Meetings are resumed

Regular monthly meetings of the Kingston Township Crime Watch Organization resumed on Monday, Sept. 29, at 8 p.m. Crime Watch Coordinator, Harold Shelly, invited all officers, block captains, sector coordinators, as well as the general public to this meeting.

Plans were formulated for the Neighborhood Watch to be expanded into various areas of the Township. Coordinator Shelly also discussed plans for increasing community involvement in the program.

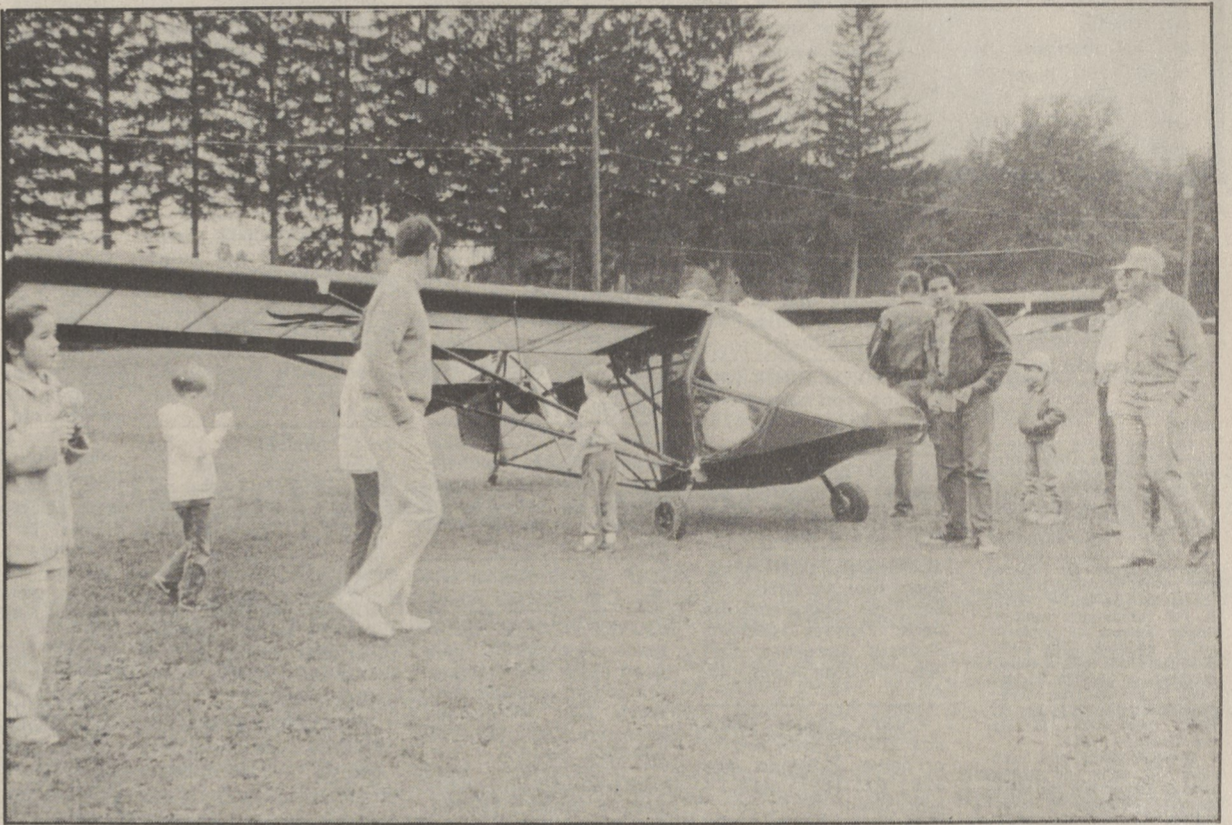

The public was urged to attend this important meeting and to become involved in the Kingston Township Crime Watch Program. The meeting was held in the community meeting room of the Kingston Township Municipal Building, 11 Carverton Road, Trucksville.

Up, up and away

A very small portion of the large crowd of people who gathered at College Misericordia Sunday for the Great Balloon Race prepare to ride one of the balloons. The balloon, which maintains ground contact with a rope, was available for anyone interested to go for a short ride.

These teams will compete against each other until the two best teams are found. These two teams will compete in a championship match. The team that wins will receive trophies for each team member. Good luck to the students participating in the relays.

THE 1986-87 STUDENT COUNCIL ELECTIONS were held the first week of school at Gate of Heaven. Officers were elected from the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. There were four officers elected from each class. The students from each class are:

8th grade: President, Susan Ryan; vice-president, Kathy Hughes; secretary, Janee Mattay; treasurer, Chirs Scott; teacher, Mr. Simon.

