Local quilters

Workshops by local quilters will highlight the QuiltShow '86, to be held this weekend (Oct. 11 and 12) at the Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus in Lehman. Above, from left, are local quilting instructors Joanne Ennis, Kathy Millington, Margie Hovan and Donna Goobic.

Locals featured at Quilt Show '86

Four Northeast Pennsylvania women will be featured when the Pennsylvania Quilters hold their Quilt Show '86 at the Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus the weekend of October 11 and 12.

Quilters Joanne Ennis, Kathy Millington, Donna Goobic and Margie Hovan will present a variety of workshops during the two-day event which, in the past, has attracted more than 2000 visitors from across the country. The activities will include antique quilt displays, lectures, door prizes, a slide show of the "Great American Quilt Show" and homemade food provided at the Campus Commons. Workshops will be presented continuously both days beginning at 10 a.m.

"Getting Started," a workshop on quilting basics for beginners will be presented Saturday at 3 p.m. Instructor Donna Goobic, of Shick-shinny, is founder of the Pennsylvania Quilters Association and has been instructing quilting workshops for eight years. This beginners workshop will include fabric selection, patterns, tools, cutting, piecing and the basics of applique. Ms. Goobic will also offer a workshop entitled "Finishing It Off", which will cover how to miter corners, bind off a quilt and double miter your binding - all the touches needed to make a quilt complete.

"Finishing It Off" will be presented at noon Sunday.

Joanne Ennis, of Dallas, instructor, and Kathy Millington, of Dallas, graphic design assistant, will present a workshop for beginners on Strip Pieced Picture Quilts Saturday and Sunday from 3-5 p.m. Participants will graph their own pictures and a demonstration model will be worked from start to finish.

Ms. Ennis has been teaching quilting for more than five years, and has instructed groups of all ages.

Kathy Millington, Graphic Design Assistant from Dallas, has art certification from College Misericordia and taught art at the Dallas Junior High School. She is the Secretary of the Wyoming Valley Art League.

A workshop in "Quick Pieced Triangles" will be presented by Margie Hovan, of Tunkhannock, both Saturday and Sunday from 1-3 p.m. Ms. Hovan has taught beginning quilting in the Tunkhannock Area School District for four years, and will teach participants how to use a quick piecing method for triangles using a sewing machine. This method saves a great deal of time and is extremely accurate. Participants will complete their own triangle during class.

Guest artists are Virginia Avery, of Port Chester, N.Y., well-known teacher, author, lecturer and Gladys Grace, of Promfret Center, Connecticut, who has 20 years of experience in stenciling and quilting, and has conducted seminars and lectures throughout the country. Ms. Avery will conduct an all-day workshop on "Hawaiian Applique" on Saturday, and "Contemporary Floral Applique" on Sunday. Ms. Grace will hold a workshop on "Shaded Stenciling on Fabric" Saturday morning and Sunday afternoon.

To register for any of the workshops, contact Tobi Grossman at the Penn State Continuing Education Office, phone 675-2171.
