Jones, Denmon pick up six to remain in tie for first place slot

Jack Jones and Charlot Denmon each picked up six victories this week while dropping only two contests to remain at the top of the list of The Dallas Post prognosticators with identical 17-4 slates.

Denmon and Jones both missed the Lake-Lehman-Hanover Area game, remaining true blue to the Black Knights in their 13-7 loss to the Hawkeyes. Denmon also missed the Notre Dame-Michigan State Game as the Fighting Irish was defeated, 20-15 while Jones missed the Dallas-Meyers game where the Mohawks recorded a 32-14 victory.

GoalPOST Petie moved into second place with a 15-6 slate, winning four and dropping just as many this week. Dotty Martin picked up six victories this week, including being the lone winner in the Hanover-Lake-

Lehman game, to move into third place with a 14-7 slate while John Hoinski and John Oliver are now tied at 13-8, each winning four and losing four this week.

In local high school contests this week, the Black Knights of Lake-Lehman get the nod over struggling Bishop O'Reilly team while the prognosticators are split on the Dallas-Tunkhannock game which seems to be a pretty evenly matched contest.

Panther Valley is a unanimous winner over winless West Side Tech while the ever-dominant Wyoming Seminary team is picked to handily defeat Peddie.

In college contests, the favorites are picked this week with Penn State, Pittsburgh and Notre Dame all expected to defeat East Carolina, West Virginia and Purdue respectively.

Trio plans major changes at Back Mountain bowling alley

By CHARLOT M. DENMON
Staff Correspondent

Bonomo's Sports Center, Memorial Highway, Dallas, will soon have a large sign mounted on the roof of the bowling lanes with the name "Back Mountain Bowl," the name selected by new owners Barry Finn, Jim Shepherd and Bill Goldsworthy.

The co-owners Finn and Shepherd, brothers; and Goldsworthy, their cousin, will finalize the purchase of the sports complex, including bowling lanes, tennis court, and the home occupied by Anthony Bonomo, Jr., on Tuesday, Sept. 30. The business will be conducted under the corporate name, Back Mountain Bowling, Inc., with Barry Finn, president; Jim Shepherd, vice president; and Bill Goldsworthy, secretary-treasurer.

All three owners are natives of West Pittston, all are married and are fathers of young children.

Finn is married to the former Carla Agresti of Swoyersville. They have a two-year-old son, Paul. Barry is a weatherman with WNEP-TV/Channel 16 and also owns a weather forecasting station which provides services to approximately a dozen stations throughout Pennsylvania. Shepherd is married to the former Elaine Lumley of Exeter. He is a patrolman in West Wyoming and also owns and operates Jim's Guns in West Pittston where he sells police equipment and guns. He and Elaine are the parents of two sons, Jim, Jr., age six; and Bryan, age four.

Goldsworthy is married to the former Jannet Klick. He is vice president of Golden Business Machines, Kingston. He and Jannet have a son, Brandon, age five, and a daughter, Carrie Ann, age two and a half.

Finn explained that he had been interested in owning a bowling center for years. "When I was about eight years old, I went with my grandfather to Modern Lanes and spotted the pins for him. I thought it was great and have been interested in bowling ever since," said Finn.

