Dawn Campbell weds

Mr. and Mrs. Dale R. Campbell, Dallas, announce the marriage of their daughter, Dawn Elaine, to George Anthony Blom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen Blom, Plainsville.

Reverend Robert L. Benson performed the double-ring ceremony in the Dallas United Methodist Church. Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wolfe, and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Campbell. Grandparents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Attilio Tontini and Mrs. Olga Blom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown designed by Private Label of white crystallite organza. It featured a high crown collar, Juliet sleeves, basque waist covered with pearls and venice lace; her train fell into a triad of ruffles from the waist; her wreath was of silk flowers and illusion dotted with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses, white miniature carnations, and white baby breath accented with variegated ivy.

The bride chose her sister Dwin Ellen Campbell as her maid of honor. She carried a small cascade of orchid miniature carnations, statice, and whit daisies accented with baby breath in a gown of lavender swirl and satin with a scooped neck and small pouff sleeves and floor length skirt trimmed in a large flounce at the hem that bustled in back. Bridesmaids were identically attired in a rainbow of colors carrying colonial nosegays of miniature carnations, white daisies accented with baby breath, and color coordinated to match their gowns.

Bridesmaids were Teri Folk in pink, Alison Simpkins, cousin of the bride, in blue, and Christine Zuba in yellow. Children attendants were cousins of the bridegroom, Debbie Blom, attired in aqua identical to the bridesmaids carrying a white basket of miniature carnations and daisies, and Johnny Blom carrying a satin heart-shaped pillow.

Michael Blom, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were David Blom, brother of the bridegroom, Andrew Kosmach, and Clark Bittner.

Organist for the ceremony was Elizabeth Faerber, Dwin Campbell was the flutist, and the vocalist was Greg Kuhnert.

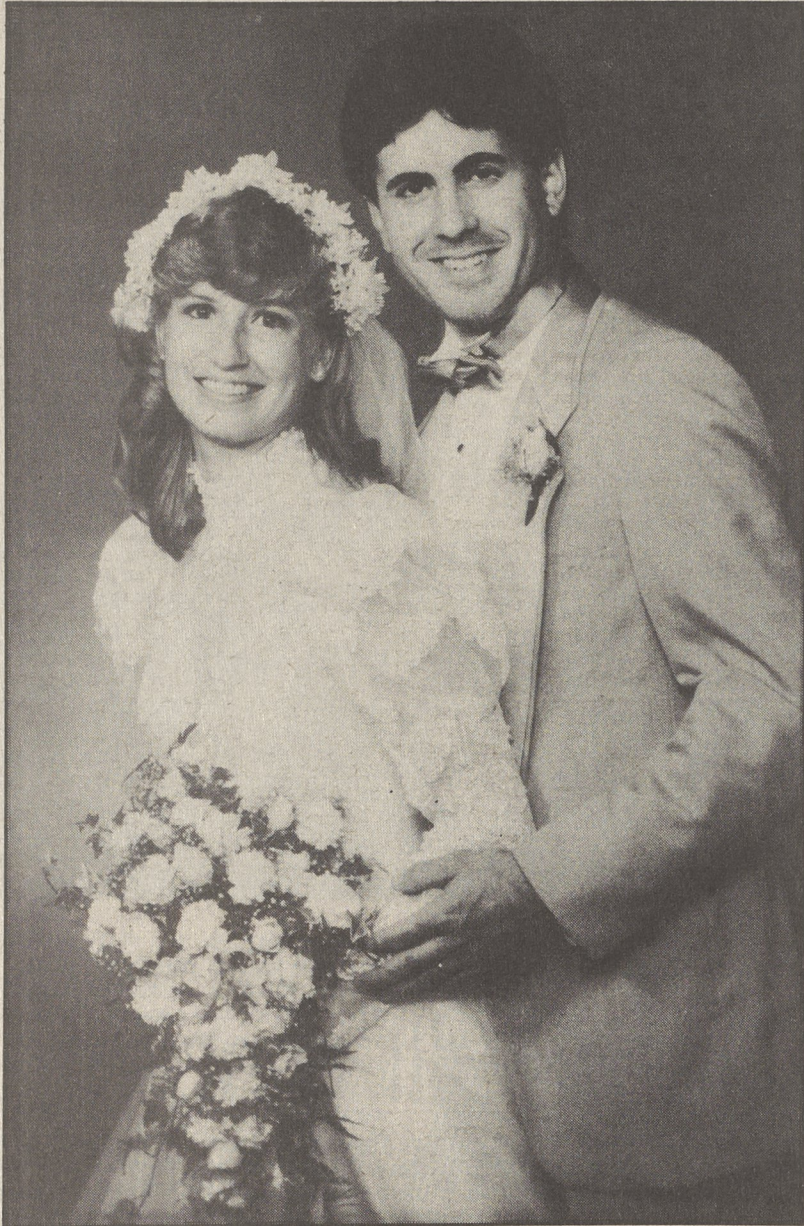

A cocktail hour and dinner reception was held at the Irem Temple Country Club, Dallas.

The bride was honored at a luncheon-shower given by her mother and mother of the bridegroom along with her bridal attendants at Genetti's Best Western Motor Inn, Wilkes-Barre.

A rehearsal dinner, hosted by the parents of the bridegroom was held at Pickett's Charge Restaurant, Dallas.

The bride is a graduate of Dallas High School and Lock Haven University where she received a bachelor of science degree in computer science. She is employed by Campbell Business Machines, Dallas, where she holds the position of programmer-analyst. The bridegroom is a graduate of Bishop Hoban High School and is employed by Bakery Delite, Plains.

