Back Mountain girls play for Monarchs

Coach Robin Cummins of Kunkle will start her sixth season as coach of the King's College women's basketball team today, October 15, in Scandlon Gym, Wilkes-Barre with three Back Mountain residents.

Dallas is senior Kathy Walsh of Dallas, junior Ronda Hudzik of Sweet Valley and freshman Kim Rinehimer, of Shavertown.

Walsh and Rinehimer are Dallas Area graduates, and Hudzik is from Lake-Lehman. Coach Cummins played at Dallas before going to Pitt where she was team captain as a junior and senior.

Walsh, a communications major, is a 5-8 guard. She is a brilliant ball handler and shooter, and transferred to King's from Kent State.

Her goal will be to repeat to the MAC all-star team as a senior.

Hudzik is a hard-working 5-8 forward who is expected to bounce back in style after being benched part of last campaign due to injuries. Ronda is a good scorer and rebounder and works in a local factory to help pay her college costs.

Rinehimer will be continuing the Back Mountain tradition at King's as a freshman. She is a 5-7 guard, who plans to major in biology at the college.

Last year, Coach Cummins directed the Lady Monarchs to a 15-11 season and she owns a composite 63-43 mark at King's.
