference Class AAA champs.

Under Coach Robyn Jones, she won two letters in field hockey. She was co-captain of the 1985 District 2 Class AA championship team. She was selected to the 1985 Dallas Unico East-West All Star team. She gained honorable mention to the 1985 Wyoming Valley Conference Field Hockey All-Star team.

George goes to Wilkes

Bill George, a standout running-back-linebacker for Lake-Lehman Area High School, has decided to enroll at Wilkes College to further his education and athletic career. George will be a candidate for the Colonels football squad under head coach Bill Unsworth this fall.

A three year letterman, George rushed for 640 yards this past season despite missing four games due to a severe back injury. The Lake-Lehman co-captain led Rich Gorgone's Black Knights to their first winning season in seven years in addition to gaining several all-star honors.

George, who served as class president in his junior year, also earned three letters in baseball and two letters in wrestling throughout his career at the Back Mountain school.

Wilkes opens its 1986 season on September 13 at Lebanon Valley College.

doubles, Kuznicki had one, Debbie Levi and Cindy Slocum one.

In the third inning the Knights led off with Kuznicki's single to left field. Sue Slocum hit a line drive to third but the throw to first to try to get Kuznicki was wild and she went to third. Lori Pantle went to first on a bunt which sent Kuznicki home and went to second on a bad throw to home plate. Wandel hit a double to left to score Pantle. With the score 2-0, Cindy Slocum walked and Levi hit a single to load the bases. With two out and Kelly Siglin at bat, Wandel scored on a wild pitch and Slocum came in when the Spartans catcher had an error on the throw to tag Wandel.

In the fourth inning with one out, Kuznicki walked but after Sue Slocum took first on a fielder's choice, Pantle walked. The Spartans catcher threw to third to try to get Slocum but the throw was wild and Slocum came home. Pantle went to third when Wandel hit her second double to score Pantle and Wandel came in on C. Slocum's single to left field.

The Knights scored their final three runs in the sixth inning with Pantle hitting an RBI single and Levi driving out a double to score two runs off relief pitcher Carol Skaulich.

The lone hit off Finn was a short single to right field by fielder Kathy Gardner. Finn struck out five and walked 10 but the strong Knights defense cut down any problems that could have been caused by the Spartans walks.

The win advanced the Lake-Lehman girls into the inter-district playoffs where they were scheduled to play Lackawanna Trail, Tuesday, June 3, at Kirby Park and if they win, face the winner of the District 3-District 11 game, Thursday, at a site not yet announced.

first inning when their rightfielder Tany Evania, lead-off, went to first when hit by a pitched ball. She stole second base and scored when Catcher Lori Bartleson's throw to second went into the outfield.

The Mountaineers came right back in their half of the first inning on Joyce Tinner's homerun to the fence in left field to tie it up at 1-1.

Dallas scored two runs in the third inning when Tracey Hunter led off with a triple and scored when Pitcher Shelly Essig bobbled Lisa Sharkness' bunt. Tinner knocked out a single to left field and Sharkness went to third. Tinner went to secondbase when leftfielder Anetnori's throw from the outfield went by the second baseman. Heidi Scholz hit a safety squeeze to load the bases and Tammy Daveski's sacrifice fly to centerfield made the score 3-1.

Cave had a no-hit game going into the fifth inning. She had given up only two ground balls until Tomko hit a single past Chris Legenz at third base with one out. Renee Genisini came in to run for Tomko, stole second and went to third on a wild throw. Genisini scored to put the score at 5-2 when Legenz' throw on a ground ball was too low. The Cougars scored two more runs in the sixth inning to make the score 5-4.

The Mountaineers scored their final two runs of the game in the bottom of the fourth inning when Tracy Cave went to first on a single to the outfield and Tracy Hunter hit a homerun to the outfield for two RBI's.

In Wednesday's game with Nanticoke Area at Kirby Park, the Dallas Mountaineers avenged their 5-2 loss to the Trojans during the regular season by taking a 6-2 win to clinch the Class AAA Wyoming Valley Conference title. The title game was played at Kirby Park with the win giving the Dallas softball team the chance to advance to Thursday's game with Valley View in the District 2 playoffs.