The couple chose Hawaii for their wedding trip and are currently residing in Plainsville.

URS plans annual dinner

United Rehabilitation Services, Inc. (URS) will hold its annual dinner on Monday, Oct. 20, at the Shadowbrook, Route 6, Tunkhannock.

The dinner will be dedicated to the memory of Rev. Alva Tompkins who passed away in May of this year. Mr. Tompkins was one of the founders of the Wyoming County branch of URS, and served as a dedicated board member for the remainder of his life. At the time of his death he was the Wyoming County Vice President of the agency.

The board of directors' annual meeting will be held in conjunction with the dinner, during which officers and board members will be elected.

Dr. Stanley M. Irzinski, URS Administrator, will speak concerning the various Industry Integrated Training Programs that URS has for handicapped workers.

The social hour will begin at 6 p.m., with dinner scheduled for 7. The public is invited to attend. Reservations may be made by contacting Jo Ann Harris in Wilkes-Barre, 829-3681, or Thomas Morris in Tunkhannock, 836-3930.

AROUND TOWN

THIS IS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

Students at Trinity Nursery School were visited last week by the Dallas Fire Company Truck. Firemen Slocum and Doughton explained various phases of fire safety to the children. They stressed the importance of having smoke alarms in the home. They also showed the children how a fireman would be dressed when he was rescuing someone from a fire.

The children were told that the most important thing to remember is they know their home is burning, is that moms and dads and children get out of the house. If there are pets in the home, the children were told not to go back into the building to try to rescue them, but to let the firemen get the pets out. I felt that this was a very important point since children love their pets so much.

The best part of the visit was when each child got to spray the powerful fire hose. Special thanks to these two firemen who took time out from their busy schedules to explain important fire safety facts to nursery school children.

GLADYS KING and her nephew, Tony, who live in England are enjoying a visit with her cousin Mrs. Georgette Presper, Pioneer Avenue, Shavertown.

THE DEATH OF A 15-YEAR OLD SCRANTON BOY from an overdose of alcohol last week saddened the community. This death also emphasizes how important it is that we as parents do as much as we can to help fight the war on teenage drinking and drugs.

PAK Back Mountain (Parents and Kids) is a group dedicated for the purpose of promoting better family living. PAK provides educational and recreational programs in response to the social problems of youth.

On Monday, Oct. 13, PAK will present Dr. Stephen Glenn, nationally known consultant, trainer and psychologist, Director of the Family Development Institute. His program will be "How Can We As Parents Develop Capable Young People." The program will be presented from 7 to 9:30 at Dallas Junior High School. The donation is $1. Child care is available.

I have heard Dr. Glenn and I feel that his ideas are common sense answers to the pressing problems of raising children today. If you can, please plan to attend this program as I know it will be very worthwhile.

I LOVE TO COOK! I have seen Julia Child's show on television, Iris Levy, the cooking segment on Hour Magazine, and enjoyed them all. Cooking Plain and Fancy with Mary Metzger, which is aired on Sundays at 6 p.m. on Channel 44 is also interesting and informative. Mary makes recipes that could be easily prepared in the home kitchen. Many recipes are sent in by viewers. If you, too, love to cook, catch Cooking Plain and Fancy.

PENNSYLVANIANS FOR HUMAN LIFE held their "Respect Life Luncheon" on Sunday at Gus Genetti's. Approximately 300 people attended.

Participating clergy included Rev. Michael Shambora, Lehman United Methodist Church; Rev. Anthony Noviello, Holy Rosary Church, Wilkes-Barre; Rev. Harry Lewis, St. Therese's Church, Wilkes-Barre; Pastor Paul Tribus, pastor, Full Gospel Church, Pittston.

The main speaker was Dr. Mildred F. Jefferson, the most powerful speaker I have ever heard. Dr. Jefferson, a Boston teaching surgeon with a vast knowledge of medical ethics and legalities, is a staunch defender of the unborn. She has appeared in behalf of Pro-Life on many national radio and television shows including Phil Donahue.

Mayor Thomas V. McLaughlin declared the week of October 5 as Respect Life Week. His proclamation was read and the key to the city of Wilkes-Barre was given to Dr. Jefferson.

PENNSYLVANIA QUILTERS will hold a show next weekend at Penn State Campus, Lehman. If you love artistic designs, and colorful works of art, make it a point to attend the Quilt Show. Hours are Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Sunday, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

BELATED BIRTHDAY WISHES to Bill Kubis of New Goss Manor, who celebrated his 79th birthday on Sunday, Mr. Kubis can always be seen at various sports event cheering on our young athletes. For his dedication he is known as Dallas Number One Fan. (Joan Kingsbury, a Back Mountain resident, is a columnist for The Dallas Post. Her column appears weekly.)

Dicton at Ursinus

Sophomore Sandy Dicton, who set a national high school record with 17 assists at Lake-Lehman High in 1984, made her first start for the Ursinus College field hockey team in the season opener against Rutgers on September 11.

Dicton started at back and played the entire game as Ursinus, ranked 19th in the Division I preseason poll, fell to 18th-ranked Rutgers, 3-2.

Last year the Bears (13-6-1) wound up 15th in the Division I poll, their ninth Top 20 finish in the 11 years hockey rankings have been kept.

Dicton, of Shavertown, led Lake-Lehman to a district title in 1984. But she spent her freshman year at Ursinus in a reserve role, brought along slowly by coach Adele Boyd, former three-time captain of the U.S. national team.
