Entertainment

With many readers of The Dallas Post planning summer vacations, this week's column will again focus on travel.

New York City and Los Angeles, without a doubt, are the entertainment capitals of the world. Since New York City is in such close proximity to Pennsylvania, many readers are familiar with what New York City has to offer.

For those considering a trip to the West Coast, the Movieland Wax Museum, Palace of Living Art, California DEBBEY WYSOCKI Plaza Restaurant, and the Stars Homes Sightseeing Tours are strongly recommended.

The Movieland Wax Museum is a delightful place for the whole family to enjoy a morning, an afternoon, or an evening. It is located in Buena Park, just outside of Los Angeles, and not far from Disneyland in Anaheim. To movie and TV fans of all ages, Movieland is a mecca. There visitors will find over 200 favorite stars in more than 90 authentically duplicated and unforgettable scenes.

The list of stars include Gloria Swanson, Burt Reynolds, Vincent Price, Cliff Robertson, Mae West, Roy Clark, Kirk Douglas, Gene Kelly, Rowan & Martin, Roy Rogers, Marlo Thomas, Robert Redford, Paul Newman, Laurel & Hardy, and Elizabeth Taylor, as they are immortalized forever at the Buena Park hall of fame.

The likenesses to the stars are startling and are incredibly realistic. The sets and costumes are breathtaking, and the authenticity is further enhanced with special animation, lights, and sound effects.

Visitors can actually walk through the twisted wreckage of the upside-down luxury liner featured in the "Poseidon Adventure," starring Gene Hackman and Ernest Borgnine. They can stand on the porch of a ranch house just inches from John Wayne, walk down the yellow brick road to Oz and find Dorothy, Scarecrow, Tin Man, and the Cowardly Lion, go through a sparkling, ice cold scene from "Doctor Zhivago," or cross the bridge of "Star Trek's" Enterprise.

Many authentic costumes at Movieland are originals from the film or TV show - Sophie Loren's tattered dress from "Two Women," Christopher Reeve's wardrobe from "Superman," Roy Clark's western suit, and Lawrence Welk's suit and even his baton from the show - all gifts from the stars.

Next door to Movieland and included in the price of admissions is the Palace of Living Art. Dozens of famous paintings and sculptures are reproduced and are on display including the "Mona Lisa," Michelangelo's "David" and "The Pieta."

Adjacent to the Palace is the beautiful outdoor restaurant with early California architecture, lush landscaping, colorful imported tile, and sparkling fountains called The California Plaza Restaurant. It is the very picture of what Southern California should be - relaxed outdoor dining and California sunshine. Selections on the menu include everything from unusual sandwiches to tempting desserts.

A trip to California would not be complete without the Stars Homes Sightseeing Tours. It is a comprehensive tour featuring magnificent mansions and hillside estates. The tour begins at Mann's Chinese Theater in Hollywood, proceeds along the Sunset Strip, and then on to Beverly Hills, Holmby Hills, and Bel Air.

Guides will point out sites used for location shooting in motion pictures and television shows, and over 80 star's homes. It is a tour any visitor to the Los Angeles area would not want to miss.

(Debby Wysocki is the entertainment writer for The Dallas Post. Her column appears weekly.)