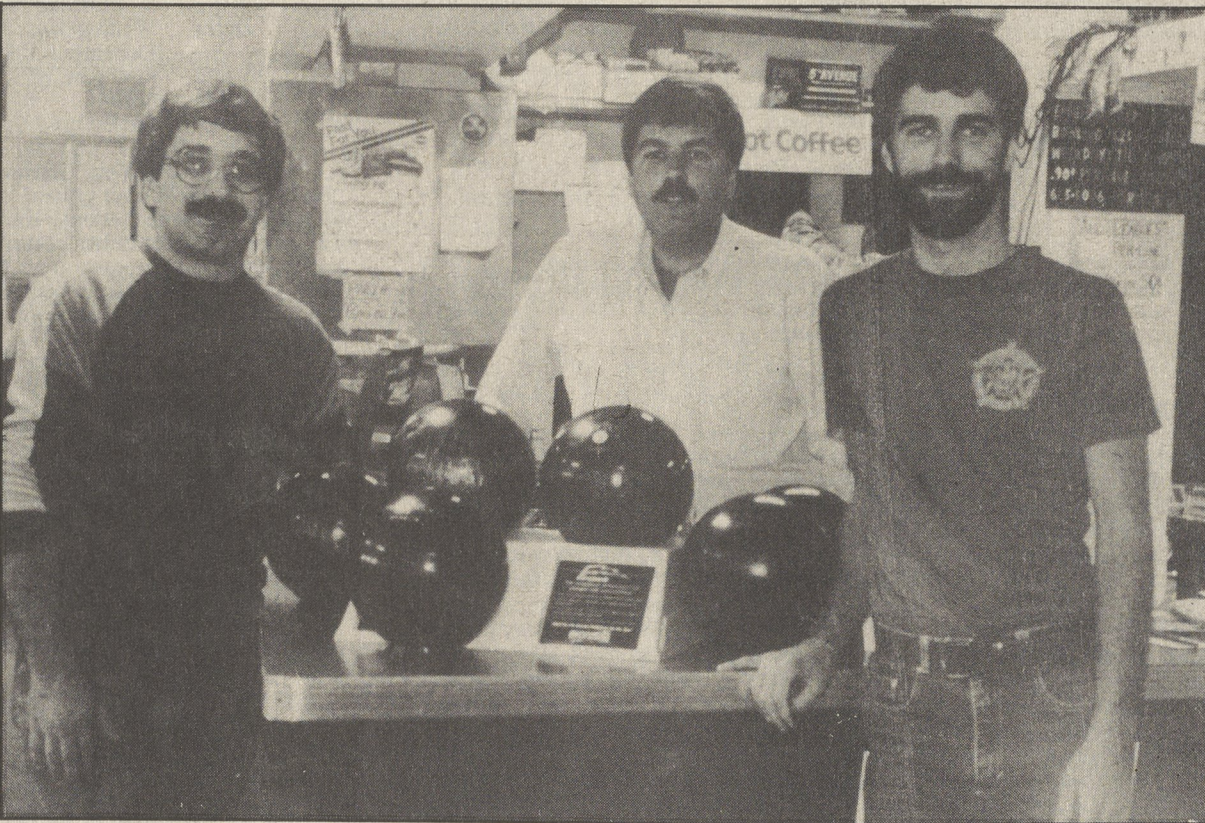

Finn left this area and WNEP-TV several years ago to move to Minneapolis. When he and his family decided to return to the area from Minneapolis, he was asked to return to Channel 16, which he agreed to do on a part-time basis.

After returning to this area, Finn heard about Tony Bonomo, Sr.'s death and talked to his brother, Jim, about the possibility of purchasing Bonomo's Lanes. Jim was interested so the two brothers talked to the Bonomos. Then their cousin Bill indicated that he also was interested so the three men initiated negotiations with the Bonomo brothers and before long both parties came to an agreement.

New hours are in effect at the lanes which are now open from 10 a.m. to midnight, Monday through Saturday, and from 11 a.m. to midnight, Sunday. New rates for senior citizens are available and the formation of a new senior citizens league will be announced in the near future. There are also special rates for students and Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., anyone may bowl for 90 cents a line or threegames for $2.50.

Several new bowling events have been announced including moonlight bowling every Saturday night; Rock and Bowl with live disk jockeys every Saturday from 11 p.m. to 3 a.m., and a Youth League beginning Saturday, Oct. 11. The new owners also offer Birthday Bowling Parties complete with cake, pizza and soda. Information on any of these events are available at the lanes.

New owners

Bowling news

The first Saturday night's special events at the Back Mountain Bowl, Memorial Highway, Dallas, were termed a success by the new management following Sept. 20 Moonlight Bowling and Rock & Roll. The owners gave out at least 15 free passes to the bowlers, who were successful in chalking up strikes with either the red or blue pins coming up as head pins. Both events went over so well that following this weekend's 9-Pin Tournament, the owners will hold the events again Saturday, Oct. 4.

Both men and women bowlers in the Back Mountain Bowl Lanes are finding a big difference in their scores since new pins have been put on the lanes.

In the Ladies Country League, Back Mountain Bowl girls took three points from the Castlettes to stay half game in front of Grotto Pizza, who shut out Fashin Vending. G.H. Harris picked up two and a half points from Gordon Insurance led by E. Roberts 185-170 (489) and L. Maciejczak's 178 (477). S. Spencer rolled 185 for the insurance team. K. Scavone's $75 aided the Back Mt. Bowl team to three points from Castlettes while A. Tregan's 190-199 (515) led the pizza girls. The vending team had D. Balliet's 192.
