Social Security news

People in the Wilkes-Barre area who are thinking about retiring at the end of the year should seriously begin making plans now, Thomas P. Lavelle, Social Security manager in Wilkes-Barre, said recently.

And, these plans should include Social Security, Lavelle said. There are several considerations.

A person who plans to retire before 65 should know that if he or she plans to start getting Social Security benefits, these benefits will be reduced. Social Security benefits are permanently reduced for people who start getting them between 62 and 65.

The amount of the reduction depends on the number of months benefits are received before 65. Also, benefits can be paid only for months the person is eligible throughout the entire month. This means that unless a person is born on the first or second day of a month, he or she cannot receive a benefit for the month of his or her 62nd birthday.

Also, a person who applies for benefits before 65 generally cannot get benefits for any month before the month he or she applies. A person who applies after reaching 65 can get benefits for up to 6 months before the month of application but not before the month he or she became 65.

Other factors can influence a person's decision about retirement. Availability of a company pension can influence the decision. So can the person's ability to continue working.

Once a person decides to retire, he or she should contact Social Security two or three months before the month benefits are to start. And, even if a person has not retirement plans, he or she should apply for Medicare health insurance two or three months before his or her 65th birthday to arrange for this protection.

A person needs certain information when applying. This includes:

— His or her Social Security card or a record of the number.

— Proof of date of birth, preferably an official record of birth or baptism recorded before age 5.

— For W-2 or self-employment tax return, including Schedule SE for the previous year.

A person should not delay applying if all this information is not available. Call the Wilkes-Barre Social Security office. The people there may be able to suggest other evidence that may be used. A free leaflet, "Thinking about retiring?", is also available at the office, located at 20 N. Pennsylvania Ave., Room 2227 Penn Place, Wilkes-Barre. The telephone number is 826-6371.