Mountaineer hurler Tracy Cave went all the way for the Mountaineers, fanning three and walking one. She gave up two runs to the Trojans in the top of the first frame when Sue Charnecki hit a high chopper to Joyce Tinner at short-stop to go to first on an infield single and take second on a passed ball. Sandy Kotch, designated hitter hit asingle to right field sending Charnecki to third and Kotch on first. Kotch stole second and Charnecki scored on a squeeze bunt by Maria Lutz. Trojan Karen Belles hit a long fly to centerfield, allowing Kotch to score the second run. The Trojans rally ended when Lori Lewis hit a line drive to Chris Legenz at third.

The lead didn't upset the Mountaineers, who came right back in the second inning to score two runs. Tammy Daveski led off with a triple to right-center. Lori Cave hit a pop fly to the shortstop but Kim Rinehimer drew a base on balls, then stole second. Chris Legenz laid down a bunt fielded by third baseman Denise Bertrand, who threw to first for the out. A bad throw to the catcher allowed both Daveski and Rinehimer to score.

In the fourth inning, the Trojans threatened to score but Lori Lewis was thrown out at home plate by Rinehimer. Lewis hit a double with one out and Bertrand hit a single to right field. Lewis could have scored but she stopped for a second going around third base and the Dallas defense got the ball to home plate to catch Lewis. Kelly Lewis hit the ball back to the mound to retire the side.

In the fifth inning, with two down Heidi Scholz went on first on an error by the shortstop Andrea Legins. Daveski hit a hard smash to the short stop but Legins couldn't make a play on it and Daveski took first, Scholz going to second. Lori Cave knocked out a single to right field to score Scholz and give the Lady Mounts a 3-2 lead.

The Mountaineers insured the game in the sixth inning when they scored three runs on four walks by Trojan hurler Lynn Rasmus. Two of the walks forced in runs and Scholz singled for the third run. Rasmus walked the first two batters up and Tracy Hunter beat out a bunt for a single. Heather Bachman, pinch hitter, struck out then Joyce Tinner walked to force in a run. Scholz singled to send in the second run then Daveski was out on a pop fly to first base. Lori Cave walked to send home Hunter for the third and final run of the game.

The Trojans rallied in the top of the seventh but with the bases loaded, Cave put the next three out with a pop fly and two infield grounders.

Whatever the final verdict, the NFL powers must recognize that its failure to expand, to put more professional teams in more deserving cities, is at the root of its problems with rival leagues. If the NFL refuses to give the people what they want - pro teams in cities that want and can support them - then it will have to periodically fight off new leagues that are prepared to do so.

If this lesson is not soon learned, the NFL will find itself in the USFL's cleats someday, no doubt. The NFL is trying to circumvent the supply and demand theory, the very same theory that put it where it is today.

If you can't lend your hand, then get out of the way, for the times are changing.

ALL STAR TEAM
I have taken it upon myself to select the first Dallas Post/ Rick Rogers Baseball All-Star team. Only members from Lake-Lehman and Dallas baseball teams are considered for this prestigious and high honor.

The only credentials required to make this team are a propensity to catch a baseball hit or thrown to you and the ability to scoot down the bench far enough to let a member of the fifth estate - the press - sit while covering the game. Seriously, Dallas and Lehman had some of the finest talent to be found in the Wyoming Valley Conference this year. The fact many of these players will be back next year can only heighten expectations in already solid programs.

Following are my All-Star selections: LP Brett Evans, LL, Soph; RP Mark Konopki, Dallas, Sr.; C John Wertman, Dallas, Jr.; 1B Tim Moyer, Dallas, Sr.; 2B Walt Konopke, LL, Jr.; 3B T.J. Perlis, Dallas, Jr.; SS Chris Landmesser, LL, Jr.; OF Ed Kwak, Dallas, Jr.; OF Todd Krupa, LL, Jr.; OF Rob Dombek, Dallas, Sr.; DH Jason Cadwalader, LL, Jr.