7th grade: President, Suzanne Stair; vice president, Carrie Reid; secretary, Amy Alles; treasurer, Christine Stuart; teacher, Mrs. McCarthy.

6th grade: President, Maria Farris; vice president, Keith Jones; secretary, Matt Bogdan; treasurer, Kerry Versari; teacher, Ms. Wycocki.

6th grade: President, Megan Heffron; vice president, Patricia McGovern; secretary, Brian Jezuit; treasurer, Tara Bradbury; teacher, Mrs. Rutkowski.

All the students join in congratulating our new student council.

THIS YEAR, we are happy to open a kindergarten class. The children are enthusiastic about their new friends and are looking forward to many more learning experiences with their teacher, Mrs. Ghanam, who is also new to the school.

STUDENT OF THE WEEK: Bill Austin, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Austin, is the student of the week. He resides in Sweet Valley. His hobbies are skateboarding, freestyling and skiing. He also enjoys basketball. His favorite subject in school is math.

When Bill graduates from Gate of Heaven, he plans to attend Bishop O'Reilly High School.

ENTERTAINMENT

THE 38TH ANNUAL EMMY AWARDS CEREMONY was telecast from the Pasadena Civic Auditorium by NBC on September 21, 1986, with network stars David Letterman and Shelley Long serving as hosts.

Guest presenters included Philip Michael Thomas, Cybil Shepherd, Bruce Willis, Beatrice Arthur, Angie Dickinson, Stacy Keach,

DEBBEY WYSOCKI

Michael J. Fox, Ali MacGraw, Joan Collins, Raymond Burr, Milton Berle, Joan Rivers, Barbara Eden, Gene Barry, Howie Mandell, Linda Grey, Tony Danza, John Ritter, Harry Anderson, Jack Paar, Billy Crystal, Michele Lee, Steve Allen, Stephanie Zimbalist, Efram Zimbalist Jr., Tom Selleck, Robert Wagner, Angela Lansbury, and Linda Evans. Lucille Ball, also a

presenter, paid special tribute to comedian Red Skelton, this year's recipient of the prestigious Governor's Award.

The awards show was again produced by Alexander Cohen and his wife, Hildy Parks, and directed by Jeff Margolis.

This year Parks created a celebration of television's contribution to the language with a multitude of TV stars presented on tape and in person. Production numbers were kept to a minimum with the exception of Shelley Long's musical salute to the progress of women in television.

Instead of saving major awards for last, this year's Emmy broadcast featured them throughout the show. Awards were given in groups of four with a generous sampling of clips from the programs and its stars. As for total awards, NBC took 19 of 31 awards, CBS took 10, and ABC and PBS had one each on a show which was surprising for its pace and taste; and above all, it finished on time.

The series most lauded with top honors at the prime time Emmy ceremony were CBS's "Cagney & Lacey," and NBC's "St. Elsewhere" and "The Golden Girls." Although it received 16 nominations, more than any other show, ABC's "Moonlighting" won only a technical award for editing which was announced weeks earlier.

CBS's "Cagney & Lacey," about two women detectives, won for best drama series for the second straight year.

"It was a lovely sweep," said Ms. Gless of her show's winning four Emmys. Sharon Gless was not only "the luckiest girl in the world," as she referred to herself, but also the most patient as she finally won the Emmy Award for Outstanding Lead Actress in a Drama Series. "This was part of my dream. I love this business...I love all of you," said Sharon as she held the statuette high above her head.

Gless plays Sgt. Christine Cagney, the NYPD detective partner of Lacey (Tyne Daly) in the CBS series. Ms. Daly's husband, Georg Stanford Brown, won for best director on "Cagney & Lacey," and John Karlen, who plays Daly's husband Harvey on the series, won for best supporting actor in a drama series.

For the second year, William Daniels, Dr. Mark Craig, of NBC's "St. Elsewhere," was honored for outstanding lead actor in a dramatic series, and his wife, Bonnie Bartlett, was honored as best supporting actress in a dramatic series for her work on the same show.

"The Golden Girls" was a big winner capturing laurels in the best comedy, actress (Betty White), and writing categories.

Also winning the series category were Michael J. Fox of NBC's "Family Ties" (best actor, comedy), and Rhea Perlman of NBC's "Cheers" (supporting actress, comedy). NBC's "Hallmark Hall of Fame: Love is Never Silent" won as best drama special, and NBC's "Peter the Great" as best miniseries.

Marlo Thomas received an Emmy for best actress in a special or miniseries for "Nobody's Child" and Dustin Hoffman was best actor for "Death of a Salesman," both on CBS.
