Cool spot

What's a hot summer day or even a library auction with an ice-cream cone? The first few days of the auction proved to be hot enough for people to stand in line at the Hillside Farms Dairy ice cream truck parked on the auction grounds.

Kelly wins first place

Beth Kelly of Shavertown, recently won first place in the Back Mountain Memorial Library's "Design a Bookstore Bookmark Contest." The contest was sponsored by the Volunteer Department to promote the bookstore. The winning entry will become the official bookmark of the bookstore. Chosen from 275 entries for its overall concept and slogan, the bookmark depicts a spaceship leaving the library and states, "Books Go Everywhere." Miss Kelly entered the contest through the Lehman Jackson Elementary School where she is a third grade student. Senator Charles D. Lemmond, Jr. of Dallas, made the award presentation during the Library's auction. A personal letter of congratulations was received by each winner from the Senator in addition to prizes given by the library. Other winners include: second place, John Lamela, grade 5 of Sweet Valley; honorable mentions to: Marybeth Jenkins, grade 6, of Shavertown; Allen Raczkowski, grade 4, Hunlock Creek; Dianne Jones, grade 2, of Shavertown; and Bradley Dieffenbacher, grade 1, of Chase. All winning entries will be on display in the Bookstore which is open to the public on a daily basis.

Book chairman

And, what's a Library Auction without Mrs. Crump - NOTHING! Here, Florence Crump, who has been dubbed the Grand Lady of the Library by The Dallas Post, stand in front of her baby, the Book Booth. Mrs. Crump has served as chairman of the Book Booth for years now and plays a very important role in the success of the auction.

Entertainment

Whether living in Dallas, PA, or Dallas, TX, people everywhere tend to share similar thoughts and feelings.

They are bored with TV and its reruns; they are tired of the usual local happenings, and they need a change of scenery. It's human nature to look for ways to be entertained whether by other people or by experiencing new places.

More often than not, people get that sudden urge to just jump in their car and go for a drive, destinations often unknown to them. Because of economic reasons, many just spend vacation time going on one-day trips, or perhaps taking that last one-day trip before summer ends. A so-called "sudden urge"? A planned one-day trip? There are destinations within reasonable distance that may be worth considering.

Olde Lafayette Village is located in Lafayette Township, in Lafayette County, New Jersey. Just hop on Interstate 80 (East), take Route 15 Exit 34 (North), travel a few miles, and in two hours you are there! Olde Lafayette Village is a center that features shopping in quaint specialty shops. It is modeled after an early New England village and is beautifully landscaped. The shopping village is best compared to such tourist attractions as Peddlers Village, the Historic Towne of Smithville, and Olde Mystic Village.

For those who prefer a colonial atmosphere, there is Waterloo Village located in Stanhope, New Jersey. Waterloo Village offers visitors the opportunity to explore an 18th century village replete with restored shops and colonial era homes. Tours are available with costumed guides, and candle-dipping, weaving, and other crafts are demonstrated. Tourists can also wander on their own through the historic gristmill, apothecary and blacksmith shops, the general store, or the Township Tavern. Just take Interstate 80 to 206 North (Exit 25), and follow the signs to the village!

These two villages are appealing to adults, but what about the youngsters? In the general areas of Olde Lafayette and Waterloo Villages are found Space Farms Zoo & Museum and Fairy-Tale Forest. Space Farms, Zoo & Museum is located on Beemerville Road in Sussex, New Jersey, just 20 minutes away from Olde Lafayette Village. It features 500 animals, seven museum buildings, restaurant, gift shop, and picnic areas. Space Farms offers hands-on experience with animals, a large collection of wild animals and birds as well as classic automobiles and carriages, Indian artifacts and dolls.

For families with younger children, the prime attraction is Fairy-Tale Forest, where children's stories come to life. The park consists of 20 acres of enchanted woodland, an air conditioned snack bar, picnic area, and souvenir shop. Kiddie rides such as the Candy Rock Line train ride, the Merry-ground, and Fire-engine are available. The many attractions include Humpty Dumpty, Mother Goose, Rapunzel, Little Red Riding Hood, Jack 'n the Beanstalk, Snow White, Cinderella, Hansel and Gretel, 3 Little Pigs, Little Miss Muffet, Mary, Mary Quite Contrary, Old Woman 'n Shoe, Goldilocks, and Rumpelstiltskin. Also featured are Candy Land, Rabbit School, 3 Ring Circus (animated), Swiss Village, Dragon & Knight, Davy Crockett, Robin Hood, and Santa's Workshop (animated).

Flea market held

A flea market, located at one corner of the auction grounds, proved to be a rather successful venture as these volunteer workers were kept busy throughout most of the five days, selling used goods to treasure seekers.
