Although she eats out often, Pauline Roth still likes to cook her specialties

By CHARLOT M. DENMON
Staff Correspondent

Pauline Roth of Dallas has a busy schedule every day of the week. In addition to working daily in the Roth Jewelry business, she is also active in the various activities in Prince of Peace Episcopal Church where she and her husband are members.

In addition to assisting with such events as the Antique Show and Sale held annually, craft shows and other events throughout the year, Pauline is a member and treasurer of the Episcopal Church Women and also serves on the Altar Guild.

The former Pauline Shaver, Pauline and her husband, Ed, are owners of the Oscar Roth Jewelry Shop which was formerly owned by Ed Roth's father, the late Oscar Roth. For years, the jewelry shop was located in the United Penn Bank Building in Wilkes-Barre but a number of years ago the store was re-located to Memorial Highway, Dallas, because so many of their customers were residents of the local area and the West Side.

In addition to her daily work in the shop and her church work, Pauline also enjoys playing bridge and is a member of several bridge clubs. She and her husband also bowl in a Sunday night mixed league in the Dallas lanes.

The Roths are parents of one son, Jim, who is associated with them in the jewelry business. Since Jim is married, Pauline does not have to prepare as many meals as she used to and she and Ed enjoy dining out after working all day in the business.

She enjoys cooking, however, and particularly likes to prepare their favorites such as the recipes she shares with Dallas Post readers this week. These are recipes easy to prepare and relatively inexpensive and are ideal for a family dinner or when serving guests.

CHICKEN DIVAN

Remove skin, debone and place in large pieces over top of broccoli. Combine mayonnaise, lemon juice, curry powder, soup and sherry and mix well. Busy lady

Pauline Roth spends most of her week in their family jewelry business on Memorial Highway, Dallas, but still finds time to prepare family and friends favorites for evening dinners or for entertaining.

New building

Shown here is the new home of the Mary Taylor Hair & Skin Care Center which is being constructed near the Rollaway skating rink on Route 415 in Dallas.

New home being constructed for Taylor Hair & Skin Care Center

The new building under construction adjacent to the Rollaway Skating Rink is the future home of Mary Taylor's Hair & Skin Care Center. When completed, the 1200 square foot modern building will be the new location for Mary Taylor's Dallas Center.

The Dallas Center, now located at 28 Lake Street, is not large enough to provide complete family service, so Ms. Taylor felt it necessary to move into a larger facility.

The new Hair and Skin Care Center will be equipped with six stations and a skin care area and will provide a wide range of services. In addition to the fully trained professionals who are employed at the center, Mary Taylor will be there one day a week.

The interior will be finished in emerald green and champagne and will be the largest and most modern designed salon in the Back Mountain. Samuel J. Marranca is the general contractor with the interior appointments by Pyros.

The present Dallas Hair and Skin Care Center on Lake Street will continue in operation until the new building is completed. Completion is tentatively scheduled for November.

The location on Lake Street, which has been operated by Mary Taylor for the past 12 years, will then become the Taylor business headquarters for the four fair hair and skin care centers in Dallas, Trucksville, Kingston and Hanover, and Taylor Marketing as well.

Library news

By NANCY KOZEMCHAK
Library Correspondent

The Back Mountain Memorial Library Book Club held its first meeting of the fall season on Monday in the reference room.

The members of the Garden Club of Wyoming Valley had been invited to attend the meeting as guests. Between the two clubs, there were 35 women attending what turned out to be a truly marvelous meeting incorporating two special subjects, flowers and books.

Mrs. Florence Crump conducted a short Book Club meeting followed by a shorter meeting of the Garden Club with Mrs. Frederick Anstete presiding. Several members of the Garden Club brought special flowers and plants with them and gave interesting talks regarding them.

Mrs. Isabelle Robinson was program chairman for the Garden Club and presented two rare flowers to the library, a Hibiscus and a special lily. Mrs. Harold Phillips gave an interesting and informative talk on Garden Wars, how the force is with the plants as they battle for survival with secret chemical weapons and strange alliances.

Refreshments were served following the program with Isabelle Robinson representing the Garden Club and Elin Northrup from the Book Club. We felt we had set up enough chairs for this meeting, but as the members kept arriving, we kept going for more chairs. Thank heaven for our new library chairs in the reading room. They were put to a good test for this meeting.

Our display of fancy soaps is attracting much attention. Most people are surprised to see the many unusual shapes that soaps are made into. Two women arrived one afternoon and were just browsing around the library. It seems this was their first visit to our library and they had read about the soaps in the paper and decided to drive out to see them and have a tour of the library at the same time. They were from Kingston and Pittston.

The library staff was saddened this past week to learn of the passing of a very special library borrower, Mrs. Marion Pool of Newberry Estates. We were fortunate to have been able to borrow on our interlibrary loan system, talking books for Mrs. Pool which she thoroughly enjoyed. These are just one more element of learning material available through our library.

Mrs. Crump was back in the library later in the week and spotted two cookbooks which she had not seen before at the front desk.

The one book, "Two's Company" by Bev Bennett was a special cookbook for couples and she found a recipe for Strawberry-Rhubarb Clafouti. Sounded very good, the trouble was, what does Clafouti mean? We had to drop everything right then and there and do some research to find the meaning. Believe me, it was difficult. That word is not in your ordinary dictionary so we decided to try other cookbooks. Marilyn and I spent a while and found it in James Beard's book on food and the Art of French Cooking. Clafouti is similar to a flan, which is similar to a tart. Dedicated research does pay off most of the time.
