Miers and students
Cal Miers, Master of the Martial Arts, with four of his students:

Mike Zytorsky, Chris Mack, Tony Klukosky, Bill Breeden and Cal Mier's "Sen-Si."

Miers will display Karate at festival

Cal Miers, a resident of Shavertown, has been studying Karate for 18 years. Starting at the Sembach School, he was trained in the basics of Karate, and stayed on as an instructor. He was with the Sembach School for 12 years.

During that time he began study with the "Sen-Si" (or instructor) Loveret in San Diego, California. Cal continues to travel across the country to work toward his Fourth Degree Black Belt, earned by levels of skill and the taking on of students.

Sen-Si Loveret received his training in Japan. He and Cal have been working together for 10 years.

Cal opened his own school five years ago called "The Nin Ja Do Jo" School in Kunkle. The school then moved to Wyoming Ave., Kington and he now offers classes in his own home.

He has four students who have been with him for some time. Mike Zytorsky has been with him for seven years and holds a Brown Belt. Three other students hold Green Belts. Cal feels it is difficult to work with more than four students at one time. Karate is something you have to which you have to make a real commitment.

After teaching the sport for many years, Cal feels that age seven is the earliest age at which to start a child who is interested. A child often lacks the necessary concentration. Karate is a sport that not only requires concentration but discipline and plenty of practice. Cal's students meet with him daily.

Cal and his students can be seen exhibiting their skill at the Luzerne County Folk Festival, Saturday, Family Day, Oct. 18, at 4 p.m.

Family Day is devoted strictly to children from 12:45 until 5 p.m.

Also featured in the program will be Ballet Northeast, presenting excerpts from the Nutcracker, Peter Degnan, Director; The Little Theatre will enact a German folk tale, "The Musicians of Bremen Town," Elaine Politis, Director; The Polish National Alliance Dancers, Sylvia Zula, Director, Group 299 from Warrior Run; Kay Jewell, will tell Indian Folk Tales & Lore; The Karate Exhibition, Cal Miers, Instructor; the Joan Harris Dance School and the Wanderings, a Gypsy variety show.

Mickey Mouse and his friends will be on hand to pass out free balloons. Workshops will be offered to teach the children crafts of Germany, Poland, Japan and America. They can take home as a memento of the Festival free of charge.

The Festival offers something for everyone, with displays of family treasures handed down through the generations from all parts of the world, to the cuisine of the East, Africa, Europe and America, and the International Folk Dance Companies performing each day of the festival.

Tickets are $3.50 at the door, $2.50 in advance, (advance tickets may be purchased from any participating group), children 12 to 16, $1.00 and children under 12 free when accompanied by an adult.
