

Penn State Day set

Dallas Borough is helping Penn State Wilkes-Barre celebrate its 70th Anniversary by proclaiming Thursday, Sept. 18 Penn State Day in the Back Mountain community. Dallas Mayor Paul LaBar says the borough is glad to be a part of the celebration that will begin with a giant birthday party on Public Square in Wilkes-Barre and end with a family picnic on the campus in Lehman. Dallas is the first of many communities expected to join in the celebration. Shown are members of the Dallas Borough Council and the Penn State Wilkes-Barre Special Events Committee as they witness the presentation of the Penn State Day proclamation by Mayor LaBar to Rev. Lynn Rothrock, Penn State Wilkes-Barre Advisory Board member at a recent borough council meeting. Front row, from left, are George Pyle, Penn State Wilkes-Barre; Don Shaffer, Dallas Council President; Rev. Lynn Rothrock, Penn State Wilkes-Barre, Advisory Board member; Paul LaBar, Dallas Borough Mayor; Byron Grieves, Councilman; John Fine, Borough Solicitor; and Carole Pyle, Penn State Wilkes-Barre. Second row, Priscilla Allison, Penn State Wilkes-Barre; Timothy Carroll, Councilman; Ted Montross, Councilman; Harold Brobst, Councilman; Russ Stone, Councilman; Tom Bagley, Borough Secretary and Bill Berti, Councilman.

Library news

By NANCY KOZEMCHAK

We will have on display in our upright case in the lobby of the library for the next three months a collection of fancy miniature soaps borrowed from Yvonne Hando from Lehman Avenue in Dallas.

Yvonne is 13 years old and in the 9th grade at Dallas Junior High. She has been collecting these soaps at various gift shops while shopping during her travels for about six months. She has loaned us 52 of these soaps which are all scented.

Many of the soaps are seashells and I had to look up the names of some of them. After just having had a 3 month display of shells, I should have remembered their names; however, I didn't. There is a white sand dollar, a green snail shell, a purple scallop shell, an aqua starfish, red puppy, yellow duck, green Christmas tree, blue bear, chocolate candy bear, pink rabbit, orange swan, red heart, chocolate candy drop, pink balloon, red strawberry; to name a few. On top of the display is a large pink scallop shell. These soaps make a very nice display and are already attracting attention. They will be at the library until November 30.

The Book Club will hold its first meeting of the new season on Monday, Sept. 15 at 1:30 in the reference room of the library.

This will be a joint meeting with the Garden Club who's president, Mrs. Frederick Anstett, will conduct a short business meeting before the program. Mrs. Florence Crump will preside at the Book Club meeting and invites members and guests to attend this meeting. Mrs. Isabelle Robinson, program chairman of the Garden Club has planned an interesting program. Refreshments will be served.

One of the posters which I have collected at the American Library Association conference in New York City is now hanging on our bulletin board. It features the Dell Yearling Classics which is a distinguished new imprint, featuring works of literary merit by English and American classic and contemporary writers.

These classics will give a child a library to delight in year after year with titles such as: Eight Cousins, Five Little Peppers, Hans Brinker, The Prince and the Pauper, Rose in Bloom, Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm and Little Lord Fauntleroy. These are stories that have been loved for generations.

Took a quick trip out to the Fall Fair with a friend last week after bowling just in time to catch the second show performed by Boxcar Willie and the Texas Trainmen. He does a terrific impression of a whistling choo choo and sang some well-loved country and western songs. There were throngs of people there and the weather was just about perfect.

A young child was leaving the children's room with her selection of books and told us about the Cookie Monster and Big Bird of Sesame Street doing a television appearance about libraries. She was quite impressed and came to our library from Shickshinny for a visit.

Webspinners plan Open House

The Webspinners Square Dance Club of Trucksville will conduct an Open House on Monday, September 15.

Anyone interested in learning modern Western Square Dancing will be given an opportunity to see demonstrations of this form of recreation and also to take part in the activity. The evenings will be geared to presenting those with no knowledge of square dancing with a chance to enjoy an evening of fun participation in this activity. Starting time for both evenings will be 8 p.m.

Square dance lessons will begin on Monday, September 22, from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Members of the Webspinners Square Dance Club will assist the class members in their adventure into one of the oldest and fun-filled pasttime. The class will be taught by club caller Andy Glowach.

Classes in advanced dancing will continue this season on Wednesday evening, starting on September 10, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Club dances will be held on September 20 from 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. All classes and dances will be conducted in the educational building of the Trucksville United Methodist Church on Church Road in Trucksville.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Andy or Barbie Glowach at 696-1093.
